Subsidies In World Fisheries A Reexamination:

Subsidies in World Fisheries Matteo Milazzo, 1998-01-01 In the past six years the world's fishery sector has reached a turning point with global fish production reaching a plateau of approximately 100 million tons annually While aquaculture output continued to grow yields from capture fisheries were uneven and showed increasing signs of stagnation because of widespread overfishing and overcapitalization ineffective management deteriorating resource health declining or flat global harvests and inefficient economic and trade policies This paper examines the role of subsidies in fisheries Fisheries Subsidies, Sustainable Development and the WTO Anja von Moltke, 2014-10-14 Chapter 3 National Experiences with Subsidies their Impacts and Reform Processes Introduction Fisheries Subsidies The Senegalese Experience The Impact of Fisheries Subsidies on Tuna Sustainability and Trade in Ecuador Fisheries Subsidy Reform in Norway Common lessons from Senegal Ecuador and Norway Cases Chapter 4 Emergence of an International Issue History of Fisheries Subsidies in the WTO Introduction Phase I Early Analysis and Preliminary International Action Phase II Globalization and the Shift of Focus to the WTO Phase III The WTO Negotiations Take Shape The Economics and Management of World Fisheries Trond Bjørndal, Gordon Munro, 2012-10-25 Over the past several decades there has been increasing interest in and concern about the economics of the world's capture fishery resources Massive amounts of resource rent are being lost because of inadequate management and major rebuilding of fishery resources is called for This book draws together the latest economic theory of the management of these resources at both the national and the international levels and highlights areas where further research is urgently required The emphasis is on world capture fisheries rather than fisheries of specific regions and examples are drawn upon from both developed and developing countries It combines economic theory and empirical testing with an examination and analysis of resource policy options with particular emphasis on fisheries management policies at the international level where some of the most difficult resource management problems are found The authors maintain that capture fishery resources are properly viewed as a part of society's portfolio of natural capital assets Consequently a central theme of the book is that managing such resources should be viewed as asset management through time Written by two leading authorities this accessible textbook has been specially developed to meet the needs of students taking courses on fisheries management as well as professionals working in this area for governments and international organisations

Nordquist: Current fisheries issues H, Moore, 2021-11-01 Economic Management of Marine Living Resources David Whitmarsh, 2013-10-18 This textbook has two main objectives Firstly it outlines the problems associated with the management and conservation of marine living resources with particular attention given to the twin concepts of economic value and sustainability It demonstrates the contribution that economics can make to understanding these problems as well as helping to frame policies to mitigate them Secondly it looks in detail at the key methods that may be used to collect and analyse socio economic data oriented towards the information needs of decision makers and stakeholders involved in fisheries management Together these two objectives address the question how does society make the best use of its marine living resources

Ecosystem Management and Sustainability Robin Kundis Craig, John Copeland Nagle, Bruce Pardy, Oswald J. Schmitz, William K. Smith, Norman L. Christensen Jr, Janet Neuman, 2012-02-27 Ecosystem Management and Sustainability analyzes myriad human initiated processes and tools developed to foster sustainable natural resource use preservation and restoration It also examines how humans interact with plant marine and animal life in both natural and human altered environments Experts explain the complex ecosystem relationships that result from invasive species roads fencing and even our homes by addressing topics such as fire and groundwater management disturbance and ecosystem resilience Because most people in the 21st century live in urban environments the volume pays special attention to the ecology of cities with detailed coverage on topics ranging from urban agriculture to landscape architecture The volume focuses on how ecosystems across the world can be restored maintained and used productively and sustainably

Saving Global Fisheries J. Samuel Barkin, Elizabeth R. DeSombre, 2013 A proposal for a new global approach for fisheries focused on reducing fishing capacity and providing incentives for long term sustainability The Earth's oceans are overfished despite more than fifty years of cooperation among the world's fishing nations There are too many boats chasing too few fish In Saving Global Fisheries J Samuel Barkin and Elizabeth DeSombre analyze the problem of overfishing and offer a provocative proposal for a global regulatory and policy approach Existing patterns of international fisheries management try to limit the number of fish that can be caught while governments simultaneously subsidize increased fishing capacity focusing on fisheries as an industry to be developed rather than on fish as a resource to be conserved Regionally based international management means that protection in one area simply shifts fishing efforts to other species or regions Barkin and DeSombre argue that global rather than regional regulation is necessary for successful fisheries management and emphasize the need to reduce subsidies They propose an international system of individual transferable quotas that would give holders of permits an interest in the long term health of fish stocks and help create a sustainable level of fishing capacity globally

Fish to 2020 Christopher L. Delgado, 2003 The seemingly inexhaustible oceans have proved to be finite after all Capture of wild fish have leveled off since the mid 1980s and many stocks of fish are fished so heavily that their future is threatened And yet the world's appetite for fish has continued to increase particularly as urban populations and incomes grow in developing countries Aquaculture fish farming has arrived to meet this increased demand Production of fish from aquaculture has exploded in the past 20 years and continues to expand around the world But will aquaculture be sufficient to provide affordable fish to the world over the next 20 years And what environmental and poverty problems will aquaculture face as it expands Using a state of the art computer model of global supply and demand for food and feed commodities this book projects the likely changes in the fisheries sector over the next two decades As prices for most food commodities fall fish prices are expected to rise reflecting demand for fish that outpaces the ability of the world to supply it The model shows that developing countries will consume and produce a much greater share of the world's fish in the future and trade in fisheries commodities will also increase. The authors show the causes and implications of these and other changes and argue for specific actions and policies that can improve outcomes for the poor and for the environment. Interdisciplinary and Sustainability Issues in Food and Agriculture - Volume II Olaf Christen, Victor Squires, Rattan Lal and Rober J.

Hudson, 2010-05-24 Interdisciplinary and Sustainability Issues in Food and Agriculture is a component of Encyclopedia of Food and Agricultural Sciences Engineering and Technology Resources in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty one Encyclopedias. The Theme on Interdisciplinary and Sustainability Issues in Food and Agriculture provides the essential aspects and discusses a number of issues of importance in the development of specific agriculture and food supply systems that are closely related to general developmental trends of humankind. In this context technology and economic development as well as socio-cultural developments affect productivity and a secure supply with food. These three volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences: University and College students, Educators, Professional practitioners, Research personnel and Policy analysts, managers and decision makers and NGOs. Interpretive Quantification J. Samuel Barkin, Laura Sjöberg, 2017-01-27

Countering the growing divide between positivists who embrace quantitative numerical approaches and post-positivist scholars who favor qualitative interpretive approaches. J. Samuel Barkin and Laura Sjöberg argue that both methods are more widely adaptable than is commonly assumed by either camp. In Interpretive Quantification ten highly regarded scholars in the field of International Relations apply quantitative methods and formal models to specific constructivist and critical research questions. In this way each chapter serves not only as evidence that methods can productively be applied across paradigms but also as a guide as to how this may be done. In sum the contributors make a compelling case that when researchers cordon off particular methods for merely ideological reasons they circumscribe their own paradigms and hinder their own research agenda. The State of World Fisheries and Aquaculture 2004 Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2004-01-01 This biennial report sets out a comprehensive review of world fisheries and aquaculture as well as examining selected policy issues including capture-based aquaculture, labour standards, fisheries management and CITES trade issues, depleted stocks, recovery, deep water fisheries, production forecasts to 2030, fisheries subsidies and fishing capacity. Findings include that developments in world fisheries and aquaculture during recent years have continued to follow the trends that were already becoming apparent at the end of the 1990s with capture fisheries production stagnating, aquaculture output expanding and growing concerns with regard to safeguarding the livelihoods of fishers and the sustainability of both commercial catches and the aquatic ecosystem from which they are extracted. The Sunken Billions World Bank, Food and Agriculture Organization, 2009-02-25 The Sunken Billions The Economic Justification for Fisheries Reform shows the difference between the potential and actual net economic benefits from marine fisheries is about 50 billion per year or some 2 trillion over the last three decades If fish stocks were rebuilt the current marine catch could be achieved with approximately half the current global fishing effort This illustrates the massive overcapacity of the global fleet The excess competition for the limited fish resources results in declining productivity economic inefficiency and depressed fisher incomes The focus on the deteriorating biological health of world fisheries has tended to obscure their equally critical economic health Achieving sustainable fisheries presents challenges not only of biology and ecology but also of managing political and economic processes and replacing pernicious incentives with those that foster improved governance and responsible stewardship Improved governance of marine fisheries could regain a substantial part of this annual economic loss and contribute to economic growth Fisheries governance reform is a long term process requiring political will and consensus vision built through broad stakeholder dialogue Reforms will require investment in good governance including strengthening marine tenure systems and reducing illegal fishing and harmful subsidies Realizing the potential economic benefits of fisheries means reducing fishing effort and capacity To offset the associated social adjustment costs successful reforms should provide for social safety nets and alternative economic opportunities for affected communities

Encyclopedia of Environment and Society Paul Robbins, 2007-08-27 As befits the topic this beautifully packaged wonderfully illustrated interdisciplinary resource has more than 1200 entries written by specialists A helpful reader's guide groups topics like agriculture conservation and ecology movements and regulations politics pollution and society A resource guide chronology glossary and list of the UN's economic indicators complete the set Library Journal this important work gives a well focused snapshot of environmentalism in the early 21st Century and it will remain valuable into the future both for its content and as a yardstick to measure progress toward sustainability and conservation Summing Up Recommended Undergraduates and general readers CHOICE Booklist Editors Choice 2008 This superb interdisciplinary work should find a place on the shelves of every public and academic library that has the least bit of interest in environment issues which should mean just about all Booklist Starred Review

Where does the environment leave off and society begin When expanding production and consumption drives greenhouse gas emissions that warm the planet which in turn influence the conditions of economic expansion it is unclear where the climate ends and the economy begins This fact is not new to our era however our social and natural sciences have only recently come to grips with the incredible complexity of the world described by understanding the environment and society as being of a piece As a result in the last decade there has been an unprecedented explosion of new concepts theories facts and techniques that follow from such an understanding The Encyclopedia of Environment and Society brings together multiplying issues concepts theories examples problems and policies with the goal of clearly explicating an emerging way of thinking about people and nature With more than 1 200 entries written by experts from incredibly diverse fields this innovative resource is a first step toward diving into the deep pool of emerging knowledge The five volumes of this Encyclopedia represent more than a catalogue of terms Rather they capture the spirit of the moment a fascinating time when global warming and genetic engineering represent only two of the most obvious examples of socio environmental issues

Key Features Examines many new ideas about how the world works what creates the daunting problems of our time and how such issues might be addressed whether by regulation markets or new ethics Demonstrates how theories of environmental management based on market efficiency may not be easily reconciled with those that focus on population and both may certainly diverge from those centering on ethics justice or labor Offers contributions from experts in their fields of specialty including geographers political scientists chemists anthropologists medical practitioners development experts and sociologists among many others Explores the emerging socio environmental problems that we face in the next century as well as the shifting and expanding theoretical tools available for tackling these problems Covers regions of North America in greater detail but also provides a comprehensive picture that approaches as effectively as possible a cohesive global vision

Key Themes Agriculture Animals Biology and Chemistry Climate Conservation and Ecology Countries Geography History Movements and Regulations Organizations People Politics Pollution Society Packed with essential and up to date information on the state of the global socio environment the Encyclopedia of Environment and Society is a time capsule of its historic moment and a record of where we stand at the start of the 21st century making it a must have resource for any library These inspiring volumes provide an opportunity for more new ways of thinking behaving and living in a more than human world

Fisheries Management Giulio Pontecorvo, William E. Schrank, 2009-07-08 Examines the underlying root causes of our failure to successfully manage the fishery resources of the world s oceans This book offers alternative solutions that can allow human society to maximize the long term benefits form ocean resources It is of interest to academics in economics business environmental sciences and sociology

Offshore Aquaculture United States. Congress. Senate. National Ocean Policy Study, 2011

The Natural Wealth of Nations David Roodman, 2014-04-08 Every year the world s governments spend over US 700 billion subsidizing activities that harm the environment The Natural Wealth of Nations shows how cutting these wasteful subsidies can actually boost the economy save tax and help the environment By raising taxes on harmful activities like air pollution whilst cutting taxes on payrolls and profits pollution is discouraged and both work and investment boosted In a comprehensive global survey The Natural Wealth of Nations provides examples from Sweden to Spain to Malaysia of the growing number of countries that are successfully using these market based approaches to clean up their environments This is an accessible practical book offering concrete proposals for cleaning up the world s environment and overcoming ecological ignorance

Posthuman Dialogues in International Relations Erika Cudworth, Stephen Hobden, Emilian Kavalski, 2017-08-10 Posthumanism represents a significant new research direction both for International Relations and the social sciences It emerges from questions about inter species relations which challenge dominant perceptions of what it means to be human Rather than seeing the human species as in nature posthumanist thinking considers the species as of nature The work of posthumanist thinkers has sought to dispute accepted notions of what it means to be human raising profound questions about our relations with the rest of nature The volume commences with an overview of the influence thinkers have had on the development of posthumanist thinking Key ideas in International Relations are interrogated and reconceptualised and specific case studies are presented with a focus on inter species relations The work allows for a consideration of the limits of the posthumanist move and provides space for critics to argue that such an approach opens the discipline up to a biological determinism and that a focus on inter human relations should mark the boundaries of the discipline The essays collected in this volume provide an overview of contributions from posthumanist thinkers with the particular intention of providing a succinct introduction to the area and should appeal to scholars and students in Politics IR and philosophy

Advances in Fisheries Bioeconomics Juan Carlos Seijo, Jon G. Sutinen, 2018-04-17 Efforts to effectively conserve and manage marine resources are facing increasing complexity of environmental and governance challenges To address some of these challenges this book presents advancements in fisheries bioeconomics research that provides significant ideas for addressing emerging environmental and fisheries management issues Advances in Fisheries Bioeconomics gives insights into innovative approaches dealing with these issues as well as novel ideas on changes in fisheries management paradigms With contributions from leading experts in the field this book offers an examination of a number of topics including ecosystem based fisheries management by catch management and discard bans the number of players in the fisheries game the effects of ocean acidification and the trends and impacts of eco labeling and eco certification of fisheries Through integrating resource biology and ecology with the economics of fishers behaviour the authors provide valuable analysis of the current issues in fisheries management This book will be of interest to those on advanced courses in fisheries science natural resource biology and ecology and environmental and natural resource economics It will also appeal to researchers policy makers and advocacy groups around the world

Fishing Power Europe Mihail Vatsov, 2023-01-01 This book examines how the EU and international law frameworks impact the EU's ability to act normatively in its external action in the area of fisheries The EU a major fishing power portrays itself as a normative actor and a champion of sustainable fishing The volume reconceptualises the Normative Power Europe narrative by identifying three interrelated elements universality use of instruments and legitimacy as the key criteria against which to evaluate the normativity of the EU's conduct The universality element examines the level of international acceptance of the stated aims of EU action the use of instruments element examines the EU's participation limitations in relevant international institutions and the means persuasion as opposed to coercion through which it acts and the legitimacy element examines the substance of the EU's action in terms of legality protection of common or self interests and coherence and consistency The book draws upon extensive research into both the international and EU legal frameworks relating to fisheries and the EU's practice in its external fisheries relations It consecutively discusses four sets of challenges i to the EU's normativity posed by lack of membership in global institutions ii created notwithstanding membership in other global or regional bodies iii connected to multileveled coercive action and iv to accessing foreign fishing resources It claims that while the EU's normativity depends greatly on its internal and external powers it is the EU's inability to freely wield these powers that damages its normativity To act normatively the EU primarily needs the full Member States support as its present constitution prevents it from acting completely independently from them The volume is aimed at academics and practitioners alike working in the area of fisheries globally but also on the EU's external action more generally Mihail Vatsov is Programme Manager with the European Commission in Brussels Belgium      Papers Presented at the Expert Consultation on Economic Incentives and Responsible Fisheries Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2001 The papers comprise background information and discussion guidelines by the FAO Secretariat a thorough and exhaustive review of the concepts that have been used to define fishery subsidies a review of the published assessment of the public sector subsidies to the fishery sector and their impact on trade of fish and fish products and fishery resource sustainability and a review of methodologies used to assess the trade distorting impact of subsidies to the fishery sector
