Vernacular Literacy International Group for the Study of Language Standardization and the Vernacularization of Literacy, 1997. This book contains first hand information on the history, economics and politics surrounding literacy issues all over the world. Discussions are supported by case studies of campaigns to promote vernacular languages and examples of how people relate to their languages in different cultures. Providing a non Western perspective, the contributors question traditional notions of the uses of literacy. The Power of Fantasy in Early Learning Jenny Tyrrell, 2002-11. The Power of Fantasy in the Early Years is a case study of a class of children, their teacher and a stuffed bear suit. A fascinating account of an original teaching method and the amazing results generated by it. Remedial Reading Maurice D. Woolf, Jeanne A. Woolf, 1957. Dialogue in Early South Asian Religions Brian Black, Laurie Patton, 2016-03-09. Dialogue between characters is an important feature of South Asian religious literature. Entire narratives are often presented as a dialogue between two or more individuals or the narrative or discourse is presented as a series of embedded conversations from different times and places. Including some of the most established scholars of South Asian religious texts, this book examines the use of dialogue in early South Asian texts with an interdisciplinary approach that crosses traditional boundaries between religious traditions. The contributors shed new light on the cultural ideas and practices within religious traditions as well as presenting an understanding of a range of dynamics from hostile and competitive to engaged and collaborative. This book is the first to explore the literary dimensions of dialogue in South Asian religious sources, helping to reframe the study of other literary traditions around the world. Household Words Charles Dickens, 1853. The Century Dictionary and
