Rhetorical Power Steven Mailloux, 2018-08-06 In this provocative and forcefully written book Steven Mailloux takes issue with the validity of a number of distinctions commonly made in contemporary literary theory and cultural studies distinctions between theory and history reader and text truth and ideology aesthetics and politics Mailloux first presents the case for a rhetorical hermeneutics and against foundationalist theories of interpretation Doing hermeneutic theory he argues entails doing rhetorical history By means of a detailed analysis of reader response criticism he highlights the connections between institutional politics and the interpretive rhetoric of academic literary criticism Mailloux then uses Adventures of Huckleberry Finn as an exemplary text Relating Mark Twain's rhetoric to the cultural politics of post Reconstruction debates about racist ideology he places his reader oriented interpretation within the rhetorical history of controversies over the meaning and value of Huckleberry Finn Finally in a far ranging study of cultural reception he juxtaposes the twentieth century concern about the topic of race in Huckleberry Finn with the nineteenth century audience's very different concerns about juvenile delinquency and the bad boy boom In the final part of the book Mailloux restates his critique of foundationalist hermeneutics through readings of Ken Kesey Michel Foucault Edward Said and Richard Rorty and he concludes by examining the role of rhetoric and theory in a congressional dispute over the Reagan administration's reinterpretation of the Anti Ballistic Missile Treaty Rhetorical Power will be welcomed by readers in literary theory and American studies as well as in such fields as speech communication the sociology of culture and social and intellectual history and by others interested in the politics of persuasion      Social Semiotics of Arabic Satellite Television Ali Darwish,2009 Arabic satellite television is a phenomenon that has swept the Arab world in less than two decades and is said to have dramatically changed the Arab region It has created a world of contrasts and contradictions between tradition and liberalism and a polarization of views and opinions all vying for dominance and control This book examines the social semiotics of Arabic satellite television and studies the multimodal representations of Arab social and cultural values and their implied meanings in a communication medium that heavily relies on imported western models      WPA, Writing Program Administration ,1996      Humanism, Capitalism, and Rhetoric in Early Modern England Lynette Hunter,2022-01-19 This book offers an interdisciplinary approach to concepts of the self associated with the development of humanism in England and to strategies for both inclusion and exclusion in structuring the early modern nation state It addresses writings about rhetoric and behavior from 1495 1660 beginning with Erasmus work on sermo or the conversational rhetoric between friends which considers the reader as an absent audience and following the transference of this stance to a politics whose broadening democratic constituency needed a legitimate structure for governance at a distance Unusually the book brings together the impact on behavior of these new concepts about rhetoric with the growth of the publishing industry and the emergence of capitalism and of modern medicine It explores the effects on the formation of the subject and political legitimation of the early liberal nation state It also lays new ground for scholarship concerned with what is left out of both selfhood and politics by that state studying examples of a parallel development of the self defined by friendship not only from educated male writers but also from women writers and writers concerned with socially middling and laboring people and the poor      McCloskey's Rhetoric Benjamin Balak,2006 This unique book examines the use of rhetoric in economics focusing on the work of one of the discipline s most recognizable names Deirdre McCloskey It analyzes her major texts and evaluates their methodological and philosophical consequences

Communities Julia Bamford, Marina Bondi, 2011-12-07 The book explores aspects of reflexivity and interactivity in a variety of academic genres oral and written scientific and educational Academic discourse is explored from a variety of perspectives that take a dialogic view of language use as their starting point ranging from conversation analysis to descriptive or applied genre studies Particular attention is paid to the way metadiscursive expressions contribute to a representation of the communicative procedures that characterise the ongoing scientific and educational dialogues      Reading Rhetorically John C. Bean, Virginia A. Chappell, Alice M. Gillam, 2006-03 Offering concise yet thorough treatment of academic reading and writing in college Reading Rhetorically Brief Editions shows readers how to analyze texts by recognizing rhetorical strategies and genre conventions and how to incorporate other writers texts into their own research based papers Teaches readers how to read and write for academic purposes Anyone interested in academic writing      Rhetorical Stance in Modern Literature Lynette Hunter, 1984-06-18      A Rhetoric of Doing Stephen Paul Witte, Neil Nakadate, Roger Dennis Cherry, 1992

Concerned with both the nature and the practice of discourse the eighteen essays collected here treat rhetoric as a dynamic enterprise of inquiry exploration and application and in doing so reflect James L Kinneavy's firm belief in the vital relationship between theory and practice his commitment to a spirit of accommodation and assimilation that promotes the development of ever more powerful theories and ever more useful practices A thorough introduction provides the reader with clear summaries of the essays by leading edge theorists researchers and teachers of writing and rhetoric A field context for the ideas presented in this book is provided through the division of the various chapters into four major sections that focus on classical rhetoric and rhetorical theory in historical contexts on dimensions of discourse theory aspects of discourse communities and the sorts of knowledge people access and use in producing written texts on writing in school related contexts and on several dimensions of nonacademic writing A fifth section contains a bibliographic survey and an appreciation of James Kinneavy's work The exceptional range of these essays makes A Rhetoric of Doing an ecumenical examination of the current state of mind in rhetoric and written communication a survey and description of what discourse and those in the field of discourse are in fact doing

Contextualizing Gender in Early Christian Discourse Caroline Vander Stichele, Todd Penner, 2009-06-30 In this book Vander Stichele and Penner introduce their own gender critical approach to the New Testament and other early Christian writings Building on feminist and post colonial insights they explore the importance of gender in both text and context and discuss the diverse issues involved in interpretation as they relate to gender sex and sexuality The authors also set out their methodology and highlight the various hermeneutical issues involved such as the complexity of gendered and sexed identities in antiquity and the gap that exists between modern and ancient conceptions thereof They further illustrate their gender critical approach with concrete examples from the Acts of the Apostles the letters of Paul and the Acts of Paul and Thecla in order to demonstrate how a gender critical approach works in practice As such this book is unique in terms of its range as well as in the explicit methodological focus that is fostered throughout
