Aging and the Art of Living Jan Baars, 2012-08-20 In this deeply considered meditation on aging in Western culture Jan Baars argues that in today's world living longer does not necessarily mean living better He contends that there has been an overall loss of respect for aging to the point that understanding and dealing with aging people has become a process focused on the decline of potential and the advance of disease rather than on the accumulation of wisdom and the creation of new skills To make his case Baars compares and contrasts the works of such modern era thinkers as Foucault Heidegger and Husserl with the thought of Plato Aristotle Sophocles Cicero and other Ancient and Stoic philosophers He shows how people in the classical period less able to control health hazards had a far better sense of the provisional nature of living which led to a philosophical and religious emphasis on cultivating the art of living and the idea of wisdom This is not to say that modern society's assessments of aging are insignificant but they do need to balance an emphasis on the measuring of age with the concept of living in time Gerontologists philosophers and students will find Baars discussion to be a powerful perceptive conversation starter W Andrew Achenbaum author of Older Americans Vital Communities Menopause in Iranian Muslim Women Elham Amini, 2023-11-29 This book offers an original empirical study into the gendered and sexual experiences of Iranian Muslim women going through menopause Using a biographical lifecourse lens it explores the processes through which these experiences are shaped by hegemonic gender norms as well as how these women express their agency Centering the voices of Iranian Muslim women this book links sexuality ageing and the body to the matter of menopause conceived here as a gendered embodied and lived phenomenon characterised both by cultural constraint and by individual reflexive body techniques By considering gender and sexuality as vectors of power with internal politics inequalities and oppression alongside embodied practice the author shows how the life course provides a trajectory of sex and sexuality that routes both in time space social and cultural context International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home, 2012-10-09 Available online via SciVerse ScienceDirect or in print for a limited time only The International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home Seven Volume Set is the first international reference work for housing scholars and professionals that uses studies in economics and finance psychology social policy sociology anthropology geography architecture law and other disciplines to create an international portrait of housing in all its facets from meanings of home at the microscale to impacts on macro economy This comprehensive work is edited by distinguished housing expert Susan J Smith together with Marja Elsinga Ong Seow Eng Lorna Fox O Mahony and Susan Wachter and a multi disciplinary editorial team of 20 world class scholars in all Working at the cutting edge of their subject liaising with an expert editorial advisory board and engaging with policy makers and professionals the editors have worked for almost five years to secure the quality reach relevance and coherence of this work A broad and inclusive table of contents signals or testifies to detailed investigation of historical and theoretical material as well as in depth analysis of current issues This seven volume set contains over 500 entries listed alphabetically but grouped into seven thematic sections including methods and approaches economics and finance environments home and homelessness institutions policy and welfare and well being Housing professionals both academics and practitioners will find The International Encyclopedia of Housing and Home useful for teaching discovery and research needs International in scope engaging with trends in every world region The editorial board and contributors are drawn from a wide constituency collating expertise from academics policy makers professionals and practitioners and from every key center for housing
