

Suicide and Society: Crash Course Sociology #5

1. The Emile Durkheim sociologist focuses on why social biology and individual aren't the human body. He actually thought our society are a collective organism, made up of all several parts, which all have its functions work together to make for that organism to be healthy.

a. Why does Durkheim suggest the article Durkheim says that there is the Social as much as we're that our own individual "mindset" is unhealthy?

- Thinking about things that are not healthy, particularly how things are going in the social organization or the society

b. In his book, "Studies of the Sociological Mind", Durkheim defines social facts as "something or someone that acting, thinking, and feeling external individual, which is not determined by individual part but rather they determine social facts."

- Social facts are general and concrete and they come from the things that people can see like. Social facts also affect a certain group of people or social relations.

c. What is the collective consciousness?

- The collection of all the beliefs, ideas, and ideas that are shared in a group of people

d. For this article, why is it an important, then different need for thought as a disease?

- For Durkheim, social relations are something that shapes the way that how thinking works

e. Why did Durkheim believe about the reason for suicide was the change more like a change?

- That there were individual conscious change

- Durkheim's solution was to change social support systems

The Dying Experience Samuel H. LiPuma, Joseph P. DeMarco, 2019-03-27 This vitally important book attempts to move beyond the current death denying culture The use of euphemistic and defiant phrases when dealing with terminal disease such as She lost her battle with cancer was more appropriate when medical doctors could do little to prolong life But treatments and technologies have significantly changed Now life prolonging interventions have outpaced our willingness to use medical intervention to secure patient control over death and dying We now face a new question When is it morally appropriate for medical intervention to hasten the dying process LiPuma and DeMarco answer by endorsing expanded options for dying patients Unwanted aggressive treatment regimens and protocols which reject hastening death should be replaced by a patient s moral right in carefully defined circumstances to hasten death by means of medical intervention Expanded options range from patient directed continuous sedation without hydration to physician assisted suicide for those with progressive degenerative disorders such as Alzheimer s The authors overriding goal is to humanize the dying process by expanding patient centered autonomous control
