afiel Loaiza In 1985 Indian scholar Gayatri Chakravorty Spivak born 1942 published what would become a landmark essay in the academic study of colonialism Can the Subaltern Speak interrogates the obstructions that prevent certain subjects from being heard and how this state enforced silence maintains the degradation of those at the peripheries of society Over three decades later Spivak s piece is perhaps even more compelling in its affirmation of Marxism s relevance to contemporary decolonial thought This volume revives Spivak s text for yet another generation of thinkers placed in dialogue with artwork by Ecuadorian artist Estefan a Pe ariel Loaiza born 1978 Loaiza s preoccupation with questions of occlusion and the need for and absence of image makes for an art series that shares a clear kinship with Spivak s line of reasoning Loaiza s visual vocabulary echoes and refracts the central ideas put forth by Spivak in a compelling new interpretation of this essential text

The Post-colonial Studies Reader Bill Ashcroft,Gareth Griffiths,Helen Tiffin,2006 Boasting new extracts from major works in the field as well as an impressive list of contributors this second edition of a bestselling Reader is an invaluable introduction to the most seminal texts in post colonial theory and criticism

Beginning Postcolonialism John McLeod,2000-07-07 Postcolonialism has become one of the most exciting expanding and challenging areas of literary and cultural studies today Designed especially for those studying the topic for the first time Beginning Postcolonialism introduces the major areas of concern in a clear accessible and organized fashion It provides an overview of the emergence of postcolonialism as a discipline and closely examines many of its important critical writings

Gayatri Spivak Stephen Morton,2007-02-12 Gayatri Chakravorty Spivaks seminal contribution to contemporary thought defies disciplinary boundaries From her early translations of Derrida to her subsequent engagement with Marxism feminism and postcolonial studies and her recent work on human rights the war on terror and globalization she has proved to be one of the most vital of present day thinkers In this book Stephen Morton offers a wide ranging introduction to and critique of Spivaks work He examines her engagements with philosophers and other thinkers from Kant to Paul de Man feminists from Cixous to Helie Lucas and literary texts by Charlotte Bronte J M Coetzee Mahasweta Devi and Jean Rhys Spivaks thought is also situated in relation to subaltern studies Throughout the book Morton interrogates the materialist basis of Spivaks thought and demonstrates the ethical and political commitment which lies at the heart of her work Stephen Morton provides an ideal introduction to the work of this complex and increasingly important thinker

The Subaltern Speak Michael W. Apple,Kristen L. Buras,2013-01-11 The question of whose perspective experience and history is privileged in educational institutions has shaped curriculum debates for decades In this insightful collection Michael W Apple and Kristen L Buras interrogate the notion that some knowledge is worth more than others The Subaltern Speak combines an analysis of the ways in which various forms of power now operate with a specific focus on spaces in which subaltern groups act to reassert their own perceived identities cultures and histories

English Language and Literary Criticism A.s. Kharbe,2009

Post-Orientalism Hamid Dabashi,2017-07-28 Post Orientalism is a sustained record of Hamid Dabashi s reflections over many years on the question of authority and power Who gets to represent whom and by what authority Dabashi's work picks up where Edward Said's Orientalism left off Said traced the origin of the power of representation and the normative agency that it entails to the colonial hubris that carried a militant band of mercenary merchants military officers Christian missionaries and European Orientalists around the globe This hubris enabled them to write and represent the people they sought to rule Dabashi's book is not as much a critique of colonial representation as it is of the manners and modes of fighting back and resisting it He does not question the significance of Orientalism and its principal concern with the colonial acts of representation but he provides a different angle that argues for the primacy of the question of postcolonial agency Dabashi uses the United States as an example of a country that initiated militant acts of representation in Iraq and Afghanistan He attempts to unearth and examine the United States deeply rooted claim to normative and moral agency particularly in light of the world's post 9/11 political reality

Unarchived Histories Gyanendra Pandey, 2013-12-17 For some time now scholars have recognized the archive less as a neutral repository of documents of the past and rather more as a politically interested representation of it and recognized that the very act of archiving is accompanied by a process of unarchiving Michel Foucault pointed to madness as describing one limit of reason history and the archive This book draws attention to another boundary marked not by exile but by the ordinary and everyday yet trivialized or trifling It is the status of being exiled within by prejudices procedures activities and interactions so fundamental as to not even be noticed that marks the unarchived histories investigated in this volume Bringing together contributions covering South Asia North and South America and North Africa this innovative analysis presents novel interpretations of unfamiliar sources and insightful reconsiderations of well known materials that lie at the centre of many current debates on history and the archive

Black Hopes/Black Woes Raphaël Lambert, 2025-04-22 Black Hopes/Black Woes begins by delving into the contrasting mindsets of postbellum African Americans and their twenty first century counterparts aiming to elucidate the shift from early Black optimism to present day Black pessimism It then focuses on the rationale behind Afro pessimism a contemporary school of thought with an inconspicuous yet potent influence on mainstream culture The first part of the book focuses on Frederick Douglass's and WEB Du Bois's interpretations of slave songs establishing a link between the Negro freedom and democracy This optimistic view is juxtaposed with Saidiya Hartman's who with 100 years hindsight condemns Du Bois's reformist spirit and efforts to tackle Black poverty as supercilious and damaging The book then scrutinizes Afro pessimism through the work of Frank B Wilderson III who posits that the stability of civil society hinges on anti Black violence Accordingly he argues that any analogy between Black and non Black experiences is flawed and that Marxism which privileges labor over racial issues is inadequate to grasp Blackness Additionally the book explores the essentialist discourse of Afro pessimism through David Marriott's analysis of Frantz Fanon which theorizes the non beingness of Blackness despite Fanon's focus on being colonized rather than Black Finally the book demonstrates how Afro pessimism overlaps with postcolonialism and conflicts with Fanon

s universalism his rejection of identity politics and his advocacy for transracial and transnational dialogue While the radical nature of Afro pessimism may seem to manifest an unresolved national trauma Black Hopes Black Woes situates this ideology in the larger contemporary philosophical and critical discourse shedding light on its propensity to foster a culture of resentment and cynicism Once confined to a niche academic audience Afro pessimism has percolated the mainstream stoking the fire of racial antagonism

Theory After 'Theory' Jane Elliott, Derek Attridge, 2011-03-25 This volume argues that theory far from being dead has undergone major shifts in order to come to terms with the most urgent cultural and political questions of today Offering an overview of theory's new directions this groundbreaking collection includes essays on affect biopolitics biophilosophy the aesthetic and neoliberalism as well as examinations of established areas such as subaltern studies the postcolonial and ethics Influential figures such as Agamben Badiou Arendt Deleuze Derrida and Meillassoux are examined in a range of contexts Gathering together some of the top thinkers in the field this volume not only speculates on the fate of theory but shows its current diversity encouraging conversation between divergent strands Each section places the essays in their contexts and stages a comparison between different but ultimately related ways in which key thinkers are moving beyond poststructuralism Contributors Amanda Anderson Ray Brassier Adriana Cavarero Eva Cherniavsky Rey Chow Claire Colebrook Laurent Dubreuil Roberto Esposito Simon Gikandi Martin Haggl nd Peter Hallward Brian Massumi Peter Osborne Elizabeth Povinelli William Rasch Henry Staten Bernard Stiegler Eugene Thacker Cary Wolfe Linda Zerilli From Damascus to Beirut Hazem Fadel, 2016-02-08 Notably studies on the Arabic novel tend to focus on canonical writers like the Egyptian novelist and Nobel laureate Naguib Mahfouz 1911 2006 and leave out or just mention en passant the work of others This book is not concerned with the ways in which the Arabic novel breaks away from or reproduces Mahfouz's approach and techniques but focuses instead on the way in which the authors in question engage with the phenomena of nationalism feminism post and neo colonialism civil war and social change in the Arab world using an urban scenario as their privileged point of observation The Arabic city is privileged as a focal point because it is the space where the struggles over issues of nation building gender religion and class as well as the patriarchal colonialist Zionist and sectarian violence linked to these issues manifest themselves most evidently To this end From Damascus to Beirut Contested Cities in Arab Writing brings together four novels published between 1969 and 1989 which have never been approached from this perspective nor put in this kind of dialogue before Ulfat Idilbi's Damascus Ghassan Kanafani's Haifa Ahlam Mosteghanemi's Constantine and Elias Khoury's Beirut are social and historical products and as such as Henri Lefebvre maintains are deeply rooted in politics and affected by ideology The cities discussed here in fact display the ebbs and flows of political and social life in their respective countries and in the Arab world in general Each city stands at a crucial point in the history of the Arab world and the way in which they are represented by their respective authors sets the stage for and sometimes even foreshadows an upcoming defeat or disappointment Albeit for different reasons Damascus Haifa Constantine and Beirut are all expressions of failures either on national political social or economic levels Paradoxically however they are also the repositories of their people's hopes and aspirations as well as of their disappointments Analysing these novels as such this book will be of particular interest to postcolonial readers and more importantly to English speaking readers who are interested in the study of modern Arabic literature Its close textual analysis offers the reader new tools not only for understanding themes and narrative techniques pertaining to the Arabic novel but also the contemporary political cultural and social issues that produced them

Nature and Time, Volume II Dong In Baek, 2025-02-20 Unlock a transformative perspective on peace and reconciliation with Nature and Time Volume II Paths to Justice and Transformation In this compelling work Baek Dong In invites the reader to reimagine the intricate interplay between nature time and history transcending traditional boundaries to offer fresh insights into unity on the Korean Peninsula Drawing from the profound ideas of philosophers like Heidegger Kant and Nietzsche this book challenges the notion of Korea as a static entity mired in past conflicts Instead it portrays the peninsula as a dynamic evolving space shaped by diverse historical cultural and ideological currents By weaving together theology philosophy and socio political analysis Baek reveals how the rhythms of nature and the cycles of time can illuminate new paths toward reconciliation This isn't just a theoretical exploration it's a call to action Nature and Time Volume II encourages readers to engage deeply with the forces that shape the world offering a holistic approach to healing divisions and fostering peace not only in Korea but wherever conflict persists Join this enlightening journey and discover how the convergence of nature and time can inspire justice and transformation in the shared human experience

Missionary Positions Lauren McGrow, 2017-08-28 Missionary Positions examines the context for Christian outreach to people in the sex industry Over the last 20 years faith based organisations have become more engaged in ministering with sex workers But what are the methods and desired outcomes that undergird pastoral practice in this field Most Christians see prostitution as evil and those who sell sex are considered broken victims in need of restoration Yet the voices and experiences of sex workers themselves often challenge these assumptions Using feminist and postcolonial perspectives interviews with Christian practitioners in Australia and personal narrative Lauren McGrow carves out a space for the dynamic theological agency and life complexity of sex workers to be more fully acknowledged in faith based outreach projects

Society and Social Changes through the Prism of Childhood Hanne Warming, 2023-09-19 This book presents a new childhood studies research program namely Childhood Prism Research and offers unique childhood research contributions to the wider scholarly field Bringing together cutting edge childhood studies scholars from various disciplines including philosophy psychology feminism anthropology sociology and literature the book demonstrates the rich potential of this program and offers an introduction to the childhood prism theoretical framework as well as examples of childhood prism research Childhood prism research is underpinned by a distinct childhood studies approach that involves rethinking the generational order perspective and combining this with a relational ontology and a flat non adultist epistemology The key assumption is that the study of children's lives can offer not only insights into adults lives and vice versa but in some cases may even offer a privileged lens onto broader societal issues The program embraces a number of seemingly oppositional positions in an ongoing debate within childhood studies and children s geographies about how to reinvigorate theoretical thinking within these fields Featuring leading childhood studies scholars from various disciplines including philosophy psychology feminism anthropology sociology and literature this book demonstrates the rich potential of the program and shows how researching children s and young people s lives using this approach holds great promise for significant theoretical development beyond the field of children s geographies and childhood studies as well as for empirical exploration of broader societal issues Society and Social Changes Through the Prism of Childhood will be a key resource for academics researchers and advanced students of Childhood Studies Sociology Human Geography Social Sciences and Psychology The chapters included in this book were originally published as a special issue of Children s Geographies

The Better Story Dina Georgis,2013-03-01 Illuminates the emotional significance of stories in response to racial traumas related to the Middle East

Lost Histories Kirsten L. Ziomek,2020-10-26 A grandson s photo album Old postcards English porcelain A granite headstone These are just a few of the material objects that help reconstruct the histories of colonial people who lived during Japan s empire These objects along with oral histories and visual imagery reveal aspects of lives that reliance on the colonial archive alone cannot They help answer the primary question of Lost Histories Is it possible to write the history of Japan s colonial subjects Kirsten Ziomek contends that it is possible and in the process she brings us closer to understanding the complexities of their lives Lost Histories provides a geographically and temporally holistic view of the Japanese empire from the early 1900s to the 1970s The experiences of the four least examined groups of Japanese colonial subjects the Ainu Taiwan s indigenous people Micronesians and Okinawans are the centerpiece of the book By reconstructing individual life histories and following these people as they crossed colonial borders to the metropolis and beyond Ziomek conveys the dynamic nature of an empire in motion and explains how individuals navigated the vagaries of imperial life

Women, Culture, and International Relations Vivienne Jabri,Eleanor O'Gorman,1999 This text expands the agenda of feminist international relations by considering the heterogeneity of women s voices in the realm of world politics as well as the challenges that this diversity poses The authors develop a theoretical discourse that incorporates the combined notion of difference and emancipation in a discussion of the agency of women and their transformative capacity They use a normative approach to understanding the multiple subjectivities of women and the plurality of their experiences

International Handbook of Comparative Education Robert Cowen,Andreas M. Kazamias,2009-08-22 A big project like this Handbook means that you incur debts and not only to your authors and your publisher As editors we along with our colleague Elaine Unterhalter who edited the section on postcolonialism would like to thank most warmly those authors who delivered on time and who did not fuss but just got on and did a r rate job We would also like to thank all authors who did deliver which was almost everyone we asked We know that some of our authors worked in very dif cult private circumstances as they were

nishing their chapters and we hope the publication of the Volumes will later be for them a happy reminder of difficulties and disasters overcome. The only sad theme is that some very close colleagues with whom we were working and for whom we had the greatest respect and liking became very ill and died while the volumes were being prepared. We decided to ask for copyright permissions to publish something of theirs. These permissions were graciously given by two major journals and with the agreement also of our publishers Springer. Roland Paulston and Terry McLaughlin have examples of their writing in this Handbook.
