The Swazi Hilda Kuper, 1952      The Swazi: a South African Kingdom. [With Plates and a Map.] afterwards KUPER BEEMER (Hilda), 1963      The Swazi Hilda Kuper, 1966      Studies in the Economic History of Southern Africa Z.A. Konczacki, Jane L. Parpart, Timothy M. Shaw, 2014-01-14 First Published in 1990 Volume Two of Studies of Economic History of South Africa looks at the Lesotho and Swaziland regions The unfolding history and historiography of Southern Africa pose profound challenges for both analysis and praxis in the last decade of the twentieth century These challenges are reflected in the range of investigations and contradictions some of which are treated here which together constitute an intellectual and political conjuncture This collection of studies deals with the countries which were not included in the companion book on the economic history of the Front Line States Most of the space in the present volume is devoted to South Africa primarily because of its importance to the region but also because contributions to the economic history of that country in English are very extensive as compared to the other states of Southern Africa      Struggle for Swazi Labour, 1890-1920 Jonathan Crush, J. S. Crush, 1987 The period 1890 1920 was characterized by the increasing domination of white over black in southern Africa and the associated expansion of a regional capitalist economy Many largely self sufficient African societies became heavily dependent on migrant wage labour and purchased food These changes together with the alienation of land for white settlement transformed rural society greatly accelerating the impoverishment of most Africans      The Kingdom of Swaziland D. Hugh Gillis, 1999-03-30 A scholarly and engaging study this history of Swaziland by an author who spent many years in the kingdom presents a vivid account of the interplay of politics and personalities along the passage to post colonial independence From the early stages of Swazi occupation of the present day kingdom to the accession of Sobhuza II as king in 1921 this book traces problems in consolidating leadership under the Dlamini chieftaincy and examines the influence of Boer and British settlers and of mining and commercial interests on Swazi culture and governance It recounts the story of a thriving small nation that sought to maintain traditional customs and institutions in the face of a powerful European presence Each of the sixteen chapters concentrates on an aspect of political history that has influenced the character of the present day kingdom and much of the material especially after 1900 has not been utilized in previous studies The introduction looks at Swazi experience in a contemporary context evaluating historic forces that have made for stability in a rapidly changing world Other sections detail the Swazi reaction to European controlled neighboring states the Transvaal Natal and Mozambique the tensions introduced by successive Boer and British policies the Swazi detachment during two external wars 1899 1902 and 1914 1918 and widespread concerns about colonialism and self governance following World War I      Swaziland Alan R Booth, 2019-06-26 This book describes the basis of Swazi traditional life and examines how modern values are influencing change It focuses on Hilda Kuper's original study and subsequent analyses to describe that traditional society      Social Welfare and Social Work in Southern Africa Ndangwa Noyoo, 2021-06-11 This book is written by Southern African social welfare social work social development social security and social policy academics practitioners and advocates who have varying degrees of experience The authors who contributed chapters to this book added their perspectives to ongoing debates about academic areas in the region Thus the book's primary objective is to discuss the development of social welfare and social work in Southern Africa In doing so it endeavours to contribute to the existing body of knowledge on social welfare and social work in the region The chapters are examined through different theoretical lenses and historical perspectives In this book African scholars academics and practitioners provide a deep and critical reflection of social welfare social work and related disciplines during the colonial and post colonial era a period characterised by a deliberate move by Africa's political administrations to focus on nation building and to attempt to make Africa a global player Despite being endowed with rich natural resources like minerals agriculture and solid family and extended family life the continent is weak globally Furthermore the book focuses on the pre colonial period a golden thread running through the chapters The book discusses the colonial era when Western countries capture and oppression of Africa characterised the continent's history This book is an appropriate publication at this point in our history a resource that can be used to generate appropriate narratives and questions within the social welfare and social development sector particularly on delivery education and training provides a comprehensive overview of the lives of the men and women who shaped Africa's history. Unprecedented in scale, DAB covers the whole continent from Tunisia to South Africa, from Sierra Leone to Somalia. It also encompasses the full scope of history from Queen Hatsheput of Egypt (1490-1468 BC) and Hannibal the military commander and strategist of Carthage (243-183 BC) to Kwame Nkrumah of Ghana (1909-1972), Miriam Makeba and Nelson Mandela of South Africa (1918).

Indigenous African Institutions George Ayittey, 2025-01-27 George Ayittey's Indigenous African Institutions presents a detailed and convincing picture of pre-colonial and post-colonial Africa, its cultures, traditions, and indigenous institutions, including participatory democracy. Contrasting traditional African society with both colonial rule and the currently prevalent one-man military dictatorship, Ayittey concludes that while colonialism was pernicious and brutal, it did not totally destroy native African institutions and in some ways even contributed to their survival and regeneration. The modern dictatorships under African elites, he argues, are equally pernicious and brutal and perhaps even more bent on the wholesale destruction of African institutions, squandering human resources and diverting foreign aid funds to their own Swiss bank accounts.

Published under the Transnational Publishers imprint. Women Anthropologists Ute Gacs, 1988 A wealth of information on the lives and work of 58 women whose professional activities include social, cultural, and physical anthropology, archaeology, folklore, linguistics, art, writing, and political activism. Disclosure in Health and Illness Mark Davis, Lenore Manderson, 2014-04-24 Disclosure is a frequently used but rarely interrogated concept in health and social welfare. Abuse, disability, sexuality, and health status can be disclosed to peers and professionals, and on some occasions disclosure is a requirement and not a choice. This innovative collection examines the new social and political implications of disclosure practices in health and illness. We make our identities and our connections with others by sharing life stories, experiences, and innermost desires, and are often asked to disclose facts about our lives, bodies, and minds at times with unintended consequences. Yet how and what, why and when people disclose and perceive, question and expose, and in what ways has rarely received critical analytic attention. The contributors take up these problems by foregrounding the many shades of disclosure, from the secret through the telling of diagnosis to the more prosaic sharing of narratives from everyday life. The processes and implications of disclosing are addressed in areas such as illness trajectories and end-of-life decisions, ethical research practices, medical procedures, and interpersonal relationships. Exploring the idea of disclosure as a moral imperative and a social act, this book offers a diverse range of empirical case studies, social theories, and methodological insights to show how dominant and normative understandings of social relationships and their obligations shape our understanding of acts of disclosure, enquiry, and exposure. It will be of interest to students and academics with an interest in narrative studies, medical anthropology, bioethics, health psychology, health studies, and the sociology of health and illness.
