Space Between Us Exploring The Dimensions Of Human Relationships:

The Space Between Us Ruthellen Josselson, 1996 Book on interpersonal relationships The Space Between Us Ruthellen Josselson, 1994 Becoming Adult Learners Eleanor Drago-Severson, 2004-07-25 This book offers a new and promising way to support adults in Adult Basic Education ABE and English for speakers of other languages ESOL programs specifically and learners in adult education in general Applying renowned Harvard University psychologist Robert Kegan's constructive development theory Drago Severson depicts an in depth investigation into how and why adults develop ways of knowing to better prepare them for their work in the 21st century This book provides practical suggestions for applying Kegan's theory in adult education classrooms to enable teachers curriculum developers program designers and policymakers to better respond to adult learners strengths and learning needs Couples Connecting Barbara Jo Brothers, 2013-11-05 Help clients grow into loving commitment Making and keeping commitments is more difficult today than ever About half of all marriages end in divorce and serial monogamy is not uncommon Couples Connecting Prerequisites of Intimacy identifies the cultural and personal attitudes that impede commitment and impair intimacy and it gives you the therapeutic tools to work with clients who don't know how to build a lasting love Couples Connecting examines why past theories of self actualization are now failing Because our culture emphasizes individualistic values people do not learn how to create and share bonds with others Therapists must become developmental partners for clients who need to overcome failures of maturation in order to have successful loving relationships with their partner This essential guide offers you practical techniques and case studies as well the theoretical underpinnings to deal with this crisis of intimacy Couples Connecting provides specific insightful studies on overcoming obstacles to genuine commitment including identifying patterns of anger in distressed and nondistressed couples ways to help engaged couples overcome the fear of following negative family patterns using family systems theory and psychodynamics to understand developmental issues in marriage suggestions for clinical practice with couples who fear intimacy implications of ten essential factors in intimacy Couples Connecting will help you design and use techniques to promote personal growth and bridge gaps between clients to help couples achieve satisfying and intimate relationships Negotiating the Nonnegotiable Daniel Shapiro, 2017-03-07 One of the most important books of our modern era Amb Jaime de Bourbon For anyone struggling with conflict this book can transform you Negotiating the Nonnegotiable takes you on a journey into the heart and soul of conflict providing unique insight into the emotional undercurrents that too often sweep us out to sea With vivid stories of his closed door sessions with warring political groups disputing businesspeople and families in crisis Daniel Shapiro presents a universally applicable method to successfully navigate conflict A deep provocative book to reflect on and wrestle with this book can change your life Be warned This book is not a quick fix Real change takes work You will learn how to master five emotional dynamics that can sabotage conflict outside your awareness 1 Vertigo How can you avoid getting emotionally consumed in conflict 2 Repetition compulsion How can you stop repeating the same conflicts again and again 3 Taboos How can you discuss sensitive issues at the heart of the conflict 4 Assault on the sacred What should you do if your values feel threatened 5 Identity politics What can you do if others use politics against you In our era of discontent this is just the book we need to resolve conflict in our own lives and in the world around us

Playing Pygmalion Ruthellen Josselson, 2007-06-01 Like Pygmalion with his Galatea we create the characters of people in our lives Although others appear to us to be who they just are there are complicated psychological processes outside of our awareness that lead us to experience people in ways that we ourselves construct Psychoanalytic theory offers a wealth of understanding of how people unconsciously create what they both need and dread But these processes are not well understood by most therapists Too often therapists join their patients in overlooking their own role in creating the relationships in their lives such that it seems that patients were simply unfortunate to have an un giving mother or to find an unloving spouse Because processes of creation in relationship are largely unconscious they are much harder to see As a result most theorists of relationships acknowledge that they exist but offer little language or explication for how they unfold or manifest themselves Playing Pygmalion is an effort to trace in psychological terms the subtle interplay by which people create the other This book adapts the psychoanalytic concepts of transitional object usage and projective identification to show their importance and applicability beyond the therapeutic situation to the understanding of people s relational lives Using examples from literature film and clinical work to illustrate the theory the book goes on to consider in depth the relationship narratives of four pairs of ordinary people to demonstrate how people unconsciously create one another The stories demonstrate that the other is always more than one conceives him or her to be Readers inevitably rethink some of their important relationships in terms of how they are creating people or being created by them This may lead them to take in other aspects of the person to see how they are looking very selectively at a human being who exists beyond their relationship These stories also provide cautionary tales to therapists who begin to believe in the simpl
