

Type Ia supernovae

- Type Ia supernovae are brilliant stellar explosions that occur when a white dwarf star acquires too much mass from a companion star, exceeding the Chandrasekhar limit
- This leads to a runaway nuclear reaction that completely destroys the white dwarf
- Type Ia supernovae serve as important 'standard candles' for measuring cosmic distances because of their consistent luminosity
- Their observations have been crucial in discovering the accelerating expansion of the universe

Practical example: Astronomy

- Type Ia supernovae occur when a white dwarf star acquires enough mass from a companion star to reach a critical limit and undergoes a catastrophic explosion
- This astronomical event is important in the field of astronomy as it helps measure distances in space due to their consistent luminosity
- Observing these supernovae has led to the discovery of the accelerating expansion of the universe, providing key insights into dark energy
- Type Ia supernovae serve as 'standard candles' for astronomers to map the cosmos
