Nice Try Richard E. Baldwin, 2001 EU member nations must decide whether to ratify the Nice Treaty This report written to inform these decisions is highly critical of the Treaty but argues that it should be passed since it is repairable and rejecting it would delay Eastern enlargement It proposes two emergency repairs to the Treaty The authors marshal the best available empirical evidence and analytic techniques to show that the Treaty fails to meet its goal of adjusting EU decision making to the realities of a Union with 27 members Far from maintaining the EU's ability to act after enlargement the authors argue that the Nice reforms reduce EU27 decision making efficiency below what it would have been with no reform Unless the Treaty is mended future integration will be guided by intergovernmental initiatives in which large members play a large role due to their economic dominance The Treaty also fails to resolve the ECB's numbers problem enlargement without reform would also damage the ECB's decision making capacity The Treaty does include an enabling clause to help solve this problem the report analyses the possible solutions and proposes specific reforms

Europe between East and South Siro Lombardini, Pier Carlo Padoan, 2012-12-06 At the end of 1991 the Fondazione Eni Enrico Mattei hosted the Integration Symposium of the Confederation of European Associations of Economists on Europe between East and South This volume brings together the selected and edited proceedings of the conference The focus of the book is the transformation of the formerly planned economies in Eastern and Central Europe from an international perspective The opening up of the Eastern bloc adds a new and extremely challenging dimension to the relationship between the more and the less developed economies Almost all developing countries implemented liberalisation policies throughout the Eighties thereby dramatically increasing the market orientation of their economies The recipes used in the South are also being applied virtually unmodified in Eastern Europe The symposium was one of the first forays comparing the two sets of experiences showing that the lessons from the South are of great value for Eastern European reforms Reforms in Eastern European countries equally affect economic flows between Europe and developing countries and create new challenges for

European countries themselves Eastern Europe is an enclave of cheap and relatively skilled labour thus a dramatic competitive threat for other developing countries and poorer EC regions Furthermore the strategic relevance of this area for the western world is likely to cause a diversion of public resources previously earmarked for the development of southern economies All these issues could have tremendous consequences for the environment Macroeconomic Problems of Transformation Hansjörg Herr,Silke Tober,Andreas Westphal,1994 In Macroeconomic Problems of Transformation a distinguished group of economists examines the cause of the dramatic output collapse in the transforming economies of Eastern Europe and formulates policies to promote economic recovery Drawing on scholarship from East and West this book features discussion of such important aspects of the transformation process as the role of monetary policy fiscal crises exchange rate policies and privatization In particular several authors stress the importance of dealing with the distortions still existing in financial sectors and argue that export led growth may be a potential driving force of accumulation in the economies currently in transition The causes and consequences of the current fiscal crises are analysed as are the processes of wage formation and privatization in each case combining theoretical insight with empirical findings from the transforming economies Later papers make comparisons with the reconstruction after the Second World War discuss the effects of different exchange rate policies and consider the role of Western economies in promoting growth in Central and Eastern Europe European Union Enlargement Conditionality Eli Gateva,2016-04-29 The book provides the first comprehensive comparative analysis of the development of EU enlargement conditionality across four different enlargement waves the first 2004 and the second 2007 phase of the Eastern enlargement the EU enlargement to Croatia 2013 and the ongoing enlargement round involving Turkey and the Western Balkans
