Kress,1988 Social Semiotics is a major new textbook in communication and cultural studies It offers a comprehensive and original approach to the study of the ways in which meaning is constituted in social life Hodge and Kress begin from the assumption that signs and messages the subject matter of semiotics must always be situated within the context of social relations and processes They then show what is involved in analysing different kinds of messages from literary texts TV programmes and billboards to social interactions in the family and the school While presenting a judicious assessment of different perspectives Hodge and Kress also develop their own distinctive and highly fruitful approach demonstrating how semiotics can be integrated with the social analysis of power and ideology space and time and gender and class Social Semiotics is richly illustrated with examples and written in a clear style which does not presuppose prior knowledge of the field It will become a key textbook for courses in communications media and cultural studies and will be of general interest to students of sociology literature and linguistics   The Social Semiotics of Mass Communication Klaus Bruhn Jensen,1995-07-11 This text offers a framework for understanding the key role of the mass media in the social production of meaning It draws on classic positions on the relations between communications and society and on recent work in both social sciences and humanities   Language as Social Semiotic Michael Alexander Kirkwood Halliday,1978   The Social Semiotics of Populism Sebastián Moreno Barreneche,2023-01-26 The concept of populism is currently used by scholars the media and political actors to refer to multiple and disparate manifestations and phenomena from across both the left and the right ends of the political spectrum As a result it defies neat definition as scholarship on the topic has shown over the last 50 years In this book Sebasti n Moreno Barreneche approaches populism from a semiotic perspective and argues that it constitutes a specific social discourse grounded on a distinctive narrative structure that is brought to life by political actors that are labelled populist Conceiving of populism as a mode of semiotic production that is based on a conception of the social space as divided into two groups the People and the Other this book uses semiotic theory to make sense of this political phenomenon Exploring how the categories of the People and the Other are discursively constructed by populist political actors through the use of semiotic resources the ways in which meaning emerges through the oppositions between imagined collective actors is explained Drawing on examples from Europe North America and South America The Social Semiotics of Populism presents a systematic semiotic approach to this multifaceted political concept and bridges semiotic theory and populism studies in an original manner Social Semiotics Thomas Hestbaek Andersen,Morten Boeriis,Eva Maagerø,Elise Seip Tonnessen,2015-03-27 M A K Halliday s work has been hugely influential in linguistics and beyond since the 1960s This is a collection of interviews with key figures in the generation of social semioticians who have taken Halliday s concept of social semiotics and developed it further in various directions making their own original contributions to theory and practice This book highlights their main lines of thought and considers how they relate to both the original concept of social semiotics and to each other Key themes include Linguistic studies multilinguality and evolution of language Text discourse and classroom studies Digital texts computer communication and science teaching Multimodal text and discourse analysis Education and literacy Media work and visual and audio modes Critical Discourse Analysis Featuring interviews with leading figures from linguistics education and communication studies a framing introduction and concluding chapter summing up commonalities and differences connections and conflicts and key themes this is essential reading for any scholar or student working in the area of social semiotics and systemic functional linguistics Additional video resources are available on the Routledge website Featuring Christian M I M Matthiessen Theo Van Leeuwen James R Martin Jay Lemke Gunther Kress Social Semiotics As Praxis Paul J.
