Stirring It Challenges For Feminism:

Stirring It Gabriele Griffin, Marianne Hester, Shirin Rai, Sasha Roseneil, 2023-12-30 First published in 1994 Stirring It debates the challenges which confront feminism and Women's Studies in the 1990s In the face of current worldwide political and social upheavals Stirring It poses questions about women their bodies their identities and positions which need to be addressed by contemporary feminists The chapters therefore challenge the orthodoxies and theories which are exploded by contemporary feminist practice They raise new issues for feminist debate The volume is divided into four sections Feminist Politics in Action investigates the inter relationship between politics and action with reference to issues such as the women's movement in Britain and women's position in and in relation to Ireland Disrupting Sexual Identities provides critiques of heterosexuality monogamy and conceptualization of the female body Imaging and Imagining explores the politics of women's cultural production and Women's Studies and Feminist Practice analyzes the often fraught connections between theory and practice This is a must read for scholars and researchers of Women's Studies Sociology and Gender Studies

Historicising the Women's Liberation Movement in the Western World Laurel Forster, Sue Bruley, 2019-07-09 The Women's Liberation Movement WLM of the late 1960s 1970s and 1980s emerged out of a particular set of economic and social circumstances in which women were unequally treated in the home the workplace and in culture and wider society As part of the WLM women collected together in disparate groups and contexts to express their dissatisfaction with their role and position in society making their concerns apparent through consciousness raising and activism This important time in women's history is revisited in this collection which looks afresh at the diversity of the movement and the ways in which feminism of the time might be reconsidered and historicised The contributions here cover a range of important issues including feminist art local activism class distinction racial politics perceptions of motherhood girls education feminist print cultures the recovery of feminist histories and feminist heritage and they span personal and political concerns in Britain Canada and the United States Each contributor considers the impact of the WLM in a different context reflecting the variety of issues faced by women and helping us to understand the problems of the second wave This book broadens our understanding of the impact and the implication of the WLM explores the dynamism of women's activism and radicalism and acknowledges the significance of this movement to ongoing contemporary feminisms The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Women's History Review

Sisterhood and After Margaretta Jolly, 2019-08-27 This ground breaking history of the UK Women's Liberation Movement shows why and how feminism's second wave mobilized to demand not just equality but social and gender transformation Oral history testimonies power the work tracing the arc of a feminist life from 1950s girlhoods to late life activism today Peppered with personal stories the book casts new light on feminist critiques of society and on the lives of prominent and grassroots activists Margaretta Jolly uses oral history as creative method making significant use of Sisterhood and After The Women's Liberation Oral History Project to animate still unresolved controversies of race class sexuality disability and feminist identity Women activists vividly recall a divisive education system the unevenness of sexual liberation and the challenges of Thatcherism Northern Ireland's Troubles and the policing of minority ethnic communities They illuminate key campaigns in these wider contexts and talk of the organizational and collaborative skills they struggled to acquire as they moved into local government NGOs and even the business sector Jolly provides fresh insight into iconic actions including the Miss World Protest the fight to protect abortion rights and the peace protest at Greenham Common Her accounts of workplace struggles from Ford and Grunwick to Women Against Pit Closures and Women and Manual Trades show how socialist ideals permeated feminism She explores men's violence and today's demands for trans liberation as areas of continuing feminist concern Jolly offers a refreshingly jargon free exploration of key debates and theoretical trends alongside an appreciation of the joyfully personal aspects of feminism from families homes shopping and music to relationships health aging death and faith She concludes by urging readers to enter the archives of feminist memory to help map their own political futures Her work will appeal to general readers scholars and practitioners alike

Feminist Transformations and Domestic Violence Activism in Divided Berlin, 1968-2002 Jane Freeland, 2024-07-19 This is the first in depth historical study of feminist activism against domestic violence in divided Berlin between 1968 and 2002 Starting in the 1970s feminists in West and then East Berlin campaigned against domestic violence as a key issue of women's inequality They exposed the harmful gender norms that left women unprotected and vulnerable to abuse in the home and called for this to change Indeed domestic violence has been one of the issues most effectively addressed by the women's movement in Germany Since the first shelter opened in West Berlin in 1976 women's shelters have spread throughout the country and today up to 45 000 women a year turn to emergency housing in Germany with many more accessing helplines and crisis centres Situating domestic violence activism within a broader history of feminism in post war Germany Feminist Transformations traces the evolution of this movement both across political division and reunification and from grassroots campaign to established professionalised social service In doing so it brings the histories of feminism in East and West Berlin together for the first time and explores how feminism successfully changed women's rights in Germany But it also asks what popular and political support for domestic violence activism has meant for feminism and the advancement of women's rights more broadly Examining the trajectory of feminism in Germany Jane Freeland reveals the limitations of gender equality as advancements in women's rights were often built on the reassertion of patriarchal gender roles

Women, Power and Policy Jennifer Marchbank, 2004-08-02 This book provides an accessible engaging account of childcare policies in Britain and beyond In examining the progress of women's initiatives and childcare Marchbank considers subjects including the history of childcare policy particularly during the Second World War childcare policy and women's economic activity across the EC detailed case studies of policy making in practice the covert and overt barriers to equality based policy making successful strategies and counter strategies for policy makers and campaigners

Changing The

Subject Jocey Quinn, Sue Davies, Cathy Lubelska, 2017-09-25 First Published in 1994 How do women in the academy survive How can women empower themselves How can we develop feminist strategies in teaching learning and research in Higher Education Changing the Subject Women in Higher Education explores these fundamental questions and presents strategies for changing and challenging the mainstream curriculum in Higher Education Drawing on experience research and theory the contributors explore the contradictions that have to be managed by women in academia The chapters analyse the interrelationship between women's roles and status as workers in higher education their experiences as teachers and students their representation within the curriculum and the tensions between life in and out of the academy Differences and inequalities between women are confronted what it is to be an ebony woman in the ivory tower for example or to be caught between two worlds as a mother and academic This diverse collection brings together everyday issues which women teaching and learning in higher education have themselves identified as important It provides an opportunity to share the successes struggles and practical strategies of women who are trying to change the subject of higher education This volume will be of relevance and interest to all those concerned with women's equality and wider educational issues on a personal and professional Level

HeteroSexual Politics Mary Maynard, June Purvis, 2003-12-16 Sexuality and sexual politics have been much debated over the last 20 years and feminists in particular have been responsible for politicising the debate pointing out how something which is usually regarded as private and personal is in fact a public and political issue This text illustrates the diversity and excitement of debates about sexuality in women's studies and feminism today and points to new paths for feminist analysis thinking and action In particular heterosexuality can no longer be taken for granted and must along with other forms of sexuality be explicitly addressed The volume is divided into three sections Analysing Hetero sexuality is concerned with exploring some of the complexities of the material aspects of sexual relations between men and women Media Discourses of Sexuality contains analyses derived from women's magazines television and newspapers and Practising Sexual Politics focuses on the reflexive awareness of sexual politics in the framing of methodological issues in research

Elements of African Bioethics in a Western Frame B. Tangwa, 2010-11-01 For millennia Africans have lived on the African continent in close contact with the diversities of nature floral faunal and human and in so doing they have developed cultures values attitudes and perspectives to the problems ethical and otherwise that have arisen from the existential pressures of their situation The problem however is that such values and perspectives do not necessarily form coherent ethical theories Theory making is a second order activity requiring a certain amount of leisure and comfort which the existential conditions of life on the African continent have not easily permitted in the retrospect able past The elements of African bioethics are to be found in its cultural values traditions customs and practices These are research able highlight able and usable by those who would The bioethical problems of our current global existential situation are such that all possible solutions no matter their provenance ought to be tried Western culture has far too loud a voice combined with deaf ears in contemporary ethical discourse But it should never be forgotten that other cultures have their own word to say and that alternative values ways of thinking and practices exist and attempt should always be made to bring these out and to highlight them if they could possibly contribute to the satisfactory solution of a global problem This book brings together various papers on bioethical issues and problems written at different times some previously published each of which attempts to bring out some African elements perspective or concern The African narrative style predominates through these essays but their framing conforms more or less to the Western paradigm for presenting academic issues Practising Identities Sasha

Roseneil, 2016-07-27 Practising Identities is a collection of papers about how identities gender bodily racial ethnic and national are practised in the contemporary world Identities are actively constructed chosen created and performed by people in their daily lives and this book focuses on a variety of identity practices in a range of different settings from the gym and the piercing studio to the further education college and the National Health Service Drawing on detailed empirical studies and recent social and cultural theory about identity this book makes an important intervention in current debates about identity reflexivity and cultural difference Psychology, Discourse And Social Practice Gill Aitken, Pam Alldred, Robin Allwood, Tom Billington, Erica Burman, Brenda Goldberg, Colleen Heenan, Angel Juan, Gordo Lopez, Debs Mark, Sam Warner, 2005-06-28 What damage does psychology do to people's lives and what can we do about it How do we recognise and support resistance Written by expert practitioners researchers this co-authored book explores how psychology legislates on normality and then uses its expert knowledge to turn social marginalisation into pathology Chapters address a range of cultural and institutional arenas in which inequalities structured around categories of gender race class and sexuality are reproduced by psychological practices from self help books to special hospitals from school exclusions to Gender Identity Clinics from mothering magazines to mental health services But far from just documenting the damage this book identifies the ways in which both professionals and users of services can act to counter psychology's abuses As practical intervention as well as theoretical critique Psychology Discourse and Social Practice offers tangible examples of how change can be effected This book will be of interest to advanced undergraduates and postgraduates in psychology health education and welfare disciplines It is also relevant to social workers and education and health professionals as well as professional psychologists Feminist Activism in the 1990s Gabriele Griffin, 2005-11-01 Feminist activism is often taught as an historical phenomenon and many students entering courses on women's studies are not familiar with current feminist work in the field This book documents a wide variety of different forms of feminist activism in the 1990s from organisations such as Rights for Women and Southall Black Sisters to Asian Women's Work in Refuges It raises questions about the meaning of feminist activism and its interpretation within women's studies and other academic disciplines The chapters suggest against much current representation within women's studies and elsewhere that feminism is still alive With a comprehensive introduction providing an historical overview of the development of feminist activism from second wave feminism onwards

this text is intended to be of use as a resource for all students of women's studies and related courses

Undoing Monogamy Angela Willey, 2016-04-28 In Undoing Monogamy Angela Willey offers a radically interdisciplinary exploration of the concept of monogamy in U.S. science and culture propelled by queer feminist desires for new modes of conceptualization and new forms of belonging. She approaches the politics and materiality of monogamy as intertwined with one another such that disciplinary ways of knowing themselves become an object of critical inquiry. Refusing to answer the naturalization of monogamy with a naturalization of nonmonogamy, Willey demands a critical reorientation toward the monogamy question in the natural sciences, social sciences, and humanities. The book examines colonial sexual science, monogamous voles, polyamory, and the work of Alison Bechdel and Audre Lorde to show how challenging the lens through which human nature is seen as monogamous or nonmonogamous forces us to reconsider our investments in coupling and in disciplinary notions of biological bodies.

Social Theory, Social Change and Social Work Nigel Parton, 2002-09-11 Social Theory, Social Change and Social Work has two interrelated themes. First, to account for and analyse current changes in social work, and secondly, to assess how far recent developments in social theory can contribute to their interpretation. Representing the work of a range of academics all involved in research and teaching in relation to social work, it considers issues of central significance to everyone interested in the theory, policy, and practice of social work.

Difference In View: Women And Modernism Gabriele Griffin, 2003-09-02 This collection of essays challenges conceptions of high modernism, its preoccupation with style at the expense of issues such as race, class, and gender, and its exclusive focus both on predominately male writers, poetry, and prose fiction by highlighting the diversity of cultural production in the modernist period. This book focusses specifically on women's cultural production, covering a wide range of arts and genres, including chapters on painting, theatre, and magazines. The book investigates how women usually constructed as others, themselves construct others in their work in a period prominently concerned with the construction of self as an issue. This diversity offers a new format of reading modernism in a cross-disciplinary context.

Women's Lives/Women's Times Trev Lynn Broughton, Linda R. Anderson, 1997-01-01 Women's Lives/Women's Times reflects the growing interest in life writing as a basis for both feminist theorizing and women-centered education. It discusses the many ways in which the study of autobiography can contribute to the theory, practice, and politics of women's studies, as curriculum, and to feminist theory more generally. This volume is concerned with the application of theory to text, particularly with the assumptions and discourses of postmodernism, but also in exploring how general theories of the subject do not always fit comfortably with the specifics of autobiographical writing. It also recognizes the challenge women's autobiography offers to theory, taking us in its complex weave of the personal, the political, and the theoretical beyond the usual generic and disciplinary boundaries.

New Frontiers In Women's Studies Mary Maynard, June Purvis, 2005-07-20 This text reveals the diversities which continue to shape women's beliefs and experiences. It includes debates on women and nationalisms, women and social policy, sexuality, black studies, and ethnic studies, women and education.

women and cultural production and women's studies and gender studies AIDS: Setting A Feminist Agenda Lesley Doyal, Jennie Naidoo, Tamsin Wilton, 2018-12-07 AIDS Setting a Feminist Agenda presents an overview of the important issues raised for feminist theory and practice by the HIV AIDS epidemic and outlines the direction in which feminist debates about the subject are developing. It makes essential links between feminism and HIV AIDS work and not only demonstrates that AIDS is a feminist issue but also suggests areas where feminism is long overdue. The essays discuss medical issues, the specific social and political impact of HIV AIDS on the lives of women of colour, lesbians, injecting drug users and prostitute women. And Current Health Educational And Health Promotional Practice As It relates to women. The volume is theoretical and practical, suggesting theoretical models for understanding and challenging the social factors which are conducive to the spread of HIV among women and among men as well as offering models of good practice for working with and for women.

Mapping Intimacies T. Sanger, Y. Taylor, 2013-09-05 This collection explores sexualities, families, caring practices and the ways in which people practice intimacy in an ever-changing social and political landscape. Authors map desires, struggles and reconfigurations, thereby broadening current understandings of what contemporary intimate life looks like. Routledge Library Editions: Feminist Theory Various, 2021-08-07 Routledge Library Editions Feminist Theory brings together as one set or individual volumes a series of previously out of print classics from a variety of academic imprints. With titles ranging from The Liberation of Women to Feminists and State Welfare from Married to the Job to Julia Kristeva, this set provides in one place a wealth of important reference sources from the diverse field of gender studies. The Limits Of Globalization Alan Scott, 2013-01-11 Both the force and the limitations of the globalizing forces operating in the world today can best be understood through an analysis of their concrete manifestations. Using examples from the people's art of Potsdammer Platz to the ways in which Western cultural icons are reinterpreted in Asian magazines, this collection of essays unpicks the rhetoric of globalization in political analysis, cultural theory and urban and economic sociology and exposes the myth of the global society as in many cases a dangerous exaggeration.
