When the Cubs Won It All George R. Matthews, 2009-09-12 In the fall of 1908 no one could have guessed that the Chicago Cubs a team that had dominated the National league three straight years would for a century be shut out in its efforts to reclaim the world championship Stars like Frank Chance Ed Reulbach and Three Finger Brown were still in their prime and the Cubs had just emerged the winner in the most remarkable pennant race in history In the decades since the achievement of the 1908 Cubs has been overshadowed first by the events of the season which included the Merkle Game and a playoff that pitted two all time great pitchers against each other and more recently by the calendar as the centennial anniversary of the last Cubs championship closed in This book rescues the 1908 team from its status as footnote to baseball history following one of the all time great clubs on a thrilling season long march toward the World Series from the women who've done it. Laura Doyle's marriage was in trouble. After five years, her husband had become distant. He seemed checked out of their relationship, preferring watching TV to making love. There were frequent fights that ended with tense silences and even threats of divorce. Marriage counseling actually made their problems worse. Each session seemed to reinforce the feeling that she and her husband were just too far apart. Desperate to avoid divorcing the man she loved, Laura tried something different. Rather than consulting with experts or professionals, she simply started talking to women who'd been happily married for more than fifteen years. What she discovered shocked her. Everything she had heard in marriage counseling was wrong. Laura realized that there are some basic truths to relationships that can help women maintain loving intimate marriages such as: The happiness of your relationship is up to you. Women hold the keys to a happy relationship 95 percent of the time and will learn what to do the other 5 percent. What men want most of all is to be treated with respect. Treat your man with respect even if you aren't feeling it, and he will treat you with love and care. Your man wants to know he has your trust. Give it to him, and he'll realize you are special because you will be. After seeing her own marriage transform, Laura set out to help other women do the same. In this book, you'll learn Laura's Six Intimacy Skills, which have been used by over 50,000 women who have transformed their previously unhappy marriages into blissful unions. Stop reading articles about how important it is to schedule date night and learn how to transform your relationship into one bursting with energy, intimacy, and love.

First Kill: All the Marriage Counselors Will Put You on the Path to Having the Marriage You Want with the Man You Love Rhizomes Nathalie Ramière, Rachel Varshney, 2021-02-19 This volume Rhizomes is a challenging path into a very multidisciplinary set of papers. Papers range across cultural studies and film to applied linguistics to sociolinguistics and as gathered in this one volume, the result of postgraduate student research of a very high order, they force readers to think critically of disciplines, their assumed boundaries, and most importantly, the usefulness of assuming the enduring value of such boundaries. This is not to say that anything goes, but the diversity of areas under scrutiny means that sharper rethinking of one's own comfort zones is necessarily one key outcome when confronted with a volume like this. This is one advantage of the selected papers besides the obvious one of having at your finger tips a simple way of delving into a challenging diversity. Brian Ridge, Campion College, Sydney. This is a wonderful collection of papers which demonstrates the power and vitality of contemporary literary and cultural research. The scope of the papers, the diversity of the subject matter, and the willingness of their authors to work across disciplinary boundaries work together to create an exemplary collection of research for the twenty-first century: multidisciplinary, multigeneric, and multimodal like 21st-century texts and media. Greg Hainge's opening paper sets the stage for the diverse and engaging papers that follow. With his own examples of rhizomatics drawn from music, Greg immediately has the reader acknowledging the multidisciplinary and multimodality of contemporary texts and so the need for research that can address the richness and complexity of these texts. In Part 1 we have two papers that address the issue of the limitations of conventional research methodology in their own fields: language acquisition, film.

studies and propose alternative and more productive methodologies The exciting thing about this section is that these are fields normally considered very different and without much to say to one another and yet the combination works to create a dialogue that extends across these and many other fields of research Most importantly both challenge the dichotomising of research and analytical methods that has worked to impoverish their fields and the research on which it is based Part 2 presents papers on a range of marginalised social positionings and experiences and in the process demonstrates both the power of research to uncover what has been ignored or elided in contemporary histories how many westerners know of the long history of Chinese women in film Or of an Aboriginal Taiwanese literature as well as the power of new perspectives new ways of thinking the research subject to open up areas of study such as dating manuals and country music both conventionally dismissed as inherently trivial and or sexist In Part 3 the papers all play brilliantly with the notion of connectivity demonstrating for readers the inextricability of texts and meaning systems verbal visual and other with the cultural contexts in which they operate and so the diverse ways they may be deployed These papers banish forever any reliance on a formalist reading or methodology for the analysis of text and meaning And again the range of subject matter is breath taking and argues the need for cross disciplinary transdisciplinary and multidisciplinary research practice Part 4 takes the reader into the realm of transformations challenging the ways in which textual and systemic changes articulate profound cultural changes in the societies that produce them So we learn about grammatical interventions in the Chinese language as feminine and neuter pronouns are added to the gender free Chinese language and consider the major cultural change that both caused this change and is subsequently produced by it We consider the ways in which cinema has evolved as an art form under the influence of its material and verbal technologies And we consider the ways in which Chinese poetry has entered a range of cultural practices in the west and the east and again consider how its traditional meanings and significance are maintained and communicate to these new contexts and the nature of the transcultural experience this generates For the academic student or interested reader this collection offers a breath taking scope of subject matter and a vital and engaged approach to the material that makes this collection a research page turner Professor Anne Cranny Francis Department of Critical and Cultural Studies Macquarie University Sydney Manifest Your Worth Jaimee
