On the back of the jacket, there is a white, diamond-shaped patch with the words "Lost Americana" printed in a bold, black, serif font. major Canadian cities appeared to have topped out new housing isn't coming onto the market quickly enough. Higher interest rates have only tightened the pressure on buyers and renters too as rising mortgage rates cost landlords more which are passed along to tenants in rent increases. Even with recent federal budget commitments to bring more housing online by 2030 there will still be a shortfall of 3.5 million homes by then. Gregor Craigie is a CBC journalist in Victoria one of the highest priced housing markets in the country. On his daily radio show On The Island he's been talking for over 17 years to local experts and to those across the country about housing. Craigie has travelled to many of the places he profiles in the book and in his interviews with Canadians he presents the human face of the shortfall as he speaks with renters, owners and homeless people exploring their varying predicaments and perspectives. He then shows through comparable profiles of people across the globe how other North American and international jurisdictions Tokyo, Paris, Berlin, Helsinki, Singapore, Ireland to name a few are housing their citizens better, faster and with determination solutions that could be put into practice here. With passion, knowledge and vigour Craigie explains how Canada reached this critical impasse and will convince those who may not yet recognize how badly our entire country is in need of change. Our Crumbling Foundation provides hope for finding our way out of the crisis by recommending a number of approaches at all levels of government. The prescription for how we're going to house ourselves and do so equitably requires not just a business solution nor simply a social solution but rather a combination of both working hand in hand with all levels of government and quickly in order to catch up with and outpace the needs of Canadians in this ever intensifying crisis over a basic human right.

Pension Ponzi Bill Tufts, Lee Fairbanks, 2011-01-25. The vast majority of Canadians are blissfully unaware that every man, woman and child in Canada now owes a $35,000 share of government debt and must pay this back with interest. Make no mistake this debt will change our country and affect every single Canadian in the decades to come You may think you have planned for your retirement and are safe but the government must find a way to recover this borrowed money and they can only do that by raising your taxes and reducing your hard earned benefits How did this debt come about and why can't we simply pay it off Pension Ponzi lays the blame squarely at the feet of the politicians who refused to stand up to Canada's public sector unions The fact is Canada's public sector which accounts for 20% of the workforce has been grossly overpaid relative to their counterparts in the private sector with cushy pensions paid for with your taxes and new debt There is no denying that the country does not have the financial resources to ensure that the next generation of Canadians will have the same standard of living as the ones before it or to support our growing seniors population Meeting our public sector pension obligations will break the current social safety net that is a pillar of the Canadian way Can you escape this bleak future Can you afford to live longer Nationally recognized pension expert Bill Tufts and award winning journalist Lee Fairbanks explore how this catastrophe came about and then suggest ways that government can fix what's broken and how you as an individual can protect yourself from the financial calamity that is about to engulf Canada

Course Correction Paul W. Gooch, 2019-03-01 Course Correction engages in deliberation about what the twenty first century university needs to do in order to re-find its focus as a protected place for unfettered commitment to knowledge not just as a space for creating employment or economic prosperity The university's business Paul W Gooch writes is to generate and critique knowledge claims and to transmit and certify the acquisition of knowledge In order to achieve this a university must have a reputation for integrity and trustworthiness and this in turn requires a diligent and respectful level of autonomy from state religion and other powerful influences It also requires embracing the challenges of academic freedom and the effective governance of an academic community Course Correction raises three important questions about the twenty first century university In discussing the dominant attention to student experience the book asks Is it now all about students Secondly in questioning What knowledge should undergraduates gain it provides a critique of undergraduate experience advocating a Socratic approach to education as interrogative conversation Finally by asking What and where are well placed universities the book makes the case against placeless education offered in the digital world in favour of education that takes account of its place in time and space
