Pioneering North America Klaus Martens,2000 Susanna Moodie Anne Cimon,2006-01-01
Susanna Moodie was already a published author when she emigrated from England to Upper Canada with her husband and baby in 1832 The Moodies were seeking financial security and a better life in the colony but they found themselves struggling to make a living on a bush farm Despite her primitive life in the backwoods and the demands of caring for her children Susanna continued to write and publish In 1852 her best known book Roughing It in the Bush was published in England A Canadian edition appeared in 1871 Roughing It in the Bush has endured both as a valuable social document of the Canadian pioneer experience and as a work of literature Letters of a Lifetime Susanna Moodie,1993-01-01 First published in 1985 this volume of letters follows Susanna Moodie from her Suffolk girlhood and her experience as an aspiring young writer in London through her emigration to Upper Canada and five decades of Canadian life The letters provide a sense of Moodie s literary accomplishments before her emigration the long uncertain struggle to develop her career as a writer in the colony and the brief but intense period of literary activity during which her books were published in Britain and the U S

Re-Writing Pioneer Women in Anglo-Canadian Literature Conny Steenman-Marcusse,2021-11-15 This study investigates the connections between nineteenth century pioneer women in Canada and their putative twentieth century biographers in Anglo Canadian women s fiction by Carol Shields Small Ceremonies 1976 Daphne Marlatt Ana Historic 1988 and Susan Swan The Biggest Modern Woman of the World 1983 These three texts reveal definite problems in the formation of Canadian female identities but they also revalorise the traditionally underprivileged halves of binary structures such as female male other self body intellect subjectivity objectivity and Canada imperial centres Re(dis)covering Our Foremothers Lorraine McMullen,1990 The modern literary searchlight has flushed out Canada s long neglected nineteenth century female writers New critical approaches are advocated and others are encouraged to take on the difficulties and rewards of research into the lives of our foremothers Published in English Life in the Clearings versus the Bush Susanna Moodie,2022-09-04 In Life in the Clearings versus the Bush Susanna Moodie crafts a vivid narrative that juxtaposes the civilized life of the settler with the untamed wilderness of Canada Written in a richly descriptive literary style the book serves as both a memoir and a social commentary capturing the struggles triumphs and the harsh realities faced by early European settlers in the 19th century Moodie s poignant observations and evocative prose transport readers into the heart of the Canadian bush while her insightful comparisons highlight the stark contrasts between the comforts of colonial life and the challenges of nature Susanna Moodie born in England in 1803 immigrated to Canada with her husband in search of a better life Her firsthand experiences as a settler combined with her background in literature inform her nuanced portrayal of life in the New World Moodie s ability to articulate the complexities of identity gender and the immigrant experience stems from her own creative and challenging journey making her a significant voice in Canadian literature Life in the Clearings versus the Bush is a compelling read for anyone interested in the intricacies of colonial life nature and the immigrant narrative Moodie s keen observations and heartfelt reflections not only shed light on the past but also invite contemporary readers to ponder the enduring conflicts between civilization and wilderness Pioneering Women Lorraine McMullen,Sandra Campbell,1993

Pioneering Women is an anthology of short fiction written before 1880 by Canadian women including Susanna Moodie Catharine Parr Traill and Rosanna Mullins Leprohon From the Maritimes to Upper Canada from backwoods to the drawing room this collection demonstrates the variety that exists in stories by women of early British North America Published in English Canadian Literary Landmarks John Robert Colombo,1984-01-01 Canadian Literary Landmarks The Canadian Shields Carol Shields,2024-09-09 Newly discovered work by one of Canada s favourite writers The Canadian Shields brings together fifty short writings by Carol Shields 1935 2003 including more than two dozen previously unpublished short stories and essays and two dozen essays previously published but never before collected Invaluable to scholars and admirers of Shields s work the writings discovered in the National Library Archives by Nora Foster Stovel and presented to the public here for the first time reflect Shields s interest in the relationships between reality and fiction mothers and daughters and gender and genre They also reveal her love of Canada especially Winnipeg her home for twenty years Originally written for women s magazines travel journals convocation addresses and even graduate school term papers Shields s imaginative essays explore ideas about home Canadian literature contemporary women s writing and the future of fiction Whether autobiographical cultural or feminist in focus these works vividly illuminate the multiple chapters of Shields s writing life Margaret Atwood and Lorna Crozier frame Shields s texts with tributes to her work and impact An introduction by Stovel situates Shields as a Canadian author and subversive feminist writer demonstrating how American born and raised Carol Anne Warner became the Canadian Shields a quintessential and beloved Canadian writer and the only author to win both the Pulitzer Prize and the Governor General s Gold Medal for Fiction The Intimate Empire Gillian Whitlock,2000-02-01 By means of contextualized readings this work argues that autobiographic writing allows an intimate access to processes of colonization and decolonization incorporation and resistance and the formation and reformation of identities which occurs in postcolonial space The book explores the interconnections between race gender autobiography and colonialism and uses a method of reading which looks for connections between very different autobiographical writings to pursue constructions of blackness and whiteness femininity and masculinity and nationality Unlike previous studies of autobiography which focus on a limited Euro American canon the book brings together contemporary and 19th century women s autobiographies and travel writing from Canada the Caribbean Kenya South Africa Australia and New Zealand With emphasis on the reader of autobiography as much as the subject it argues that colonization and resistance are deeply embedded in thinking about the self The Picturesque and the Sublime Susan Glickman,2000 Winner of the Gabrielle Roy Prize in English and the Raymond Klibansky Prize The Picturesque and the Sublime is a cultural history of two hundred years of nature writing in Canada from eighteenth century prospect poems to contemporary encounters with landscape Arguing against the received wisdom made popular by Northrop Frye and Margaret Atwood that Canadian writers view nature as hostile Susan Glickman places Canadian literature in the English and European traditions of the sublime and the picturesque Glickman argues that early immigrants to Canada brought with them the expectation that nature would be grand mysterious awesome even terrifying and welcomed scenes that conformed to these notions of sublimity She contends that to interpret their descriptions of nature as negative as so many critics have done is a significant misunderstanding Glickman provides close readings of several important works including Susanna Moodie's Enthusiasm Charles G D Roberts's Ave and Paulette Jiles's Song to the Rising Sun and explores the poems in the context of theories of nature and art Instead of projecting backward from a modernist perspective Glickman reads forward from the discovery of landscape as a legitimate artistic subject in seventeenth century England and argues that picturesque modes of description and a sublime aesthetic have governed much of the representation of nature in this country Susan Glickman is a poet living in Toronto She is the author of Complicity The Power to Move Henry Moore's Sheep and Other Poems and Hide and Seek
