readers alike Globalization and the Chinese City Fulong Wu, 2006-05-09 Introducing readers to the far reaching global orientation that is now taking place in urban China an international team of contributors describe overarching globalization through a detailed examination of the transformation of the built environment A range of urban development processes are analyzed including urbanization real estate development changing landscapes the industrial restructuring of the second tier city and the formation of the city region in the context of global and local interactions In examining city development and local practices as part of globalization processes the global city is treated as a collection of microcosms and concrete places overcoming the analytical tension of the dichotomy of the perceived East versus West divide What Images Do Jan

Backlund, Henrik Oxvig, Michael Renner, Martin Soberg, 2019-09-13 When images look like something they do so because they are different from what they resemble This difference is not sufficiently captured by the traditional theories of representation and mimesis and yet it is the condition for any such theory Various contemporary image theorists have pointed out that Plato already understood that images are not what they look like Images have their own existence which cannot be identified with a concept but should be examined in terms of actions This book comprises fifteen articles that investigate what images do particularly in relation to the disciplines of architecture design and visual arts It claims that it is the differentiating power of images their actions which constitutes their capacity to look like something they are not as well as create something that does not yet exist What Images Do addresses the crucial role that images might play in producing and investigating what we have not yet seen or understood in and of reality In the Midst of Things Mike Owen Benediktsson, 2025-06-17 How at the end of the 19th century the island of Manhattan couldn't meet the city's demand for rapid transit with its horse drawn trolleys and elevated train lines New York City needed a subway system After four years of digging and diverting miles of utilities and tunneling under the Harlem River the city s residents celebrated a new era in mass transit on October 27 1904 with the opening of a nine mile subway route In the century to come the New York subway would grow and expand to a system that runs 24 hours a day seven days a week with 6 400 cars 468 stations a daily ridership of 4 5 million and 842 miles of track longer than the distance from New York to Chicago Politics graffiti and unbelievable construction challenges combined to make the building and running of the New York subway system one of the America s greatest civic undertakings
