Stabilizing Craniocervical Operations Calcium Antagonists in SAH Current Legal Issues K.-A. Bushe, Mario Brock, Margareta Klinger, 2012-12-06 Demands on a Neurosurgeon Under Routine Clinical Conditions Hardly any other field of surgery requires such meticulous asepsis No other field requires such a protection of the tissue and such reliable hemostasis No one will question that neurosurgery makes exceedingly high demands However the degree of the demands on the personality of the surgeon who has to carry out very serious operations to the exclusion of all others and has little opportunity to recover psychologically by working on simpler cases is concealed from the outer world The mental strain which the coworkers and staff have to tolerate may not be denied So wrote Wilhelm Tonnies in 1939 Although fifty years have now elapsed his appraisal is still relevant today hence my intention to discuss the everyday demands placed on neurosurgeons My aim is not self glorification to engender sympathy rather it is to highlight the effects and repercussions of such demands for the well being of the patients entrusted to us The major onerous demands include those in the operating theater those resulting from staff problems in nursing those resulting from legal developments those resulting from the increasing administrative tasks that cost valuable time and energy which are lost to our actual work in looking after patients science and research also suffer from this I shall not go into the latter point within this preface Let me first turn to the strains occurring in the operating theater
