Mountford Walker, John Simon Gabriel Simmons, 2008 The bibliography records doctoral and selected masters theses over 3 300 in all from British and Irish universities in the field of Russian Soviet and East European studies This is broadly interpreted to include all disciplines in the humanities and social sciences as they relate to the area of Russia the former USSR and Eastern Europe Taken as a whole the work probably forms the fullest and longest record of British and Irish postgraduate research in any sector of area studies Besides its primary function as a bibliographic tool it makes it possible to trace the effects of academic developments institutional policies and the changes in direction in this highly diversified field of study over the last hundred years Entries are arranged by subject and area supported by full author and subject indexes to aid searching Dr Gregory Walker is a former Head of Slavonic and East European Collections at the Bodleian Library University of Oxford The late John S G Simmons OBE was Senior Research Fellow and Librarian All Souls College Oxford

The Oxford Handbook of Health Psychology Howard S. Friedman, 2014-02 The Oxford Handbook of Health Psychology brings together preeminent experts to provide a comprehensive view of key concepts tools and findings of this rapidly expanding core discipline Economic Implications of Chronic Illness and Disability in Eastern Europe and the Former Soviet Union Cem Mete, 2008-01-01 A significant portion of the population in the Eastern Europe and Central Asia region are either in poor health or disabled This research shows that the linkages between disability and economic and social outcomes of interest tend to be stronger in transition countries when compared with industrialized countries Reasons for this trend include the prevalence of a large informal sector in many developing countries relatively weak targeting performance of social assistance programs especially in poor transition countries and unavailability of broad based insurance mechanisms to protect individuals against loss of income due to unexpected illness Handbook of Socioeconomic Determinants of Occupational Health Töres Theorell, 2020-08-12 This anthology provides readers of scientific literature on socioeconomic factors and working conditions with the newest knowledge in this field Since our world is subjected to constant change in accelerating speed scientific reviews and updates are needed Fortunately research methodology in epidemiology physiology psychology and sociology is also developing rapidly and therefore the scientific community can provide politicians and policy makers with increasingly sophisticated and exact descriptions of societal factors in relation to work The anthology starts in the macro level sphere with international perspectives and reviews related to working conditions in relation to political change the fall of the Soviet Union gender age precarious employment national economy and retirement Two chapters relate to national policies and activities in international organizations The second part of the book relates to the meso level sphere with reviews on social patterns in distributions of psychosocial and physical risks at work in general as well as reviews on noise shift work under overemployment occupational physical activity job intensity which may be a particularly important problem in low income countries digitization in modern work climate change childhood determinants of occupational health in adult years and theoretical models currently used in occupational epidemiology demand control effort reward organizational justice psychosocial safety climate conflicts bullying harassment This part of the book ends with two chapters on interventions one chapter on the use of cultural interventions and one on interventions and their evaluation in general and two chapters on financial aspects of poor good work environments and evaluations of interventions In the third part of the book the micro level is addressed Here mechanisms translating working conditions into physiology are discussed This starts in general theory relating basic theories regarding energy storage and release to psychosocial theory extension of demand control theory It also includes regeneration physiology autonomic nervous system function immunology and adverse behaviour Sections in the Handbook Macro level determinants of occupational health Akizumi Tsutsumi Meso level determinants of occupational health Morten Wahrendorf and Jian Li Micro level determinants of occupational health Bradley J Wright Naturbilder und Lebensgrundlagen Waltraud Ernst, 2006

Promoting Healthy Aging Across the Lifespan Elena Carrillo-Alvarez, Miriam Rodriguez-Monforte, Jordi Vilaró, Katherine Simone McGilton, 2024-12-26 Worldwide there is a generalized trend toward aged societies Between 2015 and 2050 the proportion of the world's population over 60 years will nearly double from 12% to 22% As life expectancy continues to increase and natality rates lower not only the composition of countries will change but also its health landscape However an increased life expectancy does not necessarily mean a healthy life In most high income countries more than 20% of those years are lived in ill health due to chronic conditions caused by non communicable diseases which compromises functional ability and well being key components of healthy aging In this way not only people's lives but also societal structures are being affected Based on the life course approach to healthy aging aging starts from conception In this regard the promotion of healthy aging requires preventive strategies that enhance capacities during growth and development maintain them for as long as possible after maturity and slow down their rate of decline Moreover considering healthy aging across the lifespan entails focusing on different factors life opportunities and choices that might significantly influence health status lifestyle as well as health and social inequalities in older age and challenges the focus of most research on the topic which exclusively investigates the effect of influences operating in the later stages of life

Health Disparities in the US and China Yingru Li, 2025-08-29 This book provides a comprehensive insight into health disparities in both the United States and China It offers valuable perspectives on public health and policy through an examination of the spatial social and environmental dimensions of health disparities Through comparative analysis of two distinct healthcare systems economic conditions and cultural contexts the book offers a thorough assessment of how policies and social structures influence public health outcomes It examines factors such as socioeconomic status social capital community social and physical environments healthcare systems and health policies The book adopts an interdisciplinary approach drawing on key theoretical frameworks such as socio ecological model social determinants of health SDOH and social capital theory It integrates geospatial statistical and survey analyses and includes a series of case studies to explore health disparities This book will be of interest to students and researchers in medical geography medical sociology and public health as well as professionals and policy makers who address spatial social and environmental disparities

Trust with Asian Characteristics Takashi Inoguchi, Yasuharu Tokuda, 2017-03-14 This volume edited by a political scientist and a practicing medical doctor is organized into two parts interpersonal and institutional trust To gauge trust both interpersonal and institutional in 29 Asian societies the AsiaBarometer survey the best and only available such data source in the world was used The survey focusing on the quality of life in Asia was carried out in the 2000s in 29 Asian societies in East Southeast South and Central Asia and in the United States Australia and Russia for comparative analysis Trust is a key intermediate variable linking an individual and a broader society Yet systematically and scientifically assembled data have tended to be narrowly focused on Western societies In the 2000s non Western data on the quality of life have steadily increased The AsiaBarometer survey however is the instrument that best examines the quality of life in a large number of Asian societies with nationwide random sampling and face to face interviewing with the number of samples ranging from 1 000 to 3 000 In gauging interpersonal trust the question Generally do you think people can be trusted or do you think that you can't be too careful in dealing with people i.e. that it pays to be wary of people is asked along with additional questions In measuring institutional trust the question is asked How much confidence do you place in the following institutions Listed are the central government the courts the military the police political parties the parliament mass media business companies medical hospitals and other institutions In examining interpersonal and institutional trust Asia wide special attention is paid to historical and geo cultural backgrounds of the societies being surveyed Examination of the link between trust of mass media and individual health and between trust in medical care and individual health focuses on Japan Among the 12 chapters 9 are reprints of journal articles published in the 2000s and the introduction and 2 other chapters were written especially for this book to reflect the latest progress in the field This work provides a rich source to be consulted by a wide range of readers interested in comparative politics quality of life and Asia in general East-West Life Expectancy Gap in Europe C. Hertzman, Shona Kelly, Martin Bobak, 1996-08-31 This volume presents the proceedings of an Advanced Research Workshop held under the auspices of the NATO International Scientific Exchange Programme on the Environmental and Non environmental Determinants of the East West Life Expectancy Gap in Europe The workshop brought together individuals from Eastern and Western Europe and North America who had a common interest in understanding the evolution of the relative declines in life expectancy in Central and Eastern Europe compared to the West over the past 30 years Between 1989 and 1993 I carried out a series of investigations into the effects of environmental pollution on human health in Central and Eastern Europe at first under the auspices of the World Bank and later under a broader multilateral multi agency arrangement known as the Environment for Europe Process These investigations provided unparalleled access to environmental health data from the region and offered a glimpse of what the contribution of pollution to health status was and what it was not At the same time the Program in Population Health of the Canadian Institute for Advanced Research CIAR and the International Centre for Health and Society ICHS at University College London were embarking upon multi disciplinary inquiries into the broad determinants of health in modern societies The work of the CIAR provided a framework for conceptualizing the East West life expectancy gap and its potential determinants the work of the ICHS provided specific insights into the relative contributions of these determinants Health and Social Change in Russia and Eastern Europe William C. Cockerham, 2002-05-03 Examines the social causes of the decline in life expectancy in Russia and Eastern Europe Countries discussed include Russia Poland Hungary Romania Bulgaria the Czech Republic and East Germany Book Review Index, 2003 Every 3rd issue is a quarterly cumulation Baltic Suicide Paradox Airi Värnik, Merike Sisask, Peeter Värnik, 2010 Connecting Paradigms of Motor Behaviour to Sport and Physical Education presents recent articles that examine theoretical and empirical research on the learning and teaching of motor skills The development of the book is based on the effect of synergism a phenomenon whereby the cooperative interaction of multiple psychological pedagogical and biological ideas drawn from the systemic model produces an outcome that is superior to that which could be expected from knowledge derived from the independent contributions of these disciplines For students researchers and teachers working in the fields of sports and physical education this book should promote a deeper understanding of previous knowledge and provide exposure to ideas that frame new perspectives related to the acquisition of skills and motor learning Arab Immigrants in Metropolitan Detroit Sawsan Hilmi Abdulrahim, 2005 BMJ, 2001 Role of Health Economic Data in Policy Making and Reimbursement of New Medical Technologies Mihajlo (Michael) Jakovljevic, Tetsuji Yamada, 2017-11-23 This Research Topic was focused on provision of novel medical technologies worldwide keeping in mind financial sustainability challenge An exemplary area certainly are oncology pharmaceuticals where prices have increased 10 fold in recent years leading to concerns on affordability The objective of this collection of studies was to reveal some of the hidden underlying causes of unequal access to the medicines Another core issue is the growing proportion of out of pocket health spending in many world regions In line with the joint efforts of the editors and authors we received an exceptionally high response worldwide This E Book attracted a total of 37 self standing research submissions out of which 32 ultimately passed external peer review and got published Base affiliations of the authors spread across academia pharmaceutical and medical device industry governmental authorities and clinical medicine Their home institutions were situated in fifteen different countries inclusive of Japan Israel Russia USA Germany Italy Netherlands Austria Spain Malta Serbia Poland Bulgaria Hungary and Malaysia We frankly believe that authors succeeded to cover important literature gaps referring to these world regions We solicit global professional audience to put our efforts to the test and read this contribution to the health economics literature

Civic Freedom in an Age of Diversity Dimitrios Karmis, Jocelyn Maclure, 2023-02-15 James Tully is one of the world's most influential political philosophers at work today Over the past thirty years first with Strange Multiplicity 1995 and more fully with Public Philosophy in a New Key 2008 and On Global Citizenship 2014 Tully has developed a distinctive approach to the study of political philosophy democracy and active citizenship for a deeply diverse world and a de imperializing age Civic Freedom in an Age of Diversity explores elucidates and questions Tully's innovative approach methods and concepts providing both a critical assessment of Tully's public philosophy and an exemplification of the dialogues of reciprocal elucidation that are central to Tully's approach Since the role of public philosophy is to address public affairs the contributors consider public philosophy in the context of pressing issues and recent civic struggles such as crises of democracy and citizenship in the Western world global citizenship civil disobedience and non violence Indigenous self determination nationalism and federalism in multinational states protest movements in Turkey and Quebec supranational belonging in the European Union struggles over equity in academia and environmental decontamination decolonization and cultural restoration in Akwesasne Offering a wide ranging analytical discussion of Tully's work by leading scholars from various fields of study with an extensive reply by Tully himself Civic Freedom in an Age of Diversity provides a rich perspective on the full extent of his contribution
