Airlangga Priyadi Kusman, 2018-07-17 This book explores the role of intellectuals and governance processes in post authoritarian Indonesia Focusing on East Java the author argues that intellectuals have played an increasingly direct and practical role in the exercise of governance at the local level of Indonesian politics The book provides insights into how the collaboration between intellectuals and local politico business elites has shaped good governance and democratic institution building validating power structures that continue to obstruct political participation in the country In addition the book also delves into the contribution of local intellectuals in resolving the contradictions between technocratic ideas and governance practices in the interest of local elites Empirical studies included in the book add to the broader literature on the social role of intellectuals highlighting their role as not just defined by their capacity to produce and circulate knowledge but also by their particular position in concrete social and political struggle The author also explores the manner in which relationships between intellectuals business and political elites and NGOs in local political and economic practices intersect with national level contests over power and resources Culture and Power in Traditional Siamese Government Neil A.

Palmer, Debra J. Occhi, 1999-12-15 Working from Radcliffe Brown's landmark concept of social sentiments anthropologists and linguists examine pragmatic and cognitive dimensions of emotion language in several societies Introductory and concluding chapters devote special attention to emotional consciousness Chapters cover language primordialism in Tamil Harold Schiffman the erasure of lamentation in Bangla in favor of referential language praxis James Wilce women's discourse in Java that creates dignity by reframing the pain of humiliation Laine Berman speech styles signalling intimacy and remoteness in Japanese Cynthia Dunn divergent conceptions of love in Japanese and translated American romance novels Janet Shibamoto Smith the syntax of emotion mimetics in Japanese Debra Occhi the grammar of emotion metaphors in Tagalog Gary Palmer Heather Bennett and Lester Stacey and the lexical organization of emotions in the English and Spanish of second language learners Howard Grabois Zolt n K vecses with Palmer examines the complementary relationship of social construction theory to the search for universals of emotional experience Series B      Marginality, Power and Social Structure Rutledge M. Dennis, 2005-04-08 The articles in this book are intended to be a much needed corrective to the literature on marginality In the recent past and at present the concept of marginality has been used with little specificity and when used with specificity the delineation of the complex dimensions of the term has been less than satisfactory To illustrate the many ways in which marginality exists and operates in many societies Rutledge Dennis has assembled a rich array of articles designed to highlight the history and evolution of the concept of marginality along with the theorists issues and situations which prompted the use of the term and the issues for which the term is applicable today The very title of the volume comes into play here because though many of the early marginality theorists took the term into the realm of psychology the contributors to this volume who discussed the theory highlighted the social structural foundation of marginality Dennis sought a marriage of theory and research while assembling the articles for this volume For this reason he actively sought papers which used divergent research strategies to uncover the existence of marginality in its various forms and contexts Thus some of the papers utilize ethnographic and life history approaches whereas others use statistical analysis and historical data analysis In addition to theoretical and methodological concerns a major theme for this volume is the combination of both theory and method towards an investigation of issues and problems emanate from the social structure and are closely linked to power and domination
