Surviving Saskatoon Drawn & Quarter, Drawn & Quarterly Publications, 2000-09-01      Real Justice: Sentenced to Life at Seventeen Cynthia J. Faryon, 2012-09-12 David Milgaard was a troubled kid and he got into lots of trouble Unfortunately that made it easy for the Saskatoon police to brand him as a murderer At seventeen David Milgaard was arrested jailed and convicted for the rape and murder of a young nursing assistant Gail Miller He was sent to adult prison for life Throughout his twenty three years in prison David maintained that he was innocent and refused to admit to the crime even though it meant he was never granted parole Finally through the incredible determination of his mother and new lawyers who believed in him David was released and proven not guilty Astonishingly in hindsight the real murderer was obvious from the start This is the true story of how bad decisions tunnel vision poor representation and outright lying and coercion by those within the justice system caused a tragic miscarriage of justice It also shows that wrongs can be righted and amends made      Drawn & Quarterly: Twenty-Five Years of Contemporary Cartooning, Comics, and Graphic Novels, 2021-08-31 Drawn assembles biographies personal reminiscences and interviews with key D Q staff and curates essays by Margaret Atwood Sheila Heti Jonathan Lethem Deb Olin Unferth Heather O'Neill Lemony Snicket Chris Ware and noted comics scholars D Q 25 is the rare chance to witness a literary movement in progress how a group of dedicated artists and their publisher changed the future of a century old medium      Canadian Graphic Candida Rifkind, Linda Warley, 2016-05-20 Canadian Graphic Picturing Life Narratives presents critical essays on contemporary Canadian cartoonists working in graphic life narrative from confession to memoir to biography The contributors draw on literary theory visual studies and cultural history to show how Canadian cartoonists have become so prominent in the international market for comic books based on real life experiences The essays explore the visual styles and storytelling techniques of Canadian cartoonists as well as their shared concern with the spectacular vulnerability of the self Canadian Graphic also considers the role of graphic life narratives in reimagining the national past including Indigenous settler relations both world wars and Quebec's Quiet Revolution Contributors use a range of approaches to analyze the political aesthetic and narrative tensions in these works between self and other memory and history individual and collective An original contribution to the study of auto biography alternative comics and Canadian print culture Canadian Graphic proposes new ways of reading the intersection of comics and auto biography both within and across national boundaries      Surviving Saskatoon David Collier, 2000      With Good Intentions Celia Haig-Brown, David A. Nock, 2011-11-01 With Good Intentions examines the joint efforts of Aboriginal people and individuals of European ancestry to counter injustice in Canada when colonization was at its height from the mid nineteenth to the early twentieth century These people recognized colonial wrongs and worked together in a variety of ways to right them but they could not stem the tide of European based exploitation The book is neither an apologist text nor an attempt to argue that some colonizers were simply well intentioned Almost all those considered here teachers lawyers missionaries activists had as their overall goal the Christianization and civilization of Canada's First Peoples. While their sensitivity and willingness to work in concert with Aboriginal people made them stand out from their less sympathetic compatriots, they were nonetheless implicated in the colonialist project as the contributors to this volume make clear. By discussing examples of Euro-Canadians who worked with Aboriginal peoples, With Good Intentions brings to light some of the lesser-known complexities of colonization. This volume is an important resource for anyone interested in Canadian history, particularly post-Confederation history and in Native studies and issues of colonization of Native peoples.

Part 2: Project New Hope Michel Pelletier, 2016-06. Tensions between nations run high in the twenty-second century. Nuclear war reduced the global population from fifteen billion to barely one hundred million survivors. Much of the planet's surface is highly radioactive. Sources of food, clean water, and medical supplies are increasingly scarce. Isolated regions made distribution of supplies even harder to operate. In a time when co-operation is imperative, self-interest continues to prevail in many parts of the globe. Amidst this growing chaos, a new generation of leaders emerges to guide Eden into an uncertain future filled with incredible new technologies and daunting challenges. As they struggle to provide leadership through humanity's darkest days, they must also preserve what little survives of nature's blessings. Can they build hope for a new world from the ashes of the old, or will they make the same mistakes to which humanity has always succumbed?

Part 2 of the Eden Democratic Kingdom trilogy follows the continuing development of Eden and its leaders as they work towards a better future for their young nation and all of Earth's creatures.

Truth and Indignation Ronald Niezen, 2013-10-22. Truth and Indignation offers the first close and critical assessment of a Truth and Reconciliation Commission as it is unfolding. Niezen uses interviews with survivors and oblate priests and nuns, as well as testimonies, texts, and visual materials produced by the Commission to raise important questions: What makes Canada's TRC different from others around the world? What kinds of narratives are emerging, and what does that mean for reconciliation, transitional justice, and conceptions of traumatic memory? What happens to the ultimate goal of reconciliation when a large part of the testimony that of nuns priests and government officials is scarcely evident in the Commission s proceedings Thoughtful provocative and uncompromising in the need to tell the truth as he sees it Niezen offers an important contribution to our understanding of TRC processes in general and the Canadian experience in particular
