The Silent Readers William Dodge Lewis, Albert Lindsay Rowland, 1922 No Right to Remain Silent Lucinda Roy, 2010-03-30 The world watched in horror in April 2007 when Virginia Tech student Seung Hui Cho went on a killing rampage that resulted in the deaths of thirty two students and faculty members before he ended his own life Former Virginia Tech English department chair and distinguished professor Lucinda Roy saw the tragedy unfold on the TV screen in her home and had a terrible realization Cho was the student she had struggled to get to know the loner who found speech torturous After he had been formally asked to leave a poetry class in which he had shared incendiary work that seemed directed at his classmates and teacher Roy began the difficult task of working one on one with him in a poetry tutorial During those months a year and a half before the massacre Roy came to realize that Cho was more than just a disgruntled young adult experimenting with poetic license he was in her opinion seriously depressed and in urgent need of intervention But when Roy approached campus counseling as well as others in the university about Cho she was repeatedly told that they could not intervene unless a student sought counseling voluntarily Eventually Roy's efforts to persuade Cho to seek help worked Unbelievably on the three occasions he contacted the counseling center staff he did not receive a comprehensive evaluation by them a startling discovery Roy learned about after Cho's death More revelations were to follow After responding to questions from the media and handing over information to law enforcement as instructed by Virginia Tech Roy was shunned by the administration Papers documenting Cho's interactions with campus counseling were lost The university was suddenly on the defensive Was the university in fact partially responsible for the tragedy because of the bureaucratic red tape involved in obtaining assistance for students with mental illness or was it just like many colleges woefully underfunded and therefore underequipped to respond to such cases Who was Seung Hui Cho Was he fully protected under the constitutional right to freedom of speech or did his writing and behavior present serious potential threats that should have resulted in immediate intervention How can we balance students individual freedom with the need to protect the community These are the questions that have haunted Roy since that terrible day No Right to Remain Silent is one teacher's cri de coeur her dire warning that given the same situation today two years later the ending would be no less terrifying and no less tragic

Shannach- The Last Leigh Brackett,2011-06-10 An Earthman on Mercury stumbles into a long lost colony in a hidden air filled valley ruled by harsh Sunstone wielding hawk controlling lords and of course an alien overlord behind them

THE SON OF SILENCE: SHE WATCHED THE WORLD BURN, AND STILL CHOSE TO GIVE BIRTH. Eros

Jaideven,2025-05-30 She watched the world burn and still chose to give birth This is not a book about faith This is a book about what comes after the faith breaks About what s left when prayers fade into silence and silence answers back The Son of Silence revisits an ancient story through a radically human lens You think you know the tale You ve heard it before in temples in whispers in dusty pages written by men But this time it s the silence that speaks This is the journey of a woman silenced by history A man torn between divine expectation and human emotion A love that shouldn t exist yet grows in the shadows of trauma and prophecy In this version saints are not untouchable Angels don t always come with wings And demons often wear the face in the mirror You ll meet characters who bleed who doubt who ache for a peace that never comes You ll walk through pages that echo with ancestral wounds forbidden desire and sacred contradictions There is romance here raw broken beautiful There is drama not made of miracles but of the cost they leave behind And there is emotion pulsing in every word every choice every silence Each chapter peels a layer of myth to reveal the skin underneath The tenderness of rebellion The softness inside the scream The moment a mother decides to hold her child even when she knows the world is unworthy This book does not promise answers It won t make you feel safe But it will make you feel Because before there were gods prophets or wars There was a woman And her silence And a son who came from both This is The Son of Silence And if you think you know the story you haven t heard it like this      The Ninth Stone Kylie Fitzpatrick,2008-12-19 A jewel thief is on the loose in old London town and is murdering his victims Sarah O Reilly who works as a typesetter in a newspaper office becomes embroiled in the mystery that will eventually lead to India and a jewel with terrifying and occult powers Amen Corner London 1864 Orphan Sarah O Reilly has disguised herself as a boy so that she can work in the offices of Septimus Harding s newspaper the London Mercury She meets Lily Korechnya a wealthy widow who writes a column for the paper under a pseudonym Lily has been enlisted by Lady Cynthia Herbert to help catalogue her magnificent jewel collection She is especially struck by several large gems that belong to the Maharaja of Benares which Lady Herbert has promised to have made into a special charm The gems include a fiery red diamond that seems to exert an unsettling influence over anyone who touches it Then two gruesome murders take place first a customs officer at the docks and next a jeweller in Hatton Gardens both of whom were strangled in an unusual distinct way A local simpleton Holy Joe is blamed for the murders but neither Lily or Sara are convinced the police have the right man The trail of the missing gems leads them back to India to ghosts and the dangerous cult of the destroyer goddess Kali      Silent Partners in Multicultural Education Tuija

Itkonen,Fred Dervin,2017-02-01 This volume aims to stimulate interest in the under researched role of silent partners SPs in multicultural education Silent partners include formal and informal places spaces in schools e g architecture classroom facilities libraries corridors playgrounds canteens objects e g teaching aids furniture wall decorations and overall interior design interactive technologies use of devices and applications but also often taken for granted and not immediately visible patterns of thought ideologies and assumptions People involved in education all engage and work with a number of SPs that contribute to the delivery of curricula but also to social life and well being in and out of schools The way places spaces objects and technologies influence the school community s experiences of learning well being and social justice is rarely observed and problematised in education hence the adjective silent in the term silent partners This book not only fills a significant empirical gap but it can also inject public debate over future working environments in schools for multicultural education It will be relevant to both researchers interested in developing their knowledge on these issues from a different perspective but also educators in search of inspiration for multicultural education Praise for Silent Partners in Multicultural Education How to organize your classroom s configuration in such a manner that all pupils feel welcome and comfortable While most of those invested in multicultural education focus on the optimization of various linguistic aspects Itkonen Dervin and their colleagues give voice to the non verbal aspects of education In this book they elaborate how formal and informal places spaces in schools can unintentionally reflect ideologies and cultural assumptions They illustrate this perspective with telling examples that come from what is widely perceived as one of the best educational systems in the world This book is an important innovative contribution to the question of inclusion of all pupils in our school systems It provides an eye opening perspective to researchers in the field teachers principals and stakeholders willing to work for social justice in their schools Emmanuelle Le Pichon Vorstman Researcher and Assistant Professor Languages Literature and Communication Department Utrecht Institute of Linguistics Congratulations are in order for this ground breaking and significant book As the editors and authors convey convincingly and often poignantly multicultural education is an increasingly politicised phenomenon that needs all the friends and allies that it can garner The book s coverage of silent partners in education objects and technologies operating in specific places and spaces is therefore timely Yet as the book also highlights these silent partners can exert negative power as well as positive influence on educational outcomes The book presents a compelling account of the fundamental ambivalence framing these partners and formal educational provision more broadly Rendering these silent educational partners visible and open to scrutiny is a significant scholarly achievement by the Education for Diversities Research Group in the Department of Teacher Education at the University of Helsinki Finland building on their well deserved reputation for exploring the implicit and tacit and yet impactful dimensions of intercultural education and understanding The book is appropriately diverse and inclusive in its concerns with attention being directed at education in Finland France and the United States Likewise the coverage traverses international and national schools higher education teacher education and productive methodologies for researching silent partners This innovative and thought provoking volume is highly recommended for its originality in helping us to see education for diversities in a new and powerful light Patrick Alan Danaher Professor in Educational Research in the School of Linguistics Adult and Specialist Education Associate Dean Research and Research Training in the Faculty of Business Education Law and Arts Toowoomba campus of the University of Southern Queensland Australia Adjunct Professor in the School of Education and the Arts Central Queensland University

Australia Silent partners do not only reflect the ways we conceive of education but they also influence our practices as educators Being silent they are often taken for granted The strength of this book lies in its critical questioning of the notion of silent partners The chapters enlighten about the untold and the effects they have in an educational environment The readers especially in the fields of education and social justice will definitely acquire a more sensitive perception of how silent partners affect our approaches to multicultural education Dr Regis Machart Senior Lecturer Universiti Putra Malaysia Adjunct Professor University of Helsinki Finland     The Novels and Romances of Sir Edward Bulwer Lytton, Bart., M.P.
