Susans Story:

Susan Smith George Rekers,1996 This book is based upon the publicly available facts primarily from the Susan Smith trial itself which consisted of public sworn testimony and by interviews with individuals whose comments are public knowledge The key question I have addressed is the question Why Why did Susan V Smith do what she did Various views were expressed during the trial The jury found Susan guilty of two counts of murder finding her guilty of harboring malice against her two little boys On the other hand mental health experts social workers and school counselors testified as to Susan s history of depression suicidal thoughts and actions and adjustment problems in the context of her tragic loss of her father to suicide her sexual abuse by her stepfather and her growing up in a dysfunctional family with a family tree replete with multiple cases of depression and alcoholism Introduction Our Virtual World: The Transformation of Work, Play and Life via Technology Chidambaram, Laku,Zigurs, Ilze,2000-07-01 Today s new technologies are dramatically changing the way we work play and live Our Virtual World The Transformation of Work Play and Life via Technology investigates the ubiquity of the virtual environment and our evolving interactions in this changed context J. M. Coetzee and the Ethics of Narrative Transgression Alexandra Effe,2017-08-16 This book is about the metanarrative and metafictional elements of J M Coetzee s novels It draws together authorship readership ethics and formal analysis into one overarching argument about how narratives work the boundary between art and life On the basis of Coetzee s writing it reconsiders the concept of metalepsis challenges common understandings of self reflexive discourse and invites us to rethink our practice as critics and readers This study analyzes Coetzee s novels in three chapters organized thematically around the author s relation with character reader and self Author and character are discussed on the basis of Foe Slow Man and Coetzee s Nobel lecture He and His Man Stories featuring the character Elizabeth Costello or the figuration Elizabeth Curren serve to elaborate the relation of author and reader The study ends on a reading of Summertime Diary of a Bad Year and Dusklands as Coetzee s engagement with autobiographical writing analyzing the relation of author and self It will appeal to readers with an interest in literary and narrative theory as much as to Coetzee scholars and advanced students Coaching for Leadership Marshall Goldsmith,Laurence S. Lyons,2011-01-13 When it was published in 2000 Coaching for Leadership became an instant classic in the field of executive coaching This second edition updates and expands on the original book and brings together the best executive coaches who offer a basic understanding of how coaching works why it works and how leaders can make the best use of the coaching process This thoroughly revised edition reflects recent changes in coaching practices includes well researched best practices and provides additional guidance and tools from the greatest leadership coaches from around the world Each chapter in this important volume addresses a proven application offers key principles of practice and highlights critical learning points Historical Boundaries, Narrative Forms Everett Zimmerman,2007 This collection of twelve essays by colleagues students and friends of Everett Zimmerman treats four topics that Zimmerman explored during his career the representation of the self in narratives the early British novel and related forms their epistemological and generic borders and their intellectual and cultural contexts The collection is divided into two sections Boundaries and Forms The essays in Boundaries explore how epistemological and narrative distinctions between history and fiction meet or overlap in the novel's relationship to other forms including providential history travel narratives utopias autobiography and visual art In Forms the contributors investigate fictional historical and material forms the impact those cultural phenomena had on the meaning and value attributed to literary works and how such forms arose in response to historical conditions The essays describe the historical range of Zimmerman's work beginning with Defoe and ending with Coetzee and treat such key writers of the long eighteenth century as Fielding Richardson Walpole Austen and Scott Bakersfield Robert Mayer is Professor of English and Director of the Screen Studies Program at Oklahoma State University

150 Great Books Bonnie A. Helms, 1986 This collection of 150 great books is designed to motivate student exploration and is divided into ten units presenting experiences common to people in all times and societies All of the titles will not be suitable for all students but something will interest each individual reader

Robinson Crusoe Lieve Spaas, Brian Stimpson, 2016-01-07 Robinson Crusoe explores Defoe's story the legend it captured the universal desire which underlies the myth and a range of modern rewritings which reveal a continued fascination with the problematic character of this narrative Whether envisaged as an heroic rejection of the old world order a piece of pre colonialist propaganda or a tale raising archetypal problems of otherness and inequality the mythic value of Crusoe has become a pretext over many centuries for an examination of some of the fundamental problems of existence This collection of essays examines from a wide range of critical and philosophical perspectives the cultural manifestations of Robinson Crusoe in different centuries in different media in different genres

The Postcolonial Novel Richard Lane, 2006-07-21 Richard Lane explores the themes surrounding the postcolonial novel written in English

On the Brink of Paradox Agustin Rayo, 2019-04-02 An introduction to awe inspiring ideas at the brink of paradox infinities of different sizes time travel probability and measure theory and computability theory This book introduces the reader to awe inspiring issues at the intersection of philosophy and mathematics It explores ideas at the brink of paradox infinities of different sizes time travel probability and measure theory computability theory the Grandfather Paradox Newcomb's Problem the Principle of Countable Additivity The goal is to present some exceptionally beautiful ideas in enough detail to enable readers to understand the ideas themselves rather than watered down approximations but without supplying so much detail that they abandon the effort The philosophical content requires a mind attuned to subtlety the most demanding of the mathematical ideas require familiarity with college level mathematics or mathematical proof The book covers Cantor's revolutionary thinking about infinity which leads to the result that some infinities are bigger than others time travel and free will decision theory probability and the Banach Tarski Theorem which states that it is possible to decompose a ball into a finite number of pieces and reassemble the pieces so as to get two balls that are each the same size as the original Its investigation of computability theory leads to a proof of Gödel's Incompleteness Theorem which yields the amazing result that arithmetic is so complex that no computer could be programmed to output every arithmetical truth and no falsehood. Each chapter is followed by an appendix with answers to exercises. A list of recommended reading points readers to more advanced discussions. The book is based on a popular course and MOOC taught by the author at MIT. TIP 35: Enhancing Motivation for Change in Substance Use Disorder Treatment (Updated 2019) U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, 2019-11-19. Motivation is key to substance use behavior change. Counselors can support clients' movement toward positive changes in their substance use by identifying and enhancing motivation that already exists. Motivational approaches are based on the principles of person-centered counseling. Counselors use of empathy, not authority and power, is key to enhancing clients' motivation to change. Clients are experts in their own recovery from SUDs. Counselors should engage them in collaborative partnerships. Ambivalence about change is normal. Resistance to change is an expression of ambivalence about change, not a client trait or characteristic. Confrontational approaches increase client resistance and discord in the counseling relationship. Motivational approaches explore ambivalence in a nonjudgmental and compassionate way. The Great Undoing and My Journey Home Susan Schreer Davis, 2016-03-29. My youngest son Sam hands me a DVD converted from a video recording taken years ago. Apprehensive, I slide it into a laptop and watch the scene from my past come to life. After viewing only part of it, he exits to do homework, pauses, and quips, "What happened to you, Mom? Time suspends as I search for a reply. Life happened. Sama lot of life. Like your dad dying and you and I ending up with a genetic disorder. Muscle biopsies, spinal taps, surgeries, you know. Crazy stuff happened. He looks my way, only somewhat understanding. His seventeen-year-old senior in high school self-tries on my explanation, but it doesn't quite fit. He can't give in, so why should I? He continues up the stairs and I stand alone, alone with the reality that the hard stuff is winning. That I caved under the pressure. That my tall, blond-haired, blue-eyed son knows who I was compared to who I am." Sum of the Parts Kent C. Ryden, 2011-04-01. Proponents of the new regional history understand that regional identities are constructed and contested, multifarious, and not monolithic; that they involve questions of dominance and power and that their nature is inherently political. In this lively new book, writing in the spirit of these understandings, Kent Ryden engagingly examines works of American regional writing to show us how literary partisans of place create and recreate, attack and defend, argue over and dramatize the meaning and identity of their regions in the pages of their books. Cleverly drawing upon mathematical models that complement his ideas and focusing on both classic and contemporary literary regionalists, Ryden demonstrates that regionalism in the cultural sense retains a great deal of power as a framework for literary interpretation. For New England, he examines such writers as Robert Frost and Hayden Carruth; Mary E. Wilkins Freeman and Edith Wharton; and Carolyn Chute and Russell Banks to demonstrate that today's regionalists inspire closer, more democratic readings of life and landscape. For the West and South, he describes Wallace Stegner's and William Faulkner's use of region to respectively exclude and evade, or confront and indict For the Midwest he focuses on C J Hribal William Least Heat Moon Paul Gruchow and others to demonstrate that midwesterners continually construct the past anew from the materials at hand filling the seemingly empty midlands with history and significance Ryden reveals that there are many Wests many New Englands many Souths and many Midwesterns all raising similar issues about the cultural politics of region and place Writing with appealing freshness and a sense of adventure he shows us that place and the stories that emerge from and define place can be a source of subversive energy that blunts the homogenizing force of region inscribing marginal places and people back onto the imaginative surface of the landscape when we read it on a place by place landscape by landscape book by book basis Redefining Aging Ann Kaiser Stearns, 2017-11-15 Stearns explores the practical and personal challenges of both caregiving and successful aging She couples findings from the latest research with insights and problem solving tips to help caregivers achieve the best life possible for those they care for and for themselves as they age Amazon com A chance acquaintance; or, Susan's lesson, by A.E.D. A E. D., 1895 Literary Spinoffs Birgit Spengler, 2015-03-05 Literary Spinoffs Rewriting the Canon Re Imagining the Community explores the literary strategies theoretical dimensions and cultural implications of contemporary rewritings of nineteenth century classics By hooking on to powerful literary and cultural narratives literary spinoffs seek to interfere with the cultural imaginary and revise the ways in which the cultural community constructs itself via formative narratives Spengler offers in depth case studies of prominent contemporary rewritings and the cultural work they undertake while also examining the genre's particular aesthetics and effects Through their intensely intertextual form spinoffs raise urgent questions about the possibilities for participation in processes of cultural meaning making and invigorate contemporary debates about intellectual property cultural capital as well as high and popular culture From Leader-Centricity Toward Leadership Perttu Salovaara, 2011-11-07 Play Therapy with Children and Adolescents in Crisis, Fourth Edition Nancy Boyd Webb, 2015-07-30 This book aims to provide professionals and clinicians in training with the latest forms of treatment for children and adolescents who have been impacted by crises and trauma The various treatment options presented here include approaches that focus on the individual as well as many that include a parent in conjoint or filial therapy and others that employ a family treatment model Many chapters in this book demonstrate the use of a variety of creative methods with young people who have suffered traumatic experiences such as sexual abuse bullying immigration natural disasters and witnessing violence Against Life Alastair Hunt, Stephanie Youngblood, 2016-03-15 The contributors to Against Life think critically about the turn to life in recent theory and culture Editors Alastair Hunt and Stephanie Youngblood shape their collection to provocatively challenge the assumption rife throughout the humanities that life needs to be cultivated affirmed and redeemed The editors and their contributors explore how we might be better off daring to think ethics and politics as well as the project of the humanities in more radical terms as a refusal to choose life What forms of equality and freedom might emerge if we did not organize being together under signs of life Taken together the essays in Against Life mark an important turn in the ethico political work of the humanities Cancer Resources on the Internet M Sandra Wood, Eric P De Lozier, 1997-09-11 Cancer Resources on the Internet shows cancer patients their families and oncology health care professionals how the Internet can be used to locate information about the diagnosis treatment and prognosis of different forms of cancer to locate specialized treatment centers around the world to facilitate support groups and to provide a mechanism for individuals to share experiences and stories This book includes a discussion of the quality of information on the Net and how to assess it evaluations of Web sites in terms of content clarity and user friendliness and advice on how to conduct a focused subject specific search Arranged in an order that gives a general starting point and then leads to more specific needs Cancer Resources on the Internet helps you by providing an overview of cancer resources available on the WWW how to overcome the sheer quantity of information and find the most relevant sites discussing the National Cancer Institute's CancerNet including ways to access the network and links to other resources detailing OncoLink the first multimedia cancer information resource on the Internet offering state of the art quality information reviewing NCI's comprehensive cancer center's 26 web sites from patients and referring physicians viewpoints showing how to find information on breast cancer on the Internet Web based resources on risk factors early detection treatment psychological aspects and breast cancer in men discussing different types of Internet resources mailing lists newsgroups and real time communication and using cancer information to show how health care information can be transferred from physician to patient and back again illustrating a practical use of Internet Relay Chat IRC how it offers accessibility to shut in and convalescing patients and instant real time support guiding you through the process a newly diagnosed Hodgkin's Disease patient might use to find information and support on the Internet reviewing resources found on the Web about alternative and complementary therapies for cancer Information resources on the Internet about cancer from Web sites to listservs and chat groups are plentiful In fact cancer patients and oncology health care professionals were some of the earliest users of the Internet as a health information resource Using cancer as the focus of this book provides a helpful overview of the various health care uses of the Net Crossroads to Recovery Lawrence J. King, 2010-08-27 Crossroads to Recovery by Lawrence J King This book is about helpful hints and reference points in order to benefit those people that can't seem to let the past go i.e. the loss of a loved one divorce unpleasant childhood memories etc etc etc Sometimes people tend to live and relive painful memories that are harmful and devastating to the mind body and soul Helping people move away from the past so they can focus on living in the right here right now moment of their life striving to move forward realizing that you can not change or rewind the past good bad or indifferent All we have is today right here right now tomorrow is not promised so therefore be all that you can be each and every day
