

Between 1980 and 1985, the number of people in the United States who were employed in the health care industry grew by 1.5 million, or 15 percent. This growth was due to a number of factors, including the aging of the population, the increasing demand for health care services, and the expansion of the health care industry into new areas of the economy. The health care industry is now one of the largest and fastest growing sectors of the U.S. economy, and it is expected to continue to grow at a rapid pace in the years ahead.
