The Foundations Of Ethnology The Principle Ideas And Discoveries In Animal Behavior:

All in the Family Kennan Ferguson,2012-06-19 Ferguson starts with the commonplace assumption within political philosophy that the family provides the ideal model for political association Yet families are not necessarily harmonious units Ferguson takes up several situations to think about how familial attachments can offer insight into the creation of a pluralistic and democratic society

Trinity, Freedom and Love Piotr Malysz,2012-08-02 By critically engaging Eberhard J ngel s doctrine of the Trinity this volume makes a broader constructive contribution to contemporary trinitarian thought The argument centers on the question posed by the inconsistencies uncovered in J ngel s doctrine of God of how one can assert both divine freedom and the inter subjectivity of God s trinitarian self determination Can one maintain God s freedom in the interest of divine spontaneity and creativity while remaining committed to inter subjective vulnerability which the Cross entails as an event of divine love Malysz suggests that a resolution to this problem lies in a logic of divine freedom which next to the trinitarian logic of love constitutes a different and simultaneous mode of trinitarian relationality To develop this logic Malysz draws on J ngel s understanding of human freedom as rooted in the elemental interruption of the self securing subject Malysz thus not only brings J ngel s view of divine freedom into correspondence with the anthropological effects that J ngel ascribes to it but above all offers an imaginative new way of closely integrating the doctrine of God and theological anthropology

Principles of Subjective Anthropology Binggong Chen,2023-03-27 This book puts forward the concept of subjective anthropology and outlines a theoretical system that will allow subjective anthropology to qualify as a new academic discipline in its own right In an effort to respond to the field s proper role as the science of humanity subjective analysis has been introduced into the study of anthropology The book fills two distinct gaps in our knowledge and understanding of modern man offering detailed descriptions of personality and of groups while also advancing the theory of structure and choice The book formulates seven basic principles of subjective anthropology and divides anthropology into three major branches subjective anthropology cultural anthropology and biological or physical anthropology which can be further divided into sub branches The book pursues three key goals advancing and developing the theoretical system of subjective anthropology reconstructing the discipline of anthropology and establishing a Chinese anthropology with Chinese characteristics Chinese visions and Chinese styles

Levels of Organic Life and the Human Helmuth Plessner,2021-05-20 The groundbreaking classic of twentieth century German philosophy now available in English with an introduction by J M Bernstein Helmuth Plessner s Levels of Organic Life and the Human draws on phenomenological biological and social scientific sources to offer a systematic account of nature life and human existence The book considers non living nature plants non human animals and human beings a sequence of increasingly complex modes of boundary dynamics simply put interactions between a thing s insides and the surrounding world Living things are classed and analyzed by their positionality or orientation to and within an environment According to Plessner s radical view the human form of life is excentric that is the relation between body and environment is something to which humans themselves are positioned and can take a position This excentric positionality enables human beings to take a stand outside the boundaries of their own body a possibility with significant implications for knowledge culture religion and technology A powerful and sophisticated account of embodiment the Levels shows with reference both to science and to philosophy how life can be seen on its own terms to establish its own boundaries and how from the standpoint of life the human establishes itself in relation to the nonhuman As such the book is not merely a historical monument but a source for invigorating a range of vital current conversations around the animal posthumanism the material turn and the biology and sociology of cognition World Art Studies Kitty Zijlmans,Wilfried Van Damme,2008 This timely volume challenges the narrow Western centrism of most art historical models Archeologists have found that for tens of thousands of years all human cultures have shared a desire for visual representation or expression Yet the study of art history has traditionally focused on Western artworks of the past few centuries World Art Studies examines the phenomenon of art through a broader cultural global and temporal perspective bringing together a uniquely exhaustive range of perspectives on art and borrowing approaches from the study of neuroscience evolutionary biology anthropology and geography as models alongside more conventional art historical perspectives In musicology or linguistics using such diverse viewpoints for reflection and research is considered part of the normal process In that spirit this volume goes beyond abstract models using case studies to demonstrate and examine specific methods of investigation BOOK JACKET Physicochemical Anthropology N. James Birx,2006 Focuses on physical social and applied anthropology archaeology linguistics and symbolic communication Topics include hominid evolution primate behaviour genetics ancient civilizations cross cultural studies and social theories Encyclopedia of Literature and Science Pamela Gossin,2002-08-30 Science and literature have always been strange bedfellows Like puzzle pieces they fit because they are different Some of the greatest works of world literature have been inspired by the marvels of the scientific world Scientists have written works of the imagination Even formal scientific writings have been known to employ rhetoric There is a tendency to think of literature and the humanities in general as having little to do with science Yet scholars have conducted fruitful studies of the history and philosophy of science With the rise of technology scholars have also applied scientific analysis to the study of literature and the creative process The intersection of scientific and humanistic inquiry is finally being mapped This volume includes more than 650 A Z entries on topics and themes in science and literature significant writers key scientists seminal works and important theories and methodologies This reference defines the rapidly emerging interdisciplinary field of literature and science An introductory essay traces the history of the field its growing reputation and the current state of research Broad in scope the volume covers world literature from its beginnings to the present day and illuminates the role of science in literature and literary studies A wide range of experts contributed entries to this volume each of which concludes with a brief bibliography The entire volume closes with a list of works for further reading

Gregory Bateson on Relational Communication: From Octopuses to Nations Phillip Guddemi, 2020-10-03 This book develops Gregory Bateson's ideas regarding communication about relationship in animals and human beings and even nations It bases itself on Bateson's theory of relational communication as he described it in the zoosemiotics of octopus mammals birds and human beings This theory includes for example the roles of metaphor play analog and digital communication metacommunication and Laws of Form It is organized around a letter from Gregory Bateson to his fellow cybernetic thinker Warren McCulloch at the time of the Cuban Missile Crisis In this letter Bateson argued that what we would today call zoosemiotics including Bateson's own previously unpublished octopus research should be made a basis for understanding the relationship between the two blocs of the Cold War Accordingly the book shows how Bateson understood interactive processes in the biosemiotics of conflict and peacemaking which are analyzed using examples from recent animal studies from primate studies and from cultural anthropology The Missile Crisis itself is described in terms of Bateson's critique of game theory which he felt should be modified by an understanding of the zoosemiotics of relational communication The book also includes a previously unpublished piece by Gregory Bateson on wolf behavior and metaphor abduction
