Castration Desire Robinson Murphy, 2023-12-14 Theorizes an alternative form of masculinity in global literature that is less egocentric and more sustainable both in terms of gendered and environmental power dynamics Contemporary novelists and filmmakers like Kazuo Ishiguro Japanese British Emma Donoghue Irish Canadian Michael Ondaatje Sri Lankan Canadian Bong Joon-ho South Korean and J M Coetzee South African Australian are emblematic of a transnational phenomenon that Robinson Murphy calls castration desire That is these artists present privileged characters who nonetheless pursue their own diminishment In promulgating through their characters a less egocentric mode of thinking and acting these artists offer a blueprint for engendering a more other-oriented global relationality Murphy proposes that in addition to being an ethical prerogative castration desire's less-is-more model of relationality would make life livable where veritable suicide is our species' otherwise potential fate Castration desire thus offers an antidote to rapacious extractivism with the ambition of instilling a sustainable model for thinking and acting on an imminently eco-apocalyptic earth In providing a fresh optic through which to read a diversity of text types Castration Desire helps define where literary criticism is now and where it is headed Castration Desire additionally extends and develops a zeitgeist currently unfolding in critical theory It brings Leo Bersani's concept psychic utopia together with Judith Butler's radical egalitarianism but transports their shared critique of phallic individualization into the environmental humanities In doing so this book builds a new framework for how gender studies intersects with environmental studies

The Poetics and Ethics of (Un-)Grievability in Contemporary Anglophone Fiction Susana Onega, Jean-Michel Ganteau, 2022-12-27 The working hypothesis of the book is that since the 1990s an increasing number of Anglophone fictions are responding to the new ethical and political demands arising out of the facts of war exclusion climate change contagion posthumanism and other central issues of our post trauma age by adapting the conventions of traditional forms of expressing grievability such as elegy testimony or pseudo autobiography Situating themselves in the wake of Judith Butler's work on un-grievability the essays collected in this volume seek to cast new light on these issues by delving into the socio cultural constructions of grievability and other types of vulnerabilities invisibilities and inaudibilities linked with the neglect and or abuse of non normative individuals and submerged groups that have been framed as disposable exploitable and or unmournable by such determinant factors as sex gender ethnic origin health etc thereby refining and displacing the category of subalternity associated with the poetics of postmodernism
