A Field Guide to Community Literacy Laurie A. Henry, Norman A. Stahl, 2022-04-27 This practical guidebook presents trends, research grounded strategies and field based solutions to challenges of working in community based literacy initiatives. A comprehensive guide for practitioners, this book addresses best practices for implementing, maintaining, expanding and evaluating community based literacy initiatives. The contributors in this volume help readers shift thinking from merely considering how can communities support literacy to how can literacy help us create support and strengthen communities. Organized into four parts on building community through literacy, program design, case studies from the field and program evaluation, chapters cover research based and innovative practices in a diverse range of populations and settings including family services, adult literacy initiatives, community centers and tutoring programs. With an abundance of praxis oriented examples and real world strategies from top scholars and practitioners, the book serves as a roadmap for essential topics including funding, writing grant proposals, handling audits and conducting research within program settings. An Empirical Approach to Preparing Children for Starting School Karen Wickett, 2019-08-30 This book presents an exploration of the beliefs held by parents, Early Childhood Education and Care (ECEC) practitioners and teachers and their relationships during children's transition to school. This exploration was prompted by the author's observations that the relationships between ECEC practitioners and teachers became increasingly strained when the term school readiness was introduced to the EYFS. Drawing on the findings of empirical research, the book presents the four qualities of relationships between parents, ECEC practitioners and teachers during children's transition to school. Unlike many current texts, this book extends the transition to include the phases of preparation and adjustment and explores how the qualities of relationships between parents, ECEC practitioners and teachers can change throughout the phases of the transition. The conceptual framework, The Relational Transition to School, is developed and is a useful tool for researchers and those working together to explore the qualities of relationships between those supporting children during a transition. An Empirical Approach to Preparing Children for Starting School will be of great interest to researchers, academics and postgraduate students in the field of early childhood education as well as those training to be early years practitioners.
