additional chapters including entries on Saskia Sassen Tim Ingold Cindi Katz and John Urry the book covers ideas ranging from humanism Marxism feminism and post structuralism to queer theory post colonialism globalization and deconstruction presenting a thorough look at diverse ways in which space and place has been theorized An essential text for geographers this now classic reference text is for all those interested in theories of space and place whether in geography sociology cultural studies urban studies planning anthropology or women s studies Experiencing Cities Mark Hutter,2015-12-22

This extraordinary text for undergraduate urban students is a reflection of Mark Hutter s academic interests in urban sociology and his life long passion for experiencing city life His deep academic roots in the Chicago School of Sociology help inform and appreciate the variety of urban structures and processes and their effect on the everyday lives of people living in cities This text however extends the Chicago School perspective by combining its traditions with a social psychological perspective derived from symbolic interaction and also with a macro level examination of social organization social change stratification and power in the urban context informed by political economy This entirely new 3rd Edition has a global outlook on city life and a visual presentation unmatched among books in this genre The Social Fabric of Cities Vinicius M. Netto,2016-09-19

Bringing together ideas from the fields of sociology economics human geography ethics political and communications theory this book deals with some key subjects in urban design the multidimensional effects of the spatial form of cities ways of appropriating urban space and the different material factors involved in the emergence of social life It puts forward an innovative conceptual framework to reconsider some fundamental features of city making as a social process the place of cities in encounters and communications in the randomness of events and in the repetition of activities that characterise societies In doing so it provides fresh analytical tools and theoretical insights to help advance our understanding of the networks of causalities contingencies and contexts involved in practices of city making In a systematic attempt to bring urban analysis and research from the social sciences together the book is organised around three vital yet relatively neglected dimensions in the social and material shaping of cities i Cities as systems of encounter an approach to urban segregation as segregated networks ii Cities as systems of communication a view of shared spaces as a means to association and social experience iii Cities as systems of material interaction explorations on urban form as an effect of interactivity and interactivity as an effect of form Visit the author s website at <http://socialfabric.city> The York Mystery Cycle and the

Worship of the City Pamela M. King,2006 An investigation into the connections between the York Plays religious observance and the role played by the city itself WINNER of the 2007 David Bevington Prize The York Play is the earliest near complete English civic mystery cycle It evolved constantly throughout its long performance history but the text that was recorded in the YorkRegister shows that it was already a mature and elaborate civic festival by the time it was written down This study uncovers the Cycle s connection with worship in York in the sense both of devotional practice and of civichonour informing a particular period in the cultural history of the city The pageants in the Register show in their different ways how the community which devised and performed the Cycle regarded the celebration of the great summer feast of Corpus Christi. Moreover the principles of selection that give the Cycle its structure reflect the broader pattern of the liturgical calendar with its other feasts and fasts. The Cycle bears witness not only to the practices of religious observance in York but also to the ecclesiastical politics in which the city was caught up from the very beginning of the fifteenth century. PAMELA KING is Professor of Medieval Studies at the University of Bristol.

Cases of Intervention Marie Hologa, 2013-08-19. Cases of Intervention offers new perspectives on the case study as a research tool with a long standing tradition in British cultural studies. Despite this significance it has hardly ever been explicitly reflected upon as a method but in this volume it takes centre stage. Scholars from interdisciplinary fields have written succinctly on diverse topics: the eleven case studies are comprehensible and lucid applications of theoretical approaches to topics such as the British cup of tea, CCTV and monarchs on film. This book will give readers the opportunity to discover the broad spectrum of approaches that make British cultural studies an indispensable discipline for discourses in academia and beyond. Each case study presented here illuminates the relationship between cultural practices and theory. By choosing cases embedded in everyday life the focus of each contribution is on the potential of pragmatic intervention.

Rethinking Community Research David Studdert, Valerie Walkerdine, 2016-08-24. This book sheds new light on the complex inter relations that make up class power, local history and space. It turns community thinking on its head by understanding community not as an object but as a relational process with sociality at its core. Based on fieldwork from one market town and the work of Hannah Arendt it demonstrates how a new approach to social practices can illuminate our understanding of commonality and communal being. Whilst community has become both a much derided and much touted term, this thought provoking work shows that it is at the heart of social process. It will appeal to researchers of sociology, social policy, politics, public health and geography as well as those involved in public policy design and implementation.

War, Police and Assemblages of Intervention Jan Bachmann, Colleen Bell, Caroline Holmqvist, 2014-11-13. This book reflects on the way in which war and police policing intersect in contemporary Western led interventions in the global South. The volume combines empirically oriented work with ground breaking theoretical insights and aims to collect for the first time thoughts on how war and policing converge, amalgamate, diffuse and dissolve in the context both of actual international intervention and in understandings thereof. The book uses the caption WAR POLICE to highlight the distinctiveness of this volume in presenting a variety of approaches that share a concern for the assemblage of war, police as a whole. The volume thus serves to bring together critical perspectives on liberal interventionism where the logics of war and police policing blur and bleed into a complex assemblage of WAR POLICE. Contributions to this volume offer an understanding of police as a technique of ordering and collectively take issue with accounts of the character of contemporary war that argue that war is simply reduced to policing. In contrast the contributions show how both historically and conceptually the two are always already connected. Contributions to this volume come from a variety of disciplines including international relations war studies geography anthropology and law but share a critical poststructuralist approach to the study of international intervention war and policing This volume will be useful to students and scholars who have an interest in social theories on intervention war security and the making of international order

Identities, Borderscapes, Orders Benjamin Tallis, 2023-02-06 This book provides a pre history of Russia s war on Ukraine and Europe s relations to it illuminating the deep roots of the EU s neighbourhood crisis as well as the migration crises the Union created in the last decade To do so the book employs a new and innovative framework that allows for a comprehensive yet nuanced analysis of borders and a more cogent interpretation of their socio political consequences Drawing on interdisciplinary scholarship the book analytically examines the key common elements of borderscapes and links them in related arrays to allow for nuanced evaluation of both their particular and cumulative effects as well as interpretation of their overall consequences particularly for issues of identities and orders The book offers a significant conceptual and theoretical advance providing a transferable conceptualization of borderscapes to guide research analysis and interpretation Drawing on the author s experience in policy practice and academia it also makes a methodological contribution by pushing the boundaries of reflexivity in interpretive International Relations IR research Analyzing three main sites in Central and Eastern Europe CEE the book challenges conventional critical wisdom on EU bordering in the Schengen zone at its external frontiers and in its Eastern neighborhood In so doing it sheds new light on the politics of post communist transitions as well as the contemporary politics of CEE It also shows how EU bordering and its relations to identities and orders created great benefits for many Europeans but also hindered the lives of many others and became self defeating This book is a must read for scholars students and policy makers interested in a better understanding of Critical Border Studies CBS in particular and International Relations in general It will also appeal to anyone interested in CEE or wishing to get a deeper understanding of Russia s war and the fight for Europe s future

GO: On the Geographies of Gunnar Olsson Martin Gren, 2016-04-22 Since the early 1960s the internationally acclaimed and highly distinguished Swedish geographer Gunnar Olsson has made substantial contributions to his own discipline In addition because of the transgressive nature of his work and writing which often borders to art and philosophy his ideas and approaches have reached a wider audience of those interested in the history and geography of ideas culture and human reasoning Olsson s recent masterpiece Abysmal is a minimalist guide to the territory of Western culture In it he investigates how cartographical reason enables people to think about and navigate the abstract world of invisible human relations in much the same way as they are able to study and traverse the physical Earth by using maps and mapping This book presents a comprehensive introduction to and overview of the entire range of Olsson's geography from the early days of spatial science to his contemporary engagement with and critique of cartographical reasoning. It includes selected samples of Olsson's own writings including rarities together with a consolidated bibliography of his publications. It also contains critical engagements from leading scholars such as Michael Dear, Michael Watts, Chris Philo and Marcus Doel with Olsson's geography from a variety of perspectives which are particularly valuable to those readers who already know his work. It is structured and written in a way that makes Olsson's geography accessible to a wide readership including those who are not already familiar with Olsson's work.

Criminal Behaviour in Context Nick Flynn, 2017-09-25. This book examines the extent to which criminal desistance, the change process involved in the ending of criminal behaviour, is affected by personal and social circumstances which are place specific. Grounded in criminological spatial analysis as well as more general social scientific investigations of the role of space and place in contemporary social, economic and cultural life, it examines why large numbers of prisoners in the United States and the United Kingdom appear to be drawn from and after release return to certain urban neighbourhoods. In doing so, Criminal Behaviour in Context assesses the effect of this unique life course experience on the pathways and choices open to ex-prisoners who attempt to give up crime. Including new data on the geographical distribution of offenders, interviews with serving prisoners and drawing on theories about social context, identity and subjectivity, it discusses the implications of the evidence and arguments presented for prisoner reintegration policy and practice.

Local Citizenship in the Global Arena Sally Findlow, 2016-11-03. Local Citizenship in the Global Arena proposes a reconsideration of both citizenship and citizenship education, moving away equally from prevailing global citizenship and fundamental British values approaches towards a curriculum for education that is essentially about creating cosmopolitan, included and inclusive, politically engaged citizens of communities local, national and global. Viewing education as both problem and solution, Findlow argues that today's climate of rapid and unpredictable geopolitical and cultural re-scoping requires an approach to citizenship education that both reflects and shapes society, paying attention to relationships between the local and global aspects of political voice, equality and community. Drawing on a range of international examples, she explores the importance and possibilities of a form of education that instead of promoting divisive competition, educates about citizenship in its various forms and encourages the sorts of open and radical thinking that can help young people cross ideological and physical borders and use their voice in line with their own and others' real long-term interests. Successive chapters develop this argument by critically examining the key elements of citizenship discourses through the interrelated lenses of geopolitical change, nationalism, the competition fetish, critical pedagogy, multiculturalism, protest politics, feminism and ecology, and highlighting ways in which the situationally diverse lived realities of citizenship have been mediated by different forms of education. The book draws attention to how we think of education's place in a world of combined globalisation, localism, anti-state revolt and xenophobia. It will be of key interest to academics, researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of education political science philosophy sociology social policy cultural studies and anthropology

Asian Ethical Urbanism: A Radical Postmodern Perspective William Siew Wai Lim, 2005-07-15 With the impending demise of modernist planning the footprints and corpses of failed modernist visions are littered everywhere A vacuum of implementable urban theories has occurred at the time when unprecedented expansion and restructuring of cities in rapidly developing economies are taking place In this collection of essays William S W Lim zeroes in on the peculiarities and dynamics of present Asian urban and architectural conditions in order to challenge and transcend the socio ecological forms and political influences generated by the current system of global capitalism Part I of this book consists of the main essay which attempts to establish baselines for an effective formulation of ethical urbanism in Asia by clarifying issues that have previously been unquestioningly bound up with Western values and discourses As an architect urbanist Lim lends a determinedly spatialist and environmental perspective to issues such as rights ethics happiness and social justice while compelling his readers to rethink previously established notions about them Part II of this book consists of three city studies on Hanoi Shanghai and Singapore completed in the last two years which attempt to match Lim's theoretical formulation with actual conditions occurring in Asia today Also included is Asian Architecture in the New Millennium a fascinating discourse on contemporary design conducted from a postmodern perspective

Discourses That Matter Maria José Canelo, 2013-10-03 How can English and American Studies be instrumental to conceptualizing the deep instability we are presently facing How can they address the coordinates of this instability such as war terrorism the current economic and financial crisis and the consequent myriad forms of deprivation and fear How can they tackle the strategies of dehumanization invisibility and the naturalization of inequality and injustice entailed in contemporary discourses This anthology grew out of an awareness of the need to debate the role of English and American Studies both in the present context and in relation to the so called demise of the Humanities Drawing on Judith Butler's rethinking of materiality as the effect of power in her study Bodies That Matter 1993 we locate this collection of essays at the crossroads of discourse and power while we expect the work collected here to highlight the ability of discourses to materialize in or as truth and as such to support or decry particular constituencies Discourses therefore matter to us as products and vehicles of power relations that can be subject to the analytical and interpretative tools of English and American Studies Our idea was to challenge especially young scholars to position their research concerning the ability of their fields to be discourses that matter in the case in point to be critical practices that make an active intervention in current debates By focusing on matters such as language as witness to the world representations of gender race and ethnicity performative discourses exceptionalism and power and interculturality these essays pursue the chance to deepen enlarge and question both literary and cultural phenomena their established critical readings and the strategies deployed in representations Finally English and American Studies in the present collection demonstrate their affiliation to the Humanities by exploring the numerous possibilities offered by their discourses their ability to foster critical thought allowing us to think for and outside ourselves their capacity to test argue and question and their profound imaginative potential The Geopolitics of Europe's Identity N. Parker, 2008-02-04 This book pursues an original perspective on Europe's shifting extent and geopolitical standing how countries and spaces marginal to it impact on Europe as a center A theoretical discussion of borders and margins is developed and set against nine studies of countries regions and identities seen as marginal to Europe
