Vocational education in Europe

Edwin Gilbert Cooley,1912

Lessons in History Denis Durand de Bousingen,1999 Teaching the Mother Tongue in a Multilingual Europe Witold Tulasiewicz,Anthony Adams,2005-06-09 In a time when the increasing cultural diversity and population mobility of the continent calls for good communication skills this fascinating book features a wealth of data and critical opinion on the topic of mother tongue education In the first part of the book the two editors address central cultural political and educational concerns relating to the mother tongue using some of the findings of their European Commission funded research on the changing European classroom The second part presents case study articles by practitioners from nine countries which have significant regional or immigrant mother tongue populations These include Welsh in Wales Catalan and Galician in Spain Turkish and Greek in Germany Arabic and Corsican in France and Belorussian in Poland as well as critical accounts of the main first language situation in England Denmark France Germany Poland post Soviet Russia and Spain The concluding part of the book looks at language awareness as a possible approach to linguistic diversity It examines the preparation of teachers at all levels as experienced by the editors through their involvement in an international language study group based in Calgary Cambridge Mainz and Bialystock Teaching the Mother Tongue in a Multilingual Europe is packed with original information which will be of use to all teachers and educationalists concerned with language

Education in Europe: Policies and Politics José Antonio Ibáñez-Martín, Gonzalo Jover, 2013-03-09 While analysing what it means to be European Ortega y Gasset pointed out that European culture is defined by human s desire to find the most perfect way of being a way that must be both firmly founded in history and clearly projected into the future Ortega s idea had perhaps less currency when what European unity meant still boiled down to an economic community Today however things have changed and after a long complex process we now face a new scenario ambitiously named European Union one whose foundations competencies and aims are no longer simply economic but seek to foster a life in common without losing respect for the national identities of the member States The legend in fact Jack Lang confessed that this statement was invented by him and perhaps is true says that near the end of his life Jean Monnet once answered a journalist s question affirming that if he had to do it all over again he would start with culture rather than with the economy
