The Evolution of Cognition Cecilia M. Heyes, Ludwig Huber, 2000 In the last decade evolutionary psychology has come to refer exclusively to research on human mentality and behavior motivated by a nativist interpretation of how evolution operates This book encompasses the behavior and mentality of nonhuman as well as human animals and a full range of evolutionary approaches Rather than a collection by and for the like minded it is a debate about how evolutionary processes have shaped cognition The debate is divided into five sections Orientations on the phylogenetic ecological and psychological comparative approaches to the evolution of cognition Categorization on how various animals parse their environments how they represent objects and events and the relations among them Causality on whether and in what ways nonhuman animals represent cause and effect relationships Consciousness on whether it makes sense to talk about the evolution of consciousness and whether the phenomenon can be investigated empirically in nonhuman animals and Culture on the cognitive requirements for nongenetic transmission of information and the evolutionary consequences of such cultural exchange Contributors Bernard Balleine Patrick Bateson Michael J Beran M E Bitterman Robert Boyd Nicola Clayton Juan Delius Anthony Dickinson Robin Dunbar D P Griffiths Bernd Heinrich Cecilia Heyes William A Hillix Ludwig Huber Nicholas Humphrey Masako Jitsumori Louis Lefebvre Nicholas Mackintosh Euan M Macphail Peter Richerson Duane M Rumbaugh Sara Shettleworth Martina Siemann Kim Sterelny Michael Tomasello Laura Weiser Alexandra Wells Carolyn Wilczynski David Sloan Wilson

Mammalian Social Learning Hilary O. Box, Kathleen R. Gibson, 1999-10-07 Social learning commonly refers to the social transfer of information and skill among individuals It encompasses a wide range of behaviours that include where and how to obtain food how to interact with members of one's own social group and to identify and respond appropriately to predators The behaviour of experienced individuals provides natural sources of information by which inexperienced individuals may learn about the opportunities and hazards of their environment and develop and modify their own behaviour as a result A wide diversity of species is discussed in this book some of which have never been discussed in this context before and particular reference is made to their natural life strategies Social learning in humans is also considered by comparison with other mammals especially in their technological and craft traditions Moreover a discussion is included of the social learning abilities of prehistoric hominids
