The Forgotten Dimension:

The Forgotten Dimension David S. Garnett, 1975 Cultural Perspectives on Development Vincent Tucker, 1997 This collection of articles addresses the relationship between culture and political economy and the relationship between local and global processes Inalienable Possessions Annette B. Weiner, 1992-05-13 Inalienable Possessions tests anthropology's traditional assumptions about kinship, economics, power, and gender in an exciting challenge to accepted theories of reciprocity and marriage exchange. Focusing on Oceania societies from Polynesia to Papua New Guinea and including Australian Aborigine groups, Annette Weiner investigates the category of possessions that must not be given or if they are circulated must return finally to the giver. Reciprocity, she says, is only the superficial aspect of exchange which overlays much more politically powerful strategies of keeping while giving. The idea of keeping while giving places women at the heart of the political process, however much that process may vary in different societies for women possess a wealth of their own that gives them power. Power is intimately involved in cultural reproduction and Weiner describes the location of power in each society showing how the degree of control over the production and distribution of cloth wealth coincides with women's rank and the development of hierarchy in the community. Other inalienable possessions, whether material objects, landed property, ancestral myths, or sacred knowledge, bestow social identity and rank as well. Calling attention to their presence in Western history, Weiner points out that her formulations are not limited to Oceania. The paradox of keeping while giving is a concept certain to influence future developments in ethnography and the theoretical study of gender and exchange The Domestic Bases of Grand Strategy Richard N. Rosecrance, Arthur A. Stein, 1993 This book explores the idea of grand strategy and offers a full-blown critique, both theoretical and empirical, of the gaps and inconsistencies that weaken modern realist theory. Grand strategy, the authors maintain, is determined as much by domestic politics as by international pressures.

Land Use D. R. Denman, S. Prodan, 2023-07-26 Originally published in 1972, this work shed new light on the study of land use. The key to the analysis was the proprietary land unit within which all positive decisions touching land use are made. The analysis has a universal relevance, irrespective of social order, economic philosophy, and judicial systems. The work will be of interest to lawyers, economists, agriculturalists, town and country planners, and those in central and local government Your Church in Rhythm Bruce B. Miller, 2011-01-13 A gentle new way for church leaders to survive stress and burnout. Bruce Miller debunks the idea of balance, basically trying to have it all all the time. Most churches and their pastors try to do everything at once and feel guilty if any one aspect, worship, ministries, outreach, etc. is neglected. He replaces the exhausting concept of balance with the idea of rhythm: churches like people need to give attention to different programs and ministries at different times, basically by attending to their seasons and cycles. Offers an innovative new model for church leaders. Miller has been influential in the formation and promotion of Church Based Training as an international movement. Offers a proven method for avoiding burnout for church leaders and members by doing the right things at the right time. The author offers much need help to overwhelmed leaders and shows them how to apply Miller s seasonal cyclical approach to church life
