Subjectivity The New Critical Idiom:

Subjectivity Donald Eugene Hall, 2004 Explores the history of theories of selfhood from the Classical era to the present and demonstrates how those theories can be applied in literary and cultural criticism Donald E Hall examines all of the major methodologies and theoretical emphases of the twentieth and twenty first centuries including psychoanalytic criticism materialism feminism and queer theory applies the theories discussed in detailed readings of literary and cultural texts from novels and poetry to film and the visual arts offers a unique perspective on our current obsession with perfecting our selves looks to the future of selfhood given the new identity possibilities arising out of developing technologies Examining some of the most exciting issues confronting cultural critics and readers today Subjectivity is the essential introduction to a fraught but crucial critical term and a challenge to the way we define our selves

The Self, Ethics & Human Rights Joseph Indaimo, 2015-02-11 This book explores how the notion of human identity informs the ethical goal of justice in human rights Within the modern discourse of human rights the issue of identity has been largely neglected However within this discourse lies a conceptualisation of identity that was derived from a particular liberal philosophy about the true nature of the isolated self determining and rational individual Rights are thus conceived as something that are owned by each independent self and that guarantee the exercise of its autonomy Critically engaging this subject of rights this book considers how recent shifts in the concept of identity and more specifically the critical humanist notion of the other provides a basis for re imagining the foundation of contemporary human rights Drawing on the work of Jacques Lacan and Emmanuel Levinas an inter subjectivity between self and other always already marks human identity with an ethical openness And this book argues it is in the shift away from the human self as a sovereign individual that human rights have come to reflect a self identity that is grounded in the potential of an irreducible concern for the other

The "I" and the "Eye" Pragyan Rath, 2011-05-25 The paradigmatic moment of the opposition between the verbal and the visual arts may be seen in Lessing's treatise on the Laocoön sculptural group written in 1766 a moment that is identified within a historical framework of modern aesthetics that begins

A Nomadic Pedagogy about Technology John R. Dakers, 2022-11-21 Although technology education is in desperate need of reform the new refuses to be born Despite the introduction of technological literacy the evolving merger with science mathematics and engineering STEM and even a proposed merger between STEM and the arts STEAM nothing has changed The subject continues to be a craft based vocationally orientated subject Human beings have always had a relationship with technology but never before has the progression of technological development had such an impact on the environment one which has led to the birth of the Anthropocene This poses the greatest existential threat ever known to the future of human existence Those in power continue to turn a blind eye to this threat Moreover technology education today does not reflect issues relating to our technologically textured lifeworld Given that it is the young who will inherit this potentially dystopic future they must be given a voice one in which they can reimagine their futures in a sustainable way This book explores the development of ethnotechnological literacy as delivered by a radical new nomadic pedagogy inspired by the philosophy of Deleuze and Guattari one that can enable these voices to be expressed and more importantly to be heard Articulations of Self and Politics in Activist Discourse Jan Zienkowski, 2016-10-27 This book focuses on the discursive processes that allow activists to make sense of themselves and of the modes of politics they engage in It shows how political and metadiscursive awareness develop in tandem with a reconfiguration of one's sense of self The author offers an integrated pragmatic and poststructuralist perspective on self and subjectivity He draws on Essex style discourse theory early pragmatist philosophy and linguistic pragmatics arguing for a notion of discourse as a multi dimensional practice of articulation Demonstrating the analytical power of this perspective he puts his approach to work in an analysis of activist discourse on integration and minority issues in Flanders Belgium Subjects articulate a whole range of norms values identities and narratives to each other when they engage in political discourse This book offers a way to analyse the logics that structure political awareness and the associated boundaries for discursive self interpretation Do You Feel it Too? Nicoline Timmer, 2010 Do You Feel It Too explores a new sense of self that is becoming manifest in experimental fiction written by a generation of authors who can be considered the heirs of the postmodern tradition It offers a precise in depth analysis of a new post postmodern direction in fiction writing and highlights which aspects are most acute in the post postmodern novel Most notable is the emphatic expression of feelings and sentiments and a drive toward inter subjective connection and communication The self that is presented in these post postmodern works of fiction can best be characterized as relational To analyze this new sense of self a new interpretational method is introduced that offers a sophisticated approach to fictional selves combining the insights of post classical narratology and what is called narrative psychology Close analyses of three contemporary experimental texts Infinite Jest 1996 by David Foster Wallace A Heartbreaking Work of Staggering Genius 2000 by Dave Eggers and House of Leaves 2000 by Mark Danielewski provide insight into the typical problems that the self experiences in postmodern cultural contexts Three such problems or symptoms are singled out and analyzed in depth an inability to choose because of a lack of decision making tools a difficulty to situate or appropriate feelings and a structural need for a we a desire for connectivity and sociality The critique that can be distilled from these texts especially on the perceived solipsistic quality of postmodern experience worlds runs parallel to developments in recent critical theory These developments in fiction and theory both signal in the wake of poststructural conceptions of subjectivity a perhaps much awaited turn to the human in our culture at large today Whole, bright, deep with understanding José Augusto Pacheco, 2009-01-01 This book is about William Pinar one of the best known authors in the field of curriculum studies The main contribution of William Pinar is not to determine the curriculum He is involved in a continuous struggle to help students and teachers reflect about their personal experiences educational and curricular options The book has been organized in five chapters The first chapter discursive construct includes the identification of William Pinar from his own roots as a student and as a teacher and the schools of thought that influenced his work The second chapter is concerned with Curriculum Studies as an academic field answering the questions What is Curriculum Theory What does the reconceptualization movement mean What is post Reconceptualization The following chapter is about Pinar s curriculum theorizing including a particular mode de penser schooling school and teacher education as well as curriculum as comparative language and currere as method The fourth chapter is about his life experiences particularly the sense of South and includes Pinar s transdiscursivity searching for the author function features through the foundational Journal and the Internationalization of Curriculum Studies The last chapter includes some contributions of the studies of William Pinar and Ivor Goodson concerning research in the field of curriculum by Ant nio Fl vio Moreira a well known scholar in Brazil and Portugal
