The Story of Narrative Preaching Mike Graves, 2015-03-02 Forty years ago the one thing that could be said about sermons was they were biblical Unfortunately they were sometimes tedious too Narrative preaching aimed to fix that advocating for a dynamic experience of the text over against a static lecture Preaching could be like the parables of Jesus intriguing and compelling The Story of Narrative Preaching is the story of seven students who are enrolled in Professor Freeman's preaching course Once a new trend narrative preaching is now older than most of them As Professor Freeman notes two things went wrong with narrative styles over time the church became biblically and theologically illiterate and the promised stress on experience didn't always measure up to the weight of the gospel Readers are invited to sit in on the class to reflect on the expositional nature of preaching and to experience the stories of some modern storytellers Flannery O'Connor Alice Walker and others to see what they might teach us about narratives of depth In the end we discover what may be the most important word in preaching

The Writer and the Cross Darren J.N. Middleton, 2022-06-27 Spiritually engaged readers commonly look toward fiction to better understand the depth of a faithful life and Christians are no exception Many followers of Jesus value beautifully written deftly characterized and pulse quickening literary art that seems more satisfying than dry tedious doctrinal textbooks This book surveys 12 pieces of historical fiction that feature notable Christian thinkers

They include an illustrated children's book about St Irenaeus of Lyons a novel about Martin Luther's Reformation a screenplay focusing on Dietrich Bonhoeffer and even a story about Pope Francis narrated in popular manga style Rather than arcane literary analyses this book provides thoughtful and sometimes painful interviews with the authors of the covered works Most interviewees are little known or emerging writers Some have published their work with a church or denominational press others with a major publishing empire or popular print on demand platforms Storytellers reflect on their literary choices and the contexts of their writing sharing what modern Christians can learn from historical religious fiction

Teaching the Tradition John J. Piderit, Melanie M. Morey, 2012-02-14 From the origin of universities through their first six hundred years of existence philosophy and theology were the central disciplines That changed dramatically in the nineteenth century As German universities started to establish chairs in mathematics chemistry and philology new academic departments became more distinct and religious issues formerly addressed gradually receded into the background This book focuses on religious issues relating to current academic disciplines Contributors draw upon insights from two theological essays to address religious themes especially Catholic ones pertinent to their discipline as it is taught on the undergraduate level In addition to Catholic anthropology and theology the chapters address Catholic issues in English literature philosophy political theory history mathematics biology physics and astronomy psychology environmental studies art music business and economics education medicine and law The Journal of sacred literature, ed. by J. War and Peace in Contemporary Eritrean Poetry Charles Cantalupo, 2009 War and Peace in Contemporary Eritrean Poetry focuses on Eritrean written poetry from roughly the last three decades of the twentieth century The poems appear in the anthology Who Needs a Story Contemporary Eritrean Poetry in Tigrinya Tigre and Arabic from which a selection is offered here in their original scripts of Ge'ez or Arabic and in English translation Who Needs a Story is the first anthology of contemporary poetry from Eritrea ever published and War and Peace in Contemporary Eritrean Poetry is the first book on the subject Therefore the groundbreaking effort of the former warrants a discussion of its means of cultural production All of the poets in Who Needs a Story participated in the Eritrean struggle for independence 1961-91 as freedom fighters and/or as supporters in the Eritrean diaspora Thus contemporary Eritrean poetry divides itself between experiences of war and peace although one can contain the other as well War and Peace in Contemporary Eritrean Poetry also includes an extended analysis of one of Eritrea's most famous contemporary poets Reesom Haile as an example of the kind of extended analysis that many of the poets of Who Needs a Story should stimulate and last but not least a meditation on how the author a non-native speaker personally becomes involved in Eritrean poetry translation Proceedings Pennsylvania State University. Schoolmen's Week, 1917 The Journal of Sacred Literature and Biblical Record B. Harris Cowper, 2022-04-26 Reprint of the original first published in 1863 Becoming John Updike Laurence W. Mazzeno, 2013 When John Updike died in 2009

tributes from the literary establishment were immediate and fulsome. However, no one reading reviews of Updike's work in the late 1960s would have predicted that kind of praise for a man who was known then as a brilliant stylist who had nothing to say. What changed? Why? And what is likely to be his legacy? These are the questions that Becoming John Updike pursues by examining the journalistic and academic response to his writings. Several things about Updike's career make a reception study appropriate. First, he was prolific; he began publishing fiction and essays in 1956, published his first book in 1958, and from then on brought out at least one new book each year. Second, his books were reviewed widely, usually in major American newspapers and magazines and often in foreign ones as well. Third, Updike quickly became a darling of academics; the first book about his work was published in 1967, less than a decade after his own first book. More than three dozen books and hundreds of articles of academic criticism have been devoted to Updike. The present volume will appeal to the continuing interest in Updike's writing among academics and general readers alike.

Laurence W. Mazzeno is President Emeritus of Alvernia University. Among other books, he has written volumes on Austen, Dickens, Tennyson, and Matthew Arnold for Camden House's Literary Criticism in Perspective series.

The Journal of Sacred Literature and Biblical Record, 1863 The Saturday Review of Politics, Literature, Science and Art, 1856 A Library of the World's Best Literature - Ancient and Modern - Vol. XLV (Forty-Five Volumes); Synopses of Famous Books & General Index

Charles Dudley Warner, 2009-01-01. It would be enough to recommend this astonishing 45-volume set, first published in 1896, if it were merely a wonderfully massive compilation of the world's best writings from the world's best authors up until the advent of the 20th century. But A Library of the World's Best Literature is so much more than that. For this marvelous collection represents the evolution of human thought, the evolution of human civilization, even as seen through the mind of one of the most important, if sadly almost forgotten, literary figures of the 19th century. Popular American essayist, novelist, and journalist CHARLES DUDLEY WARNER (1829-1900) was renowned for the warmth and intimacy of his writing, which encompassed travelogue, biography, and autobiography, fiction, and more, and influenced entire generations of his fellow writers. Here, the prolific writer turned editor for his final grand work, a splendid survey of global literature, classic and modern, and it's not too much to suggest that if his friend and colleague Mark Twain, who stole Warner's quip about how everybody complains about the weather but nobody does anything about it, had assembled this set, it would still be hailed today as one of the great achievements of the book world. And so it still deserves to be arranged not chronologically but alphabetically, mostly under the names of authors, but in some cases of literatures or special subjects, such as Icelandic literature or Arthurian legend. This set is no dry reference work. These eminently browsable volumes, available through Cosimo for the first time in decades in both paperback and hardcover editions, are meant to be read and enjoyed by anyone who loves the written word. Volume 45 features more synopses of notable works, from Adam Bede by George Eliot to Zury: The Meanest Man in Spring County by Joseph Kirkland, including many not previously referenced in the set but highlighted as well worth a serious reader's time and attention This volume also includes a General Index to the 45 volume set Proceedings ,1917 The Journal of Sacred Literature and Biblical Record John Kitto,Henry Burgess,Benjamin Harris Cowper,1863 Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 The Substance of Things Hoped for ,1987-12 Sharing the basic human theme of good versus evil these 21 short stories from contemporary Catholic writers confront the limitations of weakness and sinfulness and celebrate the open ended mysteries of life death and God Short Story Index ,1989 Christian Advocate ,1918
