French critics were again given the opportunity to view films from Hollywood The films they saw including The Maltese Falcon Double Indemnity Laura Murder My Sweet and The Woman in the Window prompted the naming and theorization of a new phenomenon film noir Much of what has been written about the genre since has remained within the orbit of this preliminary assessment While sympathetic towards the early French critics this collection of original essays attempts to move beyond their first fascinated look Beginning with an autonomy of that look of the poujadist climate that nourished it and the imminent collapse of the Hollywood studio system that gave it its mournful inflection Shades of Noir re explores and calls into question the object first constructed by it The impetus for this shift in perspective comes from the films themselves viewed in the light of contemporary social and political concerns and from new theoretical insights Several contributions analyze the re emergence of noir in recent years most notably in the hybrid forms produced in the 1980s by the merging of noir with science fiction and horror for example Blade Runner and Angel Heart and in films by black directors such as Deep Cover Straight out of Brooklyn A Rage in Harlem and One False Move Other essays focus on the open urban territory in which the noir hero hides out the office spaces in Chandler and the palpable sense of waiting that fills empty warehouses corridors and hotel rooms Finally Shades of Noir pays renewed attention to the lethal relation between the sexes to the femme fatale and the other women in noir As the role of women expands the femme fatale remains deadly but her deadliness takes on new meanings Contributors Janet Bergstrom Joan Copjec Elizabeth Cowie Manthia Diawara Frederic Jameson Dean MacCannell Fred Pfeil David Reid and Jayne L Walker Marc Vernet Slavoj Zizek      Beyond a Joke Neil Archer, 2016-10-27 At the opening ceremony for the London 2012 Olympics a global audience of nearly one billion viewers were treated to the unprecedented sight of James Bond meeting Queen Elizabeth II Shortly after the Queen hurled herself out of a helicopter her Union Jack parachute guiding her down to the Olympic Stadium What it is about moments such as these that define both a particular idea of Britishness and a particular type of British film comedy How has British cinema exploited parody as a means of negotiating its sense of identity How does this function within a globalized marketplace and in the face of dominant Hollywood cinema Beyond a Joke explores the myriad ways British film culture has used forms of parody from the 1960s to the present day It provides a contextual and textual analysis of a range of works that while popular have only rarely been the subject of serious academic attention from Morecambe and Wise to Shaun of the Dead to the London 2012 Olympics opening ceremony Combining the methodologies both of film history and film theory Beyond a Joke locates parody within specific industrial and cultural moments while also looking in detail at the aesthetics of parody as a mode Ultimately such works are shown to be a form of culturally specific film or televisual product for exporting to the global market in which Britishness shaped in self mocking and ironic terms becomes the selling point Written in an accessible style and illustrated throughout with a diverse range of examples Beyond a Joke is the first book to explore parody within a specifically British context and makes an invaluable contribution to the scholarship on both British and global film culture

Rethinking Genre in Contemporary Global Cinema Silvia Dibeltulo, Ciara Barrett, 2018-08-02 Rethinking Genre in Contemporary Global Cinema offers a unique wide ranging exploration of the intersection between traditional modes of film production and new transitional transnational approaches to film genre and related discourses in a contemporary global context This volume's content the films genres and movements explored as well as methodologies used in their analysis is diverse and crucially up to date with contemporary film making practice and theory Significantly the collection extends existing scholarly discourse on film genre beyond its historical bias towards a predominant focus on Hollywood cinema on the one hand and a tendency to treat other national cinemas in isolation and or as distinct systems of production on the other In view of the ever increasing globalisation and transnational mediation of film texts and screen media and culture worldwide the book recognises the need for film genre studies and film genre criticism to cast a broader indeed global scope The collection thus rethinks genre cinema as a transitional cross cultural and increasingly transnational global paradigm of film making in diverse contexts

Reading Mystery Science Theater 3000 Shelley S. addresses MST3K's function as an exercise in rhetorical resistance Part Two Mystery Science Theater 3000 and Genre analyzes MST3K through distinct generic traditions including humor studies traditional science fiction tropes and the B movie Finally the third section addresses postmodern and intertextual readings of the show By providing an academic treatment of an iconic television phenomenon these essays argue that Mystery Science Theater 3000 is worthy of serious scholarly attention Though aimed at a discerning readership of academics this collection will also appeal to the intellectual nature of the show's well educated audience
