A Survivor's Guide for Government Executives John H. Trattner, 1989-01-01 To find more information on Rowman Littlefield titles please visit us at www.rowmanlittlefield.com Journal of Policy Analysis and Management ,1990 Encompasses issues and practices in policy analysis and public management Listed among the contributors are economists public managers and operations researchers Featured regularly are book reviews and a department devoted to discussing ideas and issues of importance to practitioners researchers and academics The Power to Persuade Richard N. Haass, Richard Haass, 1995-05 The Power to Persuade answers a fundamental question how can you navigate a world where persuasion rather than direct command is the rule In public sector organizations and in today's flattened corporate hierarchies traditional management strategies simply do not work This book shows how to hone the political skills that are so often the key to improved performance whether the goal is better policy or greater profit While teaching at Harvard University Richard Haass realized that no existing book advised people working in political settings how to be more effective Now he has filled the gap Using a compass as his operating metaphor your boss is north of you your staff is south colleagues are east and so on Haass provides guidelines for managing relationships setting goals and translating goals into results His interviews with Colin Powell James Baker Robert Strauss and dozens of others yield valuable practical insight For the tens of millions of Americans Personnel Literature United States. Office of Personnel Management. Library, 1981 Encyclopedia of Associations V1 National Org 43 Pt1 ,1961 A guide to more than 22 000 national and international organizations including trade business and commercial environmental and agricultural legal governmental public administration and military engineering technological and natural and social sciences educational cultural social welfare health and medical public affairs fraternal nationality and ethnic religious veterans hereditary and patriotic hobby and avocational athletic and sports labor unions associations and federations chambers of commerce and trade and tourism Greek letter and related organizations and fan clubs Impossible Jobs in Public Management Erwin C. Hargrove, John C. Glidewell, 1990 If you think your job is hopelessly difficult you may be right Particularly if your job is public administration Those who study or practice public management know full well the difficulties faced by administrators of complex bureaucratic systems What they don't know is why some jobs in the public sector are harder than others and how good managers cope with those jobs Drawing on leadership theory and social psychology Erwin Hargrove and John Glidewell provide the first systematic analysis of the factors that determine the inherent difficulty of public management jobs and of the coping strategies employed by successful managers To test their argument Hargrove and Glidewell focus on those jobs fraught with extreme difficulties impossible jobs What differentiates impossible from possible jobs are 1 the publicly perceived legitimacy of the commissioner's clientele 2 the intensity of the conflict among the agency's constituencies 3 the public's confidence in the authority of the commissioner's profession and 4 the strength of the agency's myth or long term idealistic goal Hargrove and Glidewell flesh out their analysis with six case studies that focus on the roles played by leaders of specific agencies Each essay summarizes the institutional strengths and weaknesses specifies what makes the job impossible and then compares the skills and strategies that incumbents have employed in coping with such jobs Readers will come away with a thorough understanding of the conflicting social psychological and political forces that act on commissioners in impossible jobs
