Reference and Information Services Richard E. Bopp, Linda C. Smith, 2011-05-23 Reflecting the dramatic changes shaped by rapidly developing technologies over the past six years this new fourth edition of Reference and Information Services takes the introduction to reference sources and services significantly beyond the content of the first three editions In Part I Concepts and Processes chapters have been revised and updated to reflect new ideas and methods in the provision of reference service in an era when many users have access to the Web In Part II Information Sources and Their Use discussion of each source type has been updated to encompass key resources in print and on the Web where an increasing number of freely available sources join those purchased or licensed by libraries A number of new authors are contributors to this new edition bringing to their chapters their experience as teachers of reference and as practitioners in different types of libraries Discussions of services in Part I integrate digital reference as appropriate to each topic such as how to conduct a reference interview online using instant messaging Boxes interspersed in the text are used to present scenarios for discussion to highlight key concepts or to present excerpts from important documents Discussions of sources in Part II place more emphasis on designing effective search strategies using both print and digital resources The chapter on selection and evaluation of sources addresses the changing nature of reference collections and how to evaluate new types of sources Each chapter concludes with an updated list of additional readings to guide further study A new companion website will provide links to Web accessible readings and resources as well as additional scenarios for discussion and example search strategies to supplement those presented in the text

Cataloging Library Resources Marie Keen Shaw, 2017-01-26 While there are many cataloging texts very few are written specifically for library support staff This is the one and only book purposefully aligned with the new American Library Association Library Support Staff Certification LSSC competency standards for Cataloging and Classification Written in clear language by someone who teaches cataloging in a library support staff program and featuring practical examples Cataloging Library Resources An Introduction will help library support staff become effective catalogers Other books on this topic are written for professional librarians rather than support staff And although 85% of library support staff do not hold professional degrees many are expected to do the complex and technical work of catalogers This book provides many examples that support staff can use to learn how to catalog all types of library print media and digital materials using the most up to date Library of Congress standards Using this handbook as a guide readers will be able to perform the ALA LSSC cataloging and classification competencies and the new RDA FRBR and BIBFRAME standards listed below Apply and manage the appropriate processes computer technology and equipment for cataloging and classification Apply principles of Resource Description and Access RDA and the Functional Requirements for Bibliographic Records FRBR when creating cataloging records Apply principles of the Bibliographic Framework Initiative BIBFRAME and utilize the BIBFRAME model to create cataloging records Use the basic cataloging and classification tools both print and online including bibliographic utilities and format standards Understand the value of authority control and its basic principles and can identify and apply appropriate access points for personal names corporate bodies series and subjects Explain the value and advantages of cooperative or collaborative cataloging practices to enhance services Know the basics of standard metadata formats and cataloging rules to select review and edit catalog records and to generate metadata in various formats And more
