McGushin,2007-04-03 In his renowned courses at the Collège de France from 1982 to 1984 Michel Foucault devoted his lectures to meticulous readings and interpretations of the works of Plato Epictetus Seneca and Marcus Aurelius among others In this his aim was not Edward F McGushin contends to develop a new knowledge of the history of philosophy rather it was to let himself be transformed by the very activity of thinking Thus this work shows us Foucault in the last phase of his life in the act of becoming a philosopher Here we see how his encounter with ancient philosophy allowed him to experience the practice of philosophy as to paraphrase Nietzsche a way of becoming who one is the work of self formation that the Greeks called askesis Through a detailed study of Foucault's last courses McGushin demonstrates that this new way of practicing philosophical askesis evokes Foucault's ethical resistance to modern relations of power and knowledge In order to understand Foucault's later project then it is necessary to see it within the context of his earlier work If his earlier projects represented an attempt to bring to light the relations of power and knowledge that narrowed and limited freedom then this last project represents his effort to take back that freedom by redefining it in terms of care of the self Foucault always stressed that modern power functions by producing individual subjects This book shows how his excavation of ancient philosophical practices gave him the tools to counter this function with a practice of self formation an askesis The New Handbook of Research on Music Teaching and Learning Richard Colwell,Carol Richardson,2002-04-18 Featuring chapters by the world's foremost scholars in music education and cognition this handbook is a convenient collection of current research on music teaching and learning This comprehensive work includes sections on arts advocacy music and medicine teacher education and studio instruction among other subjects making it an essential reference for music education programs The original Handbook of Research on Music Teaching and Learning published in 1992 with the sponsorship of the Music Educators National Conference MENC was hailed as a welcome addition to the literature on music education because it serves to provide definition and unity to a broad and complex field Choice This new companion volume again with the sponsorship of MENC explores the significant changes in music and arts education that have taken place in the last decade Notably several chapters now incorporate insights from other fields to shed light on multi cultural music education gender issues in music education and non musical outcomes of music education Other chapters offer practical information on maintaining musicians health training music teachers and evaluating music education programs Philosophical issues such as musical cognition the philosophy of research theory

Alchemy and Amalgam Emily Salines, 2004-01-01 Alchemy and Amalgam explores a relatively un researched area of the Baudelairean corpus his translations from English and relates them to the rest of his works It seeks to establish a link between translational and creative writing arguing for a reassessment of the place of translation in Baudelaire s writing method Rather than a sideline in Baudelaire s creative activities translation is thus shown to be a central form of dual writing at the core of his works Baudelaire s translations from English his constant rewriting of pre existing material including his own the doublets the transpositions d art and the art criticism are all based on an approach to writing which is essentially derivative but also transformative Thus the Baudelairean experiment illustrates the limits of romantic notions of originality creativity and genius reminding us that all writing is intrinsically intertextual It also shows the complexity of translation as a form of creation at the core of modern writing The book is one of the first of its kind to link the study the translational activity of a major writer to his creative writings It is also one of the first to provide an integrated presentation of French 19th century translation approaches and to link them to questions of copyright and authorship in the context of the rise of capitalism and romantic views of creation and genius It offers therefore a new perspective both on translation history and on literary history

Alchemy and Amalgam will be of interest to students of translation comparative literature and French studies

Williams, 2024-11-12 The first study of Christian murals created by indigenous artists in sixteenth and seventeenth century Yucatán In the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Maya artists painted murals in churches and conventos of Yucatán using traditional techniques to depict iconography brought from Europe by Franciscan friars The fragmentary visual remains and their placement within religious structures embed Maya conceptions of sacredness beyond the didactic imagery Mobilizing both cutting edge technology and tried and true analytical methods art historians Amara Solari and Linda K Williams reexamine the Maya Christian murals centering the agency of the people who created them The first volume to comprehensively document the paintings Maya Christian Murals of Early Modern Yucatán collects new research on the material composition of the works made possible by cutting edge imaging methods Solari and Williams investigate pigments and other material resources as well as the artists and historical contexts of the murals The authors uncover numerous local innovations in form and content including images celebrating New World saints celestial timekeeping and ritual processions Solari and Williams argue that these murals were not simply vehicles of coercion but of cultural grafting that allowed Maya artists to shape a distinctive and polyvocal legacy in their communities
