role on the national stage through the illustrious career of one of its sons In Thomas Ewing Jr Frontier Lawyer and Civil War General Smith introduces us to the Ewing family little known except among scholars of Sherman to show that Tom Jr had a remarkable career of his own first as a real estate lawyer judge soldier and speculator in Kansas then as a key figure in national politics Smith takes readers back to Bleeding Kansas with its border ruffians and land speculators reconstructing the rough and tumble of its courtrooms to demonstrate that its turmoil was as much about claim jumping as about slavery He describes the seat of the pants law practice in which Ewing worked with his brothers Hugh and Charlie and foster brother Cump He then tells how Tom came to national prominence in the fight over the proslavery Lecompton Constitution was instrumental in starting up the Union Pacific Railroad and became the first chief justice of the Kansas Supreme Court Ewing obtained a commission in the Union Army as did his brothers and raised a regiment that saw significant action in Arkansas and Missouri After William Quantrill s raid on Lawrence Kansas he issued the dramatic General Order No 11 that expelled residents from sections of western Missouri Then this confidant of Abraham Lincoln s went on to courageously defend three of the assassination conspirators including the disingenuous Samuel Mudd and lobbied the key vote to block the impeachment of Andrew Johnson Smith examines Ewing s life in meticulous detail mining family correspondence for informative quotes and digging deep into legal records to portray lawmaking on the frontier And while Sherman has been the focus of most previous work on the Ewings this book fills the gaps in an interlocking family of remarkable people one that helped shape a nation s development in its courtrooms and business suites Thomas Ewing Jr Frontier Lawyer and Civil War General retells a chapter of Kansas history and opens up a panoramic view of antebellum America the Civil War Reconstruction and the Gilded Age America's Textile Reporter ,1903 The Harvard Register Moses King,1880

Bradstreet's Weekly ,1888 The Methodical Memory Sharon Crowley,2010-08-20 In this first sustained critique of current traditional rhetorical theory Sharon Crowley uses a postmodern deconstructive reading to reexamine the historical development of current traditional rhetoric She identifies it as well as the British new rhetoric from which it developed as a philosophy of language use that posits universal principles of mind and discourse Crowley argues that these philosophies are not appropriate bases for the construction of rhetorical theories much less guides for the teaching of composition She explains that current traditional rhetoric is not a rhetorical theory and she argues that its use as such has led to a misrepresentation of invention Crowley contends that current traditional rhetoric continues to prosper because a considerable number of college composition teachers graduate students part time instructors and teachers of literature are not involved in the development of the curricula they are asked to teach As a result their voices necessary to create any true representation of the composition teaching experience are denied access to the scholarly conversations evaluating the soundness of the institutionalized teaching methods derived from the current traditional approach The United States Catalog ,1909
