Documentary material relating to education is often fragmentary and buildings may thus constitute the only real source of knowledge about the development of particular schools and can also throw light on general educational history Originally published in 1971 and 1977 these books are therefore not only a major contribution to architectural history but also a study in the development of educational ideas and practices from the fourteenth to the twentieth century

The Parish of Hammersmith London County Council,1915 That Second Bottle Nicholas Fisher,2000-12-15 This book focuses on the historical and current place of religion in the Irish education system from the perspective of children s rights and citizenship It offers a critical analysis of the political cultural and social forces that have shaped the system looking at how the denominational model has been adapted to increased religious and cultural diversity in Irish society and showing that recent changes have failed to address persistent discrimination and the absence of respect for freedom of conscience It relates current debates on the denominational system and the role of the State in education to competing narratives of national identity that reflect nationalist communitarian or republican political outlooks This book will be essential reading for students and researchers in the fields of education policy and Church State relations in Ireland and will also engage non academic audiences with an interest or involvement in Irish education
