community and its relationship with Israel as mediated by the changing identity needs of American Jews Overall the trajectory of this relationship has been from a wide consensus of support for Israeli foreign policy toward increasing polarization On one side is the peace camp composed mainly of those whose Jewish American identity is based on a religious universalistic definition of Judaism on the other those who identify as nationalistic or orthodox in religious terms and support a hard line vision of Greater Israel The acrimony between the two combined with demographic change has undermined Israel as a symbol of Jewish identity in America and impeded effective lobbying for Israel
