A New Conversation Robert Boak Slocum, 2018-02-22 In these twenty nine essays Episcopalians consider the tradition and the future of their church its theology its polity its missiology These new conversations come from ministers of every order bishop priest deacon laity and from practiced hands at many ministries education theology music chaplaincy and spiritual direction Several essayists write urgently that the Episcopal Church must change if it is to survive Others contend with equal fervor that American Anglicanism can work if Episcopalians will reclaim and reaffirm their liturgical spiritual and theological heritage Between these views are other writers who suggest that points of supposed opposition might indeed coexist in the church of the future taking vibrant and perhaps paradoxical new forms

Teaching for a Multifaith World Eleazar S. Fernandez, 2017-05-05 When religious diversity is our reality radical hospitality to people of other faiths is not a luxury but a necessity More than necessary for our survival radical hospitality to religious diversity is necessary if we are to thrive as a global society By no means does the practice of hospitality in a multifaith world require that we be oblivious of our differences On the contrary it demands a respectful embrace of our differences because that is who we are Neither does radical hospitality require that we water down our commitment because faithfulness and openness are not contradictory We must be able to say with burning passion that we are open to the claims of other faiths because we are faithful to our religious heritage The essays in this book do not offer simply theological exhortations they offer specific ways of how we can become religiously competent citizens in a multifaith world Let us take the bold steps of radical openness with this book on our side
