The Hidden Handshake Aleš Debeljak, 2004-09-27 The Hidden Handshake uses four distinct yet intertwined essays to address the questions surrounding our notions of citizenship national identity and cosmopolitan belonging The violent disintegration of Yugoslavia and the undercurrent of EU enlargement stand out as two contrasting movements that highlight the importance of having a national identification while also defying it to avoid both the rigidity of nationalist exclusivism and the blithe nonsense of global citizenship Through the exploration of sociohistorical material and artistic visions as well as the author's layered identity as a Slovene a Yugoslav a Central European and a European Aleš Debeljak tries to show that it is possible to remain faithful to geography history and community even as one fosters links to global cultural movements Not surprisingly the book itself shares some of this hybrid identity It uses not only theoretical concepts and empirical data but also historical sketches on art national life and society along with poetic autobiographical reminiscences and personal anecdotes Ultimately the book calls for an adoption of liberal nationalism which is commensurate with democratic order and for a more ecumenical understanding of artistic visions that does not discriminate on the grounds of one's place of origin

Self-Portrait with

Dogwood Christopher Merrill, 2017-01-16 In the course of researching dogwood trees beloved poet and essayist Christopher Merrill realized that a number of formative moments in his life had some connection to the tree named according to one writer because its fruit was not fit for a dog As he approached his sixtieth birthday Merrill began to compose a self portrait alongside this tree whose lifespan is comparable to a human's and that from an early age he's regarded as a talisman Dogwoods have never been far from Merrill's view at significant moments throughout his life helping to shape his understanding of place in the great chain of being entwined in his experience is the conviction that our relationship to the natural world is central to our walk in the sun The feeling of a connection to nature has become more acute as his life has taken him to distant corners of the earth often to war zones where he has witnessed not only humankind's propensity for violence and evil but also the enduring power of connections that can be forged across languages borders and politics Dogwoods teach us persistence humility and wonder Self Portrait with Dogwood is no ordinary memoir but rather the work of a traveler who has crisscrossed the country and the globe in search of ways to make sense of his time here Merrill provides new ways of thinking about personal history the environment politics faith and the power of the written word In his descriptions of places far and near many outside of the average American's purview a besieged city in Bosnia a hidden path in a Taiwanese park Tolstoy's country house in Russia a castle in Slovakia a blossoming dogwood at daybreak in Seattle the reader's understanding of the world will flourish as well
