social and education policy New Zealand presents a paradigm example of the neo liberal shift in political philosophy From constituting the social laboratory of the Western world in the 1930s in terms of social welfare provision New Zealand has become the neo liberal experiment of the fully marketised society in the 1990s Against the theoretical background of educational theory and practice this book examines neo liberalism and its critiques as responses to the so called crisis of the welfare state and argues for a reformulated critical social policy in the postmodern condition The conclusions about social policy drawn by the authors can be generalized to similar situations in other Western capitalist countries
