Teaching Beginning Reading and Writing with the Picture Word Inductive Model Emily Calhoun, 1999. In this practical guide to teaching beginning language learners of all ages, Calhoun encourages us to begin where the learners begin with their developed listening and speaking vocabularies and other accumulated knowledge about the world. Engage students in shaking words out of a picture; words from their speaking vocabularies to begin the process of building their reading and writing skills. Use the picture word inductive model (PWIM) to teach several skills simultaneously, beginning with the mechanics of forming letters to hearing and identifying the phonetic components of language to classifying words and sentences through forming paragraphs and stories based on observation. Built into the PWIM is the structure required to assess the needs and understandings of your students, immediately adjust the lesson in response and to use explicit instruction and inductive activities. Individual, small group and large group activities are inherent to the model and flow naturally as the teacher arranges instruction according to the 10 steps of the PWIM. Students and teachers move through the model and work on developing skills and abilities in reading, writing, listening and comprehension as tools for thinking, learning and sharing ideas.

Your Literacy Standards Companion, Grades 9-12 Jim Burke, 2017-05-16. Standards based learning just got a lot easier. This new version of the Common Core Companion provides a Smart Chart Index for all states implementing state specific ELA standards. This index allows you to see in an instant which of your standards are the same as CCSS, which differ and how, and which page number to turn to for standards based teaching ideas. Beyond that, it's the same great go-to guide for implementing the standards into daily practice across English Language Arts, Social Studies, Science and Technical Subjects.

Academic Language in Diverse Classrooms: English Language Arts, Grades 3-5 Margo Gottlieb, Gisela Ernst-Slavit, 2013-09-23. Make every student fluent in the language of learning. Language has always been the center of English Language Arts, but with most states adopting CCSS, the focus on language and literacy across the content areas is required.
