Sustainable Peace in the Twenty-First Century Dilip Vasudeo Kulkarni, 2017-02-01 Why haven't we been successful in finding sustainable solutions is a question that this book attempts to address This book questions the appropriateness of current approaches to international conflict mediation peacebuilding and whether today's practitioners have the necessary patience passion and training to manage twenty-first century conflicts This book also examines whether the current approaches to the mediation of international conflict and peacebuilding as well as the education in these fields effectively consider the influence of the post Cold War environment and whether they address sub-national conflicts caused by the continually increasing social inequality within societies among parties with different cultural religious racial ethnic and linguistic backgrounds The narratives of the lived experiences of this book's contributors are used to illustrate the challenges associated with achieving sustained global peace in the twenty-first century Using the author's conversations with the contributors to the book as well as educators this book suggests that a universally adopted answer to the book's underlying question has not yet been established Therefore the objective of this book is to start a public conversation about reforming the current education and practices used in the mediation of international conflicts and peacebuilding The author hopes that these reforms will enable practitioners in integrating the message of the youth uprisings across the globe in finding sustainable resolutions to social inequality based conflicts within their societies and among countries across the globe As all of the citizens of the world continue to live in the midst of conflicts erupting across the globe this book brings to the surface the urgent and acute need for finding better approaches to address this century s social inequality based conflicts This book seeks to bring hope and to energize individuals with different cultural religious ethnic racial and linguistic backgrounds as well as individuals with different professional and personal lived experiences to collaboratively work together to achieve sustainable global peace The author hopes that this book will foster among students educators and practitioners a better understanding of international conflict mediators approaches for accommodating the inter relationship between culture and the mediation of international conflicts

Political Economy of Civil War and UN Peace Operations Mats Berdal, Jake Sherman, 2023-03-31 This book examines the operational and political challenges facing UN peace operations deployed in countries where civil war and protracted violence have given rise to the complex and distinctive political economies of conflict The volume explores the nature and impact of such political economies informal systems of power and influence formed by the interaction of local national and region wide war economies with the political agendas of conflict actors on the course of UN peace operations It focuses in detail on the UN s long running peace operations in the Democratic Republic of Congo South Sudan Afghanistan Sierra Leone Mali and Somalia The book is centrally concerned with the interaction of UN missions with the power structures and local conflict dynamics that shape individual mission settings and the challenges these pose for mediation protection of civilians and other tasks It also offers a critical assessment of the various ways in which the UN system from its headquarters in New York to the field has confronted the policy challenges posed by political economies of conflict affected states societies and regions It advances a pragmatic set of policy recommendations aimed at improving the UN s ability to confront predatory and exploitative war economies At the same time the volume makes it clear that political and institutional obstacles to more effective UN action are certain to remain profound and are unlikely ever to be fully overcome let alone eradicated Despite making some progress since the 1990s to better understand the political economy of civil wars the UN has struggled with how to tackle informal networks of power and their consequences for efforts to end wars The book will be of special interest to students of war and conflict studies statebuilding political economy of conflict UN interventionism and peacebuilding and IR Security in general      West Africa's Trouble Spots and the Imperative for Peace-Building Osita Agbu, 2006 This monograph highlights the necessity for taking preventive measures in the form of peace building as a sustainable and long term solution to conflicts in West Africa with a special focus on the Mano River Union countries Apart from the Mano River Union countries efforts at resolving other conflicts in say Guinea Bissau Senegal Cote d'Ivoire and Nigeria have suffered from a lack of attention on the post conflict imperatives of building peace in order to ensure that sustainable peace is achieved Given the often intractable and inter related nature of conflicts in this region it argues for the need to revisit the existing mechanisms of conflict resolution in the sub region with a view to canvassing a stronger case for stakeholders towards adopting the peace building strategy as a more practical and sustainable way of avoiding wars in the sub region Peace building in consonance with its infrastructure is a more sustainable approach to ensuring regional peace and stability and therefore ensuring development for the peoples of West Africa Dr Osita Agbu is currently a Senior Research Fellow at the Nigerian Institute of International Affairs Lagos His areas of specialization include Peace and Conflict studies Governance and Democratization and Technology and Development He was until recently a Visiting Research Fellow at the Institute of Developing Economies Chiba Japan      Peace Watch , 1994
