Soviet Research On Crystal Channeling Of Charged Particle Beams:

Soviet Research on Crystal Channeling of Charged Particle Beams Simon Kassel, Rand Corporation, 1985 This report presents an overview of Soviet research in charged particle beam channeling in crystals from 1972 to the present and the resulting electromagnetic emission including Soviet proposals for channeling emission lasers in the x ray region of the spectrum It analyzes Soviet attitudes toward crystal channeling of charged particles as a subject of research describes performers of the research and indicates the level of effort involved It presents a brief history of crystal channeling research the differences between channeling and other kinds of electromagnetic radiation the definition of the main research issues and estimates of the potential capabilities of channeling radiation all based on the Soviet viewpoint It then describes Soviet proposals for laser systems utilizing the channeling radiation mechanism and analyzes Soviet experimental work involving the observation and measurement of channeling radiation The author concludes that the outstanding feature of Soviet research in this area is the optimistic belief of Soviet specialists in the technological potential of this research but finds that the role of the laser proposals in Soviet planning is ambiguous Scientific and Technical Aerospace Reports ,1986 involving the transfer of research institutes from other departments of the Academy the founding of new institutes and the planning of a complex network of research projects encompassing the Academy and the computer industry amounts to a major reorganization of the Academy of Sciences in the computer field This Note provides an assessment of this reorganization its probability of success in affecting the future progress of Soviet computer technology and its implications for the development of Soviet high technologies in general Among his conclusions the author finds that the weakness of Soviet computer technology is essentially an industrial problem and not a scientific one      Soviet Physics, Doklady ,1990
