Survey Of Asias Energy Prices:

A Survey of Asia's Energy Prices Anil K. Malhotra, Olivier Koenig, Prasert Sinsukprasert, 1994-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 248 One of the main policy objectives of the World Bank in reforming the energy sector of developing countries has been the need to establish tariffs for electricity and petroleum products that promote economic efficiency

Design and Operation of Smallholder Irrigation in South Asia D. E. Campbell, 1995 World Bank Technical Paper No 256 World Bank lending contributes substantially to financing irrigation investments around the world Asia has been the chief recipient of such World Bank lending receiving 70 percent India alone accounts for 27 p Surveillance of

Agricultural Prices and Trade Alberto Valdés, Jesus de los Santos, 1995-01-01 This book provides an independent and comprehensive review of World Bank irrigation lending and policy between 1948 and 1993 The Bank's role in irrigation lending has been large more than 30 billion in current U S dollars spread over some 600 projects Only 200 projects have been in place long enough to be assessed The overall performance record is good but there is room for improvement The report finds that there are still pervasive problems in maintenance and operation Operating chaos prevails in most large canal systems in the humid tropics In drier areas drainage is the biggest environmental problem associated with irrigation The author argues for upgrading existing systems improving service involving irrigators and saving water where it is scarce

Building Partnerships for Poverty Reduction Vanita Viswanath, 1995 Draws on economic theory developing country case studies and lessons learned by OECD nations to examine the relationship between structural adjustment and agricultural research Structural adjustment programs have been undertaken in many developing countries in an effort to overcome economic instability arising from commodity price shocks domestic economic mismanagement and diminishing access to international capital Such programs take many forms and it is thus difficult to generalize about them but they have had a profound effect on the economic environment in which agricultural production and consumption occur This also affects the operation and performance of public sector institutions including national agricultural research systems This study examines the complex linkages between structural adjustment and agricultural research It draws on macroeconomic theory to discuss the relationships between adjustment policy reform and institutional change The report also focuses on country case studies of East Africa Burkina Faso Chile Ghana Indonesia Mexico and Sri Lanka to examine the successes and failures of adjustment programs in relation to agricultural growth rates The role of the international community including the World Bank and experiences of OECD nations in this arena are reviewed Health Expenditures in Latin America Ramesh

Govindaraj, Christopher J. L. Murray, Gnanaraj Chellaraj, 1995-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 274 The preparation of the World Bank's World Development Report 1993 Investing in Health WDR included an effort to assemble internationally comparable statistics on a broad range of health and health system indicators Data had to be compiled from existing sources while analytical efforts were made to improve the quality and comparability of the data This paper presents an expanded and updated version of the WDR estimates of 1990 health expenditures for the countries of Latin America and the Caribbean Whereas the population cut off for inclusion in the WDR was 3 million these tables include almost all countries in the region This update of the expenditures results in a substantial upward revision in the estimated percentage of GNP spent on health in the region in 1990 from 4 to 6% Equity Issues in Public Examinations in Developing Countries Vincent

Greaney, Thomas Kellaghan, 1995 World Bank Technical Paper No 272 Public examinations in developing countries play a critical role in the selection of students for participation in the educational system The exams dictate what is taught how it is taught and what is and is not Organic and Compost-based Growing Media for Tree Seedling Nurseries Joan H.

Miller, Norman Jones, 1995 World Bank Technical Paper No 264 Past research into tree planting has revealed that inadequate attention is given to root development in seedling containers This study recommends the development of a high quality potting medium to give plants the Overcoming Agricultural Pollution of Water Susanne M. Scheierling, 1995 World

Bank Technical Paper No 269 Water problems are emerging as the most compelling set of issues facing agricultural production in the 1990s To address the policy challenges posed by this dilemma this study focuses on the experience of the EU Developing the Regulatory Environment for Competitive Agricultural Markets Lowell D. Hill, Karen L. Bender, 1995 World Bank Technical Paper No 266 Critiques both beneficial and detrimental government regulations that affect commodity markets in developing countries Commodity markets require a regulatory environment that encourages private enterprise

Everyday Energy Politics in Central Asia and the Caucasus David Gullette, Jeanne Féaux de la Croix, 2017-10-02 The perception of Central Asia and its place in the world has come to be shaped by its large oil and gas reserves Literature on energy in the region has thus largely focused on related geopolitical issues and national policies However little is known about citizens' needs within this broader context of commodities that connect the energy networks of China Russia and the West This multidisciplinary special issue brings together anthropologists economists geographers and political scientists to examine the role of all forms of energy here oil gas hydropower and solar power and their products especially electricity in people's daily lives throughout Central Asia and the Caucasus The papers in this issue ask how energy is understood as an everyday resource as a necessity and a source of opportunity a challenge or even as an indicator of exclusionary practices We enquire into the role and views of energy sector workers rural consumers and urban communities and their experiences of energy companies and national policies We further examine the legacy of Soviet and more recent domestic energy policies the environmental impact of energy use as well as the political impact of citizens' energy grievances This book was published as a special issue of Central Asian Survey The Demand for Oil Products in Developing Countries Dermot Gately, Shane S. Streifel, 1997-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 354 Promoting a high savings rate is high on the World Bank's agenda for promoting national income growth This study surveys broad saving trends worldwide summarizes current knowledge about savings and consumption identifies main unresolved issues and outlines the major policy questions to be researched

The paper include case studies from Sub Saharan Africa China Colombia India Mexico and Pakistan Managing the Quality of Health Care in Developing Countries Willy De Geyndt,1995 World Bank Technical Paper No 258 Quality of health care is a complex concept interwoven with value judgments about what constitutes good quality This lack of linearity partly explains the large number of definitions of the concept of quality an Cost-benefit Analysis of the Onchocerciasis Control Program (OCP) Ae-hy?ng Kim,Bruce Benton,1995-01-01 Annotation World Bank Technical Paper No 282 This volume presents a cost benefit analysis of the Onchocerciasis Riverblindness Control Program OCP by examining its costs and the measurable economic benefits gained from the successful control of the disease Widely recognized as one of the most successful disease control programs in the history of development assistance the OCP projects the elimination of riverblindness throughout an eleven country subregion of West Africa within the next eight years This program which began in the early 1970s was the World Bank s first major venture into the health field The Bank asked a large donor community of more than 20 governments and international organizations to make a long term commitment of more than US 500 million to implement the OCP This paper documents the benefits in economic terms from the large investment and shows that large scale well conceived health interventions are clearly the business of development The program improves the health and living environment of the rural population and frees previously oncho ridden tracts of land for settlement and cultivation Health Statistics for the Americas Haeduck Lee,José Luis Bobadilla,1994-01-01 Technical Paper No 262 The data provided in this report expand and update Appendix a of World Development Report 1993 Investing in Health WDR The report presents the data by subject Part A and by country Part B Part C contains technical notes concerning methods and data sources This volume adds the large number of Latin American and Caribbean countries with populations of less than 3 million that were excluded from the WDR because of space constraints It also adds data from Canada and the United States for completeness and comparison Updates are presented for eight statistics gross national product GNP GNP per capita population population growth rate total fertility life expectancy at birth infant mortality rate and maternal mortality rate Newly revised figures for items related to health expenditure have made possible an extensive update of earlier statistics and the addition of more countries to one of the country tables Forestry Management for Sustainable Development Emmanuel H.
