Palermo, Davide Ponzini, 2010-06-25 Urban planning is a complex field of knowledge and practice Through the decades theoretical debate has formed an eclectic set of possible perspectives without finding in our opinion a coherent paradigmatic framework which can adequately guide the interpretation and action in urban planning. The hypothesis of this book is that the attempts of founding an autonomous planning theory are inadequate if they do not explore two interconnected fields architecture and public policies The book critically reviews a selected set of current practices and theoretical founding works of modern and contemporary urban planning by highlighting the continuous search for the epistemic legitimization of a large variety of experiences. The distinctive contribution of this book is a documented critique to the eclecticism and abstraction of the main international trends in current planning theory. The dialogic relationship with the traditions of architecture and public policy is proposed here in order to critically review planning theory and practice. The outcome is the proposal of a paradigmatic framework that in the authors opinion can adequately guide reflections and actions A pragmatic and interpretative heritage and the project orientated approach are the basis of this new spatial planning paradigm Urban Geography in America, 1950-2000 Brian J.L Berry, James Wheeler, 2014-05-01 Urban Geography in America offers a comprehensive historiography of this major field Compiling the best essays from the flagship journal Urban Geography it shows the evolution of the field from the 1950s to 2000 as it shifted from data driven social science modeling in the 1960s to the more critical perspectives of the 1970s to postmodernism in the 1980s to feminism and globalization in the 1990s It covers all the major trends and figures and features some of the most important names in the field Ultimately this will be a necessary reference for all scholars in the field and all graduate students taking introductory courses and preparing for their comprehensive exams A Guide to Spatial History Konrad Lawson, Riccardo Bavaj, Bernhard Struck, 2022-01-07 This guide provides an overview of the thematic areas analytical aspects and avenues of research which together form a broader conversation around doing spatial history Spatial history is not a field with clearly delineated boundaries For the most part it lacks a distinct unambiguous scholarly identity It can only be thought of in relation to other typically more established fields Indeed one of the most valuable utilities of spatial history is its capacity to facilitate conversations across those fields Consequently it must be discussed in relation to a variety of historiographical contexts Each of these have their own intellectual genealogies institutional settings and conceptual path dependencies With this in mind this guide surveys the following areas territoriality infrastructure and borders nature environment and landscape city and home social space and political protest spaces of knowledge spatial imaginaries cartographic representations and historical GIS research

Colonial Architecture and Urbanism in Africa Fassil Demissie, 2012 Colonial architecture and urbanism carved its way through space ordering and classifying the built environment while projecting the authority of European powers across Africa in the name of science and progress The built urban fabric left by colonial powers attests to its lingering impacts in shaping the present and the future trajectory of postcolonial cities in Africa Colonial Architecture and Urbanism explores the intersection between architecture and urbanism as discursive cultural projects in Africa Like other colonial institutions such as the courts police prisons and schools that were crucial in establishing and maintaining political domination colonial architecture and urbanism played s pivotal role in shaping the spatial and social structures of African cities during the 19th and 20th centuries Indeed it is the cultural destination of colonial architecture and urbanism and the connection between them and colonialism that the volume seeks to critically address The contributions drawn from different interdisciplinary fields map the historical processes of colonial architecture and urbanism and bring into sharp focus the dynamic conditions in which colonial states officials architects planners medical doctors and missionaries mutually constructed a hierarchical and exclusionary built environment that served the wider colonial project in Africa The Urbanism of Exception Martin J. Murray, 2017-03-10 This book challenges the conventional modernist inspired understanding of urbanization as a universal process tied to the ideal typical model of the modern metropolis with its origins in the grand Western experience of city building At the start of the twenty first century the familiar idea of the city or urbanism as we know it has experienced such profound mutations in both structure and form that the customary epistemological categories and prevailing conceptual frameworks that predominate in conventional urban theory are no longer capable of explaining the evolving patterns of city making Global urbanism has increasingly taken shape as vast distended city regions where urbanizing landscapes are increasingly fragmented into discontinuous assemblages of enclosed enclaves characterized by global connectivity and concentrated wealth on the one side and distressed zones of neglect and impoverishment on the other These emergent patterns of what might be called enclave urbanism have gone hand in hand with the new modes of urban governance where the crystallization of privatized regulatory regimes has effectively shielded wealthy enclaves from public oversight and interference Handbook on Planning and Power Michael Gunder, Kristina Grange, Tanja Winkler, 2023-05-09 Drawing on research from diverse thinkers in urban planning and the built environment this Handbook articulates the cutting edge of contemporary understandings about power and its impact on planning It identifies the current state of knowledge about planning and power as well as emerging trajectories within this field of research Contesting Space in Colonial Singapore Brenda S. A. Yeoh, 2003 In the British colonial city of Singapore municipal authorities and Asian communities faced off over numerous issues As the city expanded various disputes concerning issues such as sanitation housing and street names arose This volume details these conflicts and how they shaped the city Colonizing, Decolonizing, and Globalizing Kolkata Siddhartha Sen, 2025-10-01 Colonizing Decolonizing and Globalizing Kolkata offers an extended analysis of the architecture and urban planning of Kolkata from the earliest days of colonialism through independence and on into the twenty first century all set in the larger context of Indian cities architecture and urban planning What Siddhartha Sen shows is the transformation of a colonial city into a Marxist one and ongoing attempts to further transform Kolkata into a global city Richly illustrated the book carefully situates architecture design and urban planning within Kolkata's political economy and social milieu Imperial cities Felix Driver, David Gilbert, 2017-03-01 Imperial cities explores the influence of imperialism in the landscapes of modern European cities including London Paris Rome Vienna Marseilles Glasgow and Seville Examines large scale architectural schemes and monuments including the Queen Victoria Memorial in London and the Vittoriano in Rome Focuses on imperial display throughout the city from spectacular exhibitions and ceremonies to more private displays of empire in suburban gardens Considers the changing cultural and political identities in the imperial city looking particularly at nationalism masculinity and anti imperialism Metropolis 2000 Thomas Angotti, 2018-05-30 Originally published in 1993 Metropolis 2000 analyses 20th century metropolitan development and planning under the economic and environmental conditions of the world's regions Attempts to achieve the physical integration of the city without economic equality have failed The book advances the principle of integrated diversity which emphasises linking neighbourhood planning with a broader vision of the planned metropolis and applies a political economy approach and argues for a new form of pro urban thinking The book argues that the basis for a humane approach to city planning is viewing the metropolis as a beneficial accompaniment to national independence equality and social progress Space for the Gulf Arang Keshavarzian, 2024-04-16 The Persian Gulf has long been a contested space an object of imperial ambitions national antagonisms and migratory dreams The roots of these contestations lie in the different ways the Gulf has been defined as a region both by those who live there and those beyond its shore Making Space for the Gulf reveals how capitalism empire building geopolitics and urbanism have each shaped understandings of the region over the last two centuries Here the Gulf comes into view as a created space encompassing dynamic social relations and competing interests Arang Keshavarzian writes a new history of the region that places Iran Iraq and the Arabian Peninsula together within global processes He connects moments more often treated as ruptures the discovery of oil the Iranian Revolution the rise and decline of British empire the emergence of American power and crafts a narrative populated by a diverse range of people migrants and ruling families pearl divers and star architects striking taxi drivers and dethroned rulers protectors of British India and stewards of globalized American universities Tacking across geographic scales Keshavarzian reveals how the Gulf has been globalized through transnational relations regionalized as a geopolitical category and cleaved along national divisions and social inequalities When understood as a process not an object the Persian Gulf reveals much about how regions and the world have been made in modern times Making Space for the Gulf offers a fresh understanding of this globally consequential place After Belonging Samir Pandya, 2022-12-26 This book breaks new ground in demystifying the relationship between architecture nationhood and other forms of collective identity. It attempts to extricate the oppressive ideology of national identity entrenched within the very idea of architecture Authors investigate themes such as cosmopolitanism diaspora geopolitics globalisation hybridity and race Certain chapters expose highly regulated environments which support cultural hegemony such as the context of a hostel for coloured colonial seamen in London the illusionary rhetoric of authenticity used to legitimise architectural conservation and the role of the mosque as mediator between a post war multi racial Britain and ideas of nationhood Others engage subjects at the urban scale including the phenomena of universities transcending their nation building roots to become agents of cosmopolitan urbanism and how the discursive context of a high profile yet unrealised modernist office block in the City of London sustained a culture of British faux nationalism Remaining chapters adopt a postcolonial lens with one examining how particular works of literary fiction reimagine notions of place within an emerging intercultural nation and another exploring the tense relationship between identitarian form and affective atmospheres to suggest the possibility of anti essentialist experiences of architecture Together these perspectives propose an alternative vision of the City where neither state sponsored identity politics nor right wing populism determine the cultural context within which architects design for our collective urban experience This book will be of interest to researchers and advanced students of Architecture Anthropology History Human Geography Politics Sociology and Urban Studies The chapters in this book except for chapter 1 were first published in the journal National Gated Luxury Condominiums in India Dhara Patel, 2024-06-17 Gated Luxury Condominiums in India A Socio Identities Spatial Arena for New Cosmopolitans critically examines gated luxury condominiums in contemporary India exploring their role in shaping elite power and identity within the framework of neoliberalism It delves into the spatial structure perception and post occupancy experience of these enclaves offering valuable insights into India s urban development This book convincingly elucidates the complex socio spatial transformations underway in India inviting readers to understand the depth and breadth of these changes particularly within the rapidly expanding middle and upper middle classes It adopts a robust multi disciplinary approach combining methodologies such as spatial ethnography threshold mapping qualitative interviews and discourse analysis Focused on the architectural typology of luxury condominiums the study serves as a lens for broader social transformations grounded in case studies from Mumbai and Pune Through a meticulous dissection of the lived experiences of various categories of users owners visitors and service staff the book unveils the complex socio spatial hierarchies perpetuated within these enclaves Drawing on theories of cosmopolitanism and postcolonial critiques the monograph makes a significant scholarly contribution to the disciplines of architecture and the built environment It fills a gap in the existing literature on modern domesticity in India offering original research that highlights how architecture is instrumental in socially divisive practices of elite formation It will appeal to scholars researchers and students across disciplines like architecture landscape design spatial sociology urban studies and area studies focusing on India and South Asia It is particularly compelling for those interested in the sociocultural dynamics of the middle class encompassing themes such as domesticity material culture and spatial politics within the context of Indian condominiums Global Modernities Mike Featherstone, Scott Lash, Roland Robertson, 1995 Global Modernities is a sustained commentary on the international character of the most microcosmic practices It demonstrates how the global increasingly informs the regional so deconstructing ideas like the nation state and national sovereignty. The spatialization of social theory hybridization and bio politics are among the critical issues discussed Basics Landscape Architecture 01: Urban Design Tim Waterman, Ed Wall, 2017-11-02 Basics Landscape Architecture 01 Urban Design seeks to define and describe the role played by landscape architecture in urban design an interdisciplinary practice that is concerned with defining the form of human settlements It provides a brief history and definition of urban design and the roles of the various professions involved Urban Design looks at the elements of urban form and the importance of contextual details from the scale of the city and its region to the importance of materials The text uses case studies to explore the philosophies and methodologies of urban design and to explain the importance of of urban design to landscape architecture and in turn the importance of landscape architecture to urban design Global Heritage Assemblages Christoph Rausch, 2016-11-25 UNESCO aims to tackle Africa s under representation on its World Heritage List by inscribing instances of nineteenth and twentieth century modern architecture and urban planning there But what is one to make of the utopias of progress and development for which these buildings and sites stand After all concern for modern heritage invariably and paradoxically it seems has to reckon with those utopias as problematic futures of the past a circumstance complicating intentions to preserve a recent culture of modernization on the African continent This book a new title in Routledge's Studies in Culture and Development series introduces the concept of global heritage assemblages to analyse that problem Based on extensive anthropological fieldwork it describes how various governmental intergovernmental and non governmental actors engage with colonial and post colonial built heritage found in Eritrea Tanzania Niger and the Republic of the Congo Rausch argues that the global heritage assemblages emerging from those examples produce problematizations of the modern which ultimately indicate a contemporary need to rescue modernity from its dominant conception as an all encompassing epochal and spatial culture Patrick Geddes and Town Plannina Noah Hysler-Rubin, 2013-12-16 Patrick Geddes is considered a forefather of the modern urban planning movement This book studies the various and even opposing ways in which Geddes has been interpreted up to this day providing a new reading of his life writing and plans Geddes scrutiny is presented as a case study for Town Planning as a whole Tying together for the first time key concepts in cultural geography and colonial urbanism the book proposes a more vigorous historiography exposing hidden narratives and past agendas still dominating the disciplinary discourse Written by a cultural geographer and a town planner this book offers a rounded full length analysis of Geddes vision and its material manifestation functioning also as a much needed critical tool to evaluate Modern Town Planning as an academic and practical discipline The book also includes a long overdue model of his urban theory
