Reference Guide for English Studies Michael J. Marcuse, 1990-01-01 This ambitious undertaking is designed to acquaint students teachers and researchers with reference sources in any branch of English studies which Marcuse defines as all those subjects and lines of critical and scholarly inquiry presently pursued by members of university departments of English language and literature Within each of 24 major sections Marcuse lists and annotates bibliographies guides reviews of research encyclopedias dictionaries journals and reference histories The annotations and various indexes are models of clarity and usefulness and cross references are liberally supplied where appropriate Although cost conscious librarians will probably consider the several other excellent literary bibliographies in print such as James L Harner s Literary Research Guide Modern Language Assn of America 1989 larger academic libraries will want Marcuse s volume Jack Bales Mary Washington Coll Lib Fredericksburg Va Library Journal Report Pennsylvania State University, 1915 Islamic Economics Taha Eğri, Necmettin Kizilkaya, 2015-06-18 Studies conducted in the field of Islamic economics lose their relevance over time Works examining Islamic economics since the 1970s have been co opted by the existing economic system and have become limited to a large extent as they are now only concerned with financial transactions In fact Islamic economics as a concept should actually be conceptualized as an alternative economic system However because of the financial and commercial transactions implemented in daily economic life Public Health Engineering Abstracts , 1936

Willison, 1971-07-02 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 2 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries Annual Report of the Pennsylvania State College for the Year ... Get Well Soon Jamie Sharpe, 2024-04-16 In the spring of 2020 Jamie Sharpe was in New Brunswick purportedly studying the famed Magnetic Hill outside Moncton A dog walker discovered Sharpe in a ditch disrobed except for his backpack containing a manuscript With his fifth collection Get Well Soon Sharpe reaffirms he is utter master of his language Whether Sharpe s poems are the result of long lucubration or the inspiration of the moment they bear no mark of effort and it is not without admiration nor even without astonishment that one is carried along by the noble unswerving amble of those gorgeous stanzas proud white hackneys harnessed in gold into the glory of the evenings Rich and subtle Jamie Sharpe's poetry is never merely lyrical it always encloses an idea within the garland of its metaphors and however vague or general that idea may be it serves to strengthen the necklace the pearls are secured by a thread that though sometimes invisible is ever sure Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art ,1871 Agronomy Current Literature ,1932

For the People John D. Donahue, Joseph S. Nye, 2004-05-13 A Brookings Institution Press and Visions of Governance for the 21st Century publication The stakes have seldom been higher for public service Security concerns are surging to the foreground New or neglected economic and social problems demand fresh thinking and deft action Technology driven improvements in the business sector raise citizens expectations for performance Government's capacity to deliver meanwhile too often falls short The perception of government as bureaucratic and inflexible and the blunt reality of uncompetitive salaries can make talented people hesitate to take on public jobs Many civic minded young Americans opt reluctantly for business careers or turn to the nonprofit sector as a more appealing setting for doing good Yet as John Adams advised his son public business must be done by someone In our day as Adams's the urgency and complexity of much public business call for the talents of the very best In this wide ranging book scholars from the Visions of Governance in the Twenty First Century program at Harvard University examine what is broken in public service and how it can be fixed Three interrelated long term trends are changing the context of government in this century marketization globalization and the information revolution These forces are acting to diffuse a degree of power responsibility and even legitimacy away from central governments Public service in the era of distributed governance depends less on traditional aptitudes for direct administration and more on a subtler sophisticated set of analytical and managerial skills Those who labor for the people still need to discern public value through policy analysis and work the organizational machinery of government But they must also be able to orchestrate the operations of far flung networks involving a range of actors in different sectors The authors argue that we are witnessing not the end of public service but its evolution While the evidence and arguments presented in this book make it hard to deny that many aspects of public service are strained bent or even broken they also offer grounds for optimism that public service can be refurbished and reshaped to fit today's shifting challenges The Publishers' Circular and General Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1888 Book Dealers' Weekly ,1925 Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature ,1896 *Catalog of Copyright Entries.
