The Guide To Simulation games For Education And Training Vol 2:

The Guide to Simulations/games for Education and Training Robert E. Horn, 1977 Handbook of Intercultural Training Dan Landis, Richard W. Brislin, 2013-09-17

Handbook of Intercultural Training Volume I Issues in Theory and Design is a compilation of nine essays dealing with a problem central to today's complex world. How can people best live and work with others who come from very different cultural backgrounds? The major focus of the nine essays in this book is the experience of living and working for long periods in other cultures. The book also focuses on other types of cross-cultural experiences such as majority-minority group relations, training and preparation, and integration. There are analyses of possible experiences people may have such as stress during adjustments. Other authors in this book address the benefits of intercultural action and integration into a country's educational system. International education is seen to benefit through a greater attention to face-to-face cross-cultural experience. The first seven essays are good descriptions of intercultural behavior and training, while Chapter 8 is an evaluation of cross-cultural training. The last chapter describes the atlas of affective meanings containing 620 concepts from 30 languages, culture communities for use in intercultural training and education. Behavioral and social scientists, trainers, and cross-cultural scientists, overseas businessmen, foreign students, diplomats, immigrants, and other people who work in different cultures will find this handbook very helpful.

Cases on Digital Game-Based Learning: Methods, Models, and Strategies Baek, Youngkyun, Whitton, Nicola, 2013-01-31

In K-12 classrooms as well as on the college and university level, the incorporation of digital games has played a vital role in the educational system. While introducing teachers to new fields, these digital games have been designed and implemented for the classroom and have shown positive results at a variety of educational levels. Cases on Digital Game-Based Learning: Methods, Models, and Strategies analyzes the implementation of digital game applications for learning as well as addressing the challenges and pitfalls experienced. Providing strategies, advice, and examples on adopting games into teaching, this collection of case studies is essential for teachers and instructors at various school levels, in addition to researchers in game-based learning and pedagogic innovation.

Learning, Problem Solving, and Mindtools J. Michael Spector, Barbara B. Lockee, Sharon Smaldino, Mary Herring, 2013-04-12

Learning, Problem Solving, and Mindtools is inspired by the substantial body of learning research by David H. Jonassen in the areas of mind tools and problem solving. The focus of the volume is on educational technology, especially with regard to how new technologies have facilitated and supported problem solving and critical thinking. Each chapter focuses on a particular aspect of learning with technology and elaborates the implications for the design and implementation of learning environments and activities aimed at improving the conceptualization of problems, reasoning, and higher-order thinking and solving challenging problems. This collection of scholarly essays provides a highly engaging treatment of using tools and technologies to improve problem solving, multiple perspectives on integrating educational technology to support learning in complex and challenging problem-solving domains, guidance for the design of

Hounshell, Ira R. Trollinger, 1977 The SAGE Handbook of Conflict Resolution Jacob

Bercovitch, Victor Kremenjuk, I William Zartman, 2008-12-03 The SAGE Handbook of Conflict Resolution demonstrates the range of themes that constitute modern conflict resolution. It brings out its key issues, methods, and dilemmas through original contributions by leading scholars in a dynamic and expanding field of inquiry. This handbook is exactly what it sets out to be: an indispensable tool for teaching research and practice in conflict resolution. Peter Wallensteen, Professor of Peace and Conflict Research, Uppsala University and University of Notre Dame; Bercovitch, Kremenjuk, and Zartman are among the most important figures in the conflict resolution field. They have pieced together, with the help of more than 35 colleagues from numerous countries, a state-of-the-art review of the sources of international conflict, available methods of conflict management, and the most difficult challenges facing the individuals and organizations trying to guide us through these conflict-ridden times. The collection is brimming with penetrating insights, trenchant analyses, compelling cases, and disciplined speculation. They help us understand both the promise of as well as the obstacles to theory building in the new field of conflict resolution. Lawrence Susskind, Professor and Director of the MIT Harvard Public Disputes Program. The last three sentences of this persuasive book: We conclude this volume more than ever convinced that conflict resolution is not just possible or desirable in the current international environment. It is absolutely necessary. Resolving conflicts and making peace is no longer an option; it is an intellectual and practical skill that we must all possess. If you are part of that, we intellectually or professionally, you will find this book a superb companion. Thomas C. Schelling, Professor Emeritus, Harvard University and University of Maryland. Conflict resolution is one of the fastest growing academic fields in the world today. Although it is a relatively young discipline having emerged as a specialized field in the 1950s, it has rapidly grown into a self-contained, vibrant interdisciplinary field. The SAGE Handbook of Conflict Resolution brings together all the conceptual, methodological, and substantive elements of conflict resolution into one volume of over 35 specially commissioned chapters. The Handbook is designed to reflect where the field is today by drawing on the contributions of experts from different fields, presenting in a systematic way the most recent research and practice. Jacob Bercovitch is Professor of International Relations and Fellow of the Royal Society at the University of Canterbury in Christchurch, New Zealand. Victor Kremenjuk is deputy director of the Institute for USA and Canada Studies, Russian Academy of Sciences, Moscow. He is also a research associate at IIASA. I William Zartman is Jacob Blaustein Professor of Conflict Resolution and International Organization at the Nitze School of Advanced International Studies of Johns Hopkins University.
