Burrowes,2015-10-26 Because of the way in which the history of nonviolence has been marginalized relatively few people have a sense of the rich history of nonviolent struggle or realize that it can be systematically planned and applied Nevertheless the historical record illustrates that nonviolent struggle is a powerful form of political action But can it be effective against military aggression The Strategy of Nonviolent Defense answers this question in the affirmative by first defining the notion of social cosmology the four mutually reinforcing features that determine the character of any society It then devotes attention to strategies for dealing with conflict in particular to developing a strategic theory and framework for planning a strategy of nonviolent defense In order to develop this theory Burrowes synthesizes insights drawn from the strategic theory of Carl von Clausewitz the nonviolence of Mahatma Gandhi and recent human needs and conflict theory Johan Galtung Johan Galtung,Dietrich Fischer,2013-05-29 This is the first ever anthology of key articles by Johan Galtung widely regarded as the founder of the academic discipline of peace studies It covers such concepts as direct structural and cultural violence theories of conflict development civilization and peace peaceful conflict transformation peace education mediation reconciliation a life sustaining economy macro history deep culture and deep structure and social science methodology Galtung has contributed original research concepts and theories to more than 20 social science disciplines including sociology international relations and future studies and has also applied his new insights in practice The book is a valuable resource for researchers and practitioners and can serve as a supplemental textbook for graduate and upper undergraduate courses in peace studies and related fields The Peacemakers Hugh Miall, 2016-07-27 The UN Charter commits member states to settle their disputes by peaceful means but despite this there have been only 26 days since 1945 in which armed conflict has not been underway Nevertheless many conflicts have been settled without war since 1945 Drawing on case studies interviews with mediators contemporary theories of conflict resolution and a comparative analysis of over eighty peaceful and armed conflicts this book asks what can be learned from this historical experience Nationalism and Intra-State Conflicts in the Postcolonial World Fonkem Achankeng, 2015-09-28 This book highlights the complexities of nationalism and the struggles of different groups left unaddressed within the nation states of a postcolonial world The central question is what happened to the worldly and radical visions of freedom liberty and equality that animated intellectual activists and policy makers from Woodrow Wilson in the 1920s This book analyzes the outcome of lumping disparate groups of people together under one nation state and holding them together against the knowledge of the incompatibility theory of plural states In a world of arbitrarily and colonially mapped sovereign states groups and nations with distinctive histories and cultures trapped within the borders of sovereign states want the freedom to decide their own destinies This book challenges deconstructs and decolonizes Western epistemologies related to postcolonial state formation and maintenance In examining the freedom concept that no human group ought to be determining the independence of other human groups this book constructs an alternative conceptualization of nations and peoples rights in the twenty first century in which radical hopes and global dreams are recognized as central to internal nationalism struggles Sociology of Peace and Nonviolence Rakesh Raman Jha, 2003 Mahatma Gandhi and Dalai Lama have been the two exponents of peace and nonviolence The concepts and the methods of peace and nonviolence of both the thinkers and freedom fighters are quite relevant to the contemporary World in resolving the conflicts prevalent at social national as well as international levels The present study has been a humble attempt to understand and analyze the concepts and theories of peace and nonviolence and their application to resolve conflicts peacefully and amicably This study also examines the basic contention of the then Nobel Committee for Peace in 1989 to compare the Dalai Lama with his merntor Mahatma Gandhi for his forward looking proposals to solve the problems between the Chinese state and the Tibetan people without resorting to violent means Peacemaking Susan Allen Nan, Zachariah

Track Two Diplomacy in Theory and Practice Peter Jones, 2015-09-02 Jones provides a nuanced perspective on both the promise and limits of this unheralded form of unofficial diplomacy Stephen J Del Rosso Director International Peace and Security Carnegie Corporation of New York Track Two diplomacy consists of informal dialogues among actors such as academics religious leaders retired senior officials and NGO officials that can bring new ideas and new relationships to the official process of diplomacy Sadly those involved in official diplomacy often have little understanding of and appreciation for the complex and nuanced role that Track Two can play or for its limitations And many Track Two practitioners are often unaware of the realities and pressures of the policy and diplomatic worlds and not particularly adept at framing their efforts to make them accessible to hard pressed officials At the same time those interested in the academic study of Track Two sometimes fail to understand the realities faced by either set of practitioners A need therefore exists for a work to bridge the divides between these constituencies and between the different types of Track Two practice and this book crosses disciplines and traditions in order to do just that It explores the various dimensions and guises of Track Two the theory and practice of how they work and how both practitioners and academics could more profitably assess Track Two Overall it provides a comprehensive picture of the range of activities pursued under this title to provoke new thinking about how these activities relate to each other to official diplomacy and to academe This book will be a classic that defines the field of Track Two diplomacy an exemplary work Esra Cuhadar Bilkent University
